

RAILWAY COMPANY
HAS UPPER HANDBoard of Trade Finds Faults With Dutton Street Jobs — Special
Train for Framingham

The Lowell board of trade has taken up with Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, the matter of paving between street car rails, the very particular matter in question having to do with the work now in progress in Dutton street. The board of trade doesn't seem to approve of the blocks that are being used by the street railway company and suggests that Mr. Morse furnish the company with new blocks. The following letter, signed by the secretary of the board of trade, was received by Mr. Morse this morning:

Lowell, Mass., June 21, 1916.
Charles J. Morse, Commissioner of Streets and Highways, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:
We note that the Bay State Street Railway Company is laying the paving blocks between its tracks on Dutton street, and is using the old blocks, laying them by placing them on a gravel foundation and grouting the blocks. About one-half of these blocks are being placed with the worn edge upward and about one-half with the worn edge down. We think this may be an important matter as it may involve a precedent to be established on future work of this kind.

Respectfully yours,
John H. Murphy, Secy.

Refer to City Solicitor

Asked what he intended to do about it, Mr. Morse said he would refer the matter to the city solicitor, but he knows, he says, that the city cannot compel the street railway company to lay any particular kind of stone or block for he had the right to lay up some time ago. "This question," said Mr. Morse, "reverts back to the old horse car railway franchise and the franchise reads that the street railway company shall fill in between the rails with stone. No particular kind of stone is mentioned. There is one thing we must consider, however, and that is that the city has done a lot of paving between rails that the street railway never paid a cent for. There was a time when we thought we were obliged to pave between the rails, but we found out that we were not. When the city paves between the rails the railway company pays the city at the rate of $1 per yard. Dutton street at the present time is being extended from Broadway to Fletcher street and the company is doing its own paving between the rails. When the block paving was laid in Dutton street between Merrimack street and Broadway the city paved between the rails and it didn't cost the street railway a cent. That was done when Mr. Putnam had charge of the street department. We have a dispute between the city and the railway company is paying us $1 a yard. The company, you must remember, also pays us for 13 inches on either side of the track, or in other words, 18 inches outside of either rail.

The street department has a good many men in Dutton street at the present time and both the street railway and the street department find it rather difficult to get all the help that is required. The street department started the excavation work in Dutton street, preparatory to the block paving, this morning, and there is another big gang at the further end of Dutton street where the block paving of last year is being completed.

Want Special Train

Mayor James E. O'Donnell has suggested to the general passenger agent of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. that the people of Lowell, especially the relatives and friends of the soldiers who are in camp at Framingham, would appreciate it if the railroad would run an extra train from Lowell to Framingham on Sunday for their accommodation. The mayor points to the fact that the present Sunday morning train for Framingham leaves too early to be of any particular accommodation to those who would want to visit the Lowell boys in camp and he suggests that an extra train leave Lowell Sunday morning between 9.30 and 10. If this can be brought about he feels sure Lowell people would appreciate it.

MEXICANS WERE KILLED

Official Mexican Report of Clash at Carrizal—Pershing Has No Report of Fight—Carranza Delegate Hands Message to Lansing—One American Soldier Killed and Three Wounded at Naco, Ariz., Today—Resolution Authorizing Intervention in Mexico Read in Senate

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Pershing reported to Gen. Funston today that he had not yet received a report on the fight at Carrizal, but added that on information sent to him he had sent out a detachment of the Eleventh Cavalry with instructions to get into touch with the troops of the Tenth that was engaged yesterday by the Mexican forces.

Capt. Boyd in Command

Gen. Funston made it plain that Gen. Pershing's report has not altered the general situation and that no special orders will be issued until Pershing has rendered a report in detail of the Carrizal fight and incidents that led to it. Gen. Pershing said that all his men had positive orders not to do anything calculated to precipitate a fight with troops of the de facto government.

Although unstated in Pershing's report, officers at department headquarters drew the inference that Capt. Chas. R. Boyd was in command of Troop H, the troop believed to have been the one engaged at Carrizal.

MEXICAN REPORTS SAY

12 AMERICANS KILLED

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The Americans lost 12 dead, including their commander and 17 prisoners, while 14 Mexicans were killed and 30 wounded in the battle of Carrizal, according to the official announcement today of the Mexican consulate.

The Mexicans claimed they captured 20 horses and 20 rifles at Carrizal.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING

INTERVENTION READ

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Discussion of the Mexican situation was precipitated in the senate today by Senator Works of California, who called up his resolution to authorize intervention, had it read and gave notice that unless the foreign relations committee acted soon he would move to take the matter out of its hands.

U. S. SOLDIER KILLED

AND THREE WOUNDED AT NACO

NACO, Ariz., June 22.—One American soldier was killed and three others injured here early today when William Humphrey, a half-breed Mexican employed as a guard at the water works, opened fire upon members of Company E, 14th U. S. Infantry, as the guard was being changed.

OFFICIAL WORD FROM

MEXICO ON CLASH

WASHINGTON, June 22.—An official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing the clash between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal and saying the de facto government found it difficult to understand why the Americans should have been so far away from their base, was delivered to Secretary Lansing today by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate.

The communication telegraphed by Gen. Aguilar, Carranza's foreign minister, follows:

"Please bring to the attention of the department of state that an engagement occurred today (twenty-first) at Carrizal near Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua, between American forces numbering about 200 men, with a force of our government, during which engagement Gen. Felix Gomez and several of our troops were killed.

There were several casualties among American troops; 17 taken prisoners.

"According to the statement made by the interpreter who was acting as guide for the American forces, the commander of the latter is responsible for the encounter.

"Please make proper representations to the department and say to the secretary of state that this government finds it difficult to understand why the American troops that took part in the engagement should have been at Carrizal, a point on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, some distance from Ciudad Juarez and rather far from the point which is alleged to be the base of the rest of the American troops which entered Mexico by Columbus. Further details will follow."

DIED ON A TRAIN

Sudden Death of Selectman Wright of Billerica at Dover, N. H.

Word was received here this morning of the sudden death of Josiah Wright, chairman of the Billerica board of selectmen, which occurred in the parlor car of a Lowell bound train near Dover, N. H. Mr. Wright had been in Maine with a party of friends on a fishing trip for about two weeks and was returning to his home in Billerica this morning when the end came.

Mr. Wright, who was 73 years old, had been in poor health for some time but seemed to improve during his stay in Maine. Included in the party were his son-in-law, Walter R. Holden of Reading, and Roland Holden of Billerica. When the train reached North Billerica, where he served on the board of selectmen for many years, up to the time of his death he was chairman of the board. He attended the meetings regularly and always took an important part in the annual town meetings. Mr. Wright had served in several minor offices in connection with the town's affairs. He was a contractor and building mover and resided in Pond street, near Billerica Centre.

Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter R. Holden, and three sons, Chester and Charles of Billerica and Harry of Andover. He was for many years treasurer of Shawheen lodge of Odd Fellows and was prominent in Masonic circles. The body was taken to Boston on the train and then brought back to Billerica.

tary Baker conferred with President Wilson on the basis of reports of the clash yesterday given out by Mexican commanders at the border and transmitted to the state department. Later Secretary Lansing was closeted with the war secretary and afterward Mr. Baker hastened to the capital for conferences with the congressional military committee chairmen.

No explanation for these conferences were given. It was learned, however, that telegraph wires were hot with inquiries sent to various governors seeking reports of the number of National Guard regiments mobilized and available for immediate service.

Officials said President Wilson would await a definite report from Gen. Pershing of what has happened. It was not expected until late today as the town of Carrizal, where the fighting was said to have occurred, is sixty miles or more from Pershing's advance base at Nampiquipa.

At the White House it was said the president's policy was unchanged for the present at least and that Mr. Wilson had no intention of going before congress immediately.

No clear view of what happened at Carrizal could be had from the Mexican statement transmitted from the border. The stories of the fight conflict, but seem to indicate that the Americans were trapped or ambushed and suffered their chief losses from machine gun fire.

It is presumed Gen. Pershing promptly dispatched reinforcements, including artillery, to aid the cavalry detachment if it was still engaged with the Mexicans or its lines of retreatment menaced.

Secretary Baker said no marching orders had gone to National Guard units. Nothing could be done, he declared, until a report from American sources had been received. Other officials took the same view. They would not discuss the possibilities on the basis of the incomplete and conflicting Mexican advices. There were no efforts, however, to conceal the anxiety with which the situation was viewed. There is enough similarity among the border reports to convince them that a serious clash occurred.

Demobilization Called for—Germans Take French Trenches—Anti-Turkish Uprising

Greece has yielded to all the demands of the entente powers.

An ultimatum was presented at noon on Wednesday. Shortly afterward, according to Athens despatches, an unconditional acceptance was made known by M. Lalamis, the former premier, who is to head a new pro-partisan Greek cabinet. The demands are understood to have included general demobilization, deportation of agents spreading German propaganda and the cessation of the suppression of popular pro-entente sentiment.

Allied Fleet to Athens

The ordering of an allied squadron to Piraeus to be followed by a landing party, reported from Saloniki, probably was decided upon before the assent of Greece to the allied demands was made known.

RECRUITING AT ARMORY

Lt. Kittredge, Co. M., Busy Receiving Many Recruits—Co. G Meets Tonight at Armory

Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge of Company M, Ninth Regiment, M.V.M., who was left behind to take care of the recruiting in this city, is still on the job and very active. To a Sun reporter this afternoon, he stated that 24 young men had filed their applications in the course of the forenoon. They will go through the physical examination late this afternoon. Yesterday there were 50 applicants and of this number only 18 successfully passed the physical examination. Most of the new recruits are spending all their time at the armory, and last evening several of them slept there. The men are all anxious to go and so much so that this morning Lieut. Kittredge sent a request to headquarters at South Framingham asking for an immediate call of the new recruits.

Lieut. Kittredge was informed that the full equipment for the recruits including uniforms and rifles had reached the headquarters of the Ninth regiment at South Framingham, and an effort is being made to have the recruits go on the 5.35 o'clock train this afternoon. Lieut. Kittredge, however, will not accompany the men but will remain in this city to bring the company to its full military quota, 150 men.

MEXICAN BULLETINS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Funston's reports as late as 10 o'clock had added nothing to his information of last night concerning the fight at Carrizal. Gen. Pershing's account of the clash was momentarily expected.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Funston has sent a message to General Pershing urging him to expedite his report of the Carrizal fight.

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—Juarez, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande from here, was more than half evacuated at 10 o'clock today by the Carranza garrison. It was officially reported that three trainloads of soldiers had gone southward during the early morning and that three more trains had been loaded in preparation for departure.

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 22.—Captain Lewis Storey of the Tenth cavalry is reported to have been in command of the detachment of American soldiers which engaged the Mexicans at Carrizal yesterday.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, June 22.—Via radio to Columbus, N. M., June 22.—Carranza troops have been reported close to the southern end of the American lines. Gen. Pershing is maintaining strong outposts in every direction and taking every precaution to prevent trouble arising.

"Safety First" is a leading slogan at the U. S. Accordingly an expert in the Safety First line, Mr. Charles M. Perkins, has charge of the Safety First department, which does everything possible for the prevention of all avoidable accidents. Mr. Perkins this morning conducted his first fire drill in the Lawrence street plant and the affair proved very successful, for in four minutes after the fire alarm was sounded, a large department in which five hundred men and women are employed was entirely

Who has not heard of the "pie that mother made?" There is of course a touch of sentiment in this pie. But it owes its reputation to the good things that went into it. BAY STATE IS LEADER

Massachusetts Leads in Proportion to Population—One Reason for Not Calling the Sixth

BOSTON, June 22.—Officers at the war department in Washington are well pleased with the Massachusetts response to the president's call for the mobilization of the militia. They say that the old Bay State is furnishing more troops in proportion to its population than any state in the Union.

This information was contained in a telegram Gov. McCall received yesterday from Congressman Rogers of Lowell. The message reads:

"Had this morning (Tuesday) with adjutant-general and the division of militia affairs with reference to calling out of the 6th regiment."

A division consists of nine regiments. New England is to supply a division as follows: Connecticut, two regiments; Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, one regiment each; and Massachusetts, the remaining four regiments.

"The war department cannot use more than nine regiments, and takes the position that Massachusetts, which supplies almost as many regiments as the rest of New England put together, should have one regiment cut from its quota rather than from the quota of any of the neighboring states which supply one regiment or two at the most."

"Furthermore, the department states that Massachusetts is even at present supplying a larger quota in proportion to its population than any state in the Union. Under these circumstances the department does not feel warranted in increasing the Massachusetts infantry quota from four to five regiments."

"However, the department states, the selection of which units shall consist a quota, devolves on the state commander-in-chief, and it will have no objection to any readjustment so as to include the 6th regiment."

It is declared unlikely that the 6th will be included at this time, however, because of the preparations of the other regiments, one of which would have to be "pulled back" to make it a place.

Banks Offer Funds to State
The National Shawmut bank yesterday sent word to State Treasurer Burrill saying that he could draw on the bank for any amount up to $1,000,000 to meet emergency payments, and the Charlestown Trust company placed at the disposal of the state its full loaning capacity of $10,000.

F. A. Noyes of Boston sent a letter to Adj. Gen. Cole offering the use of his motion picture theatre for the work of recruiting. The adjutant-general accepted the offer tentatively and instructed some motion picture men in the militia to see what arrangements could be made.

Miss Grace Heatley, acting superintendent of the Framingham hospital has placed that institution and its equipment at the disposal of the militia during the men's stay in Framingham.

To Recruit to War Strength
Some confusion has been caused by reports that the Bay State militia could not be moved out of the state until its units are recruited to war strength. The adjutant-general in discussing the latest developments of the militia yesterday said:

"That is not correct. Each of the four infantry regiments is above its minimum strength of 918 men, and 52 officers; the signal corps and field hospital and ambulance companies are up to war strength. Battery B of the field artillery is above war strength. The other batteries and the cavalry are nearly up to war strength."

"The infantry regiments, being above minimum strength, can be ordered out of the state at any time now. But the mobilization orders from the war department directed that they be recruited to war strength, and I have assumed that they would not be moved until this was done. The war strength of an infantry regiment is 1836 men and 52 officers."

"I do not know when the militia will be mustered into the United States army. The men, in mustering in, will take the oath to serve the president and the United States. They will serve for the balance of their enlistment in the militia. A militia enlistment is for three years."

"Recruiting is being carried well. We have now about 7000 men on the rolls, including the militiamen and recruits. About 2000 of these are recruits. From what I can learn our militia was mobilized about as soon as that of any of the larger states and will be at the camp ground as soon."

partment was received stating that the federal government would furnish no funds for field training of the militia this year, except for the coast artillery. This will necessitate the state's paying the members of the 6th regiment and 1st corps of Cadets for their annual tour of duty. Arrangements are being made to take moving pictures of the camp life at Framingham and other features of mobilization to be used in a campaign for recruiting.

TO LIST ALL APPLICANTS

MAJ. GEN. WOOD SWAMPED WITH INQUIRIES AS TO PROBABILITY OF WAR WITH MEXICO

NEW YORK, June 22.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the East, announced at his headquarters at Governor's Island yesterday that he was being overwhelmed with inquiries regarding the possibility of war with Mexico and whether there would be room in the regular army for more men in the event of hostilities. His uniform answer, he said, was that it was intended to have all applicants classified and listed so that they would be ready to respond to the call for service if needed.

"Plattsburg and Fort Oglethorpe men," he said, "who are now in training, are keen for service in Mexico, and there is a large contingent of the younger men who are not tied up by business who have expressed themselves as anxious to go in any case if federal volunteers are called."

"Plattsburg and Oglethorpe will be animated by the spirit of a preparatory camp for national service this summer, and it is expected that all men will be classified and listed, so that they can be made immediately available, if wanted by the government. The training will be of the most practical character, with a view to fitting the men to respond immediately to any call that may be made. The spirit of the camps is one of keenest patriotism, of which the country may be proud."

GARDNER ON ARMY BILL

SAYS AT RATE OF $2,000,000 APPROPRIATION PROVIDED IN MEASURE 40 YEARS WILL BE REQUIRED

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Estimates that at the rate of the $2,000,000 appropriation provided in the army appropriation bill, 40 years will be required to accumulate cannon necessary to equip the National Guard, and 51 years will elapse in accumulating sufficient artillery ammunition, for which another $2,000,000 is provided, were made yesterday by Representative Gardner in a speech in the house on the army bill.

Beyond this, Mr. Gardner read correspondence between himself and Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, in which his estimates were virtually corroborated.

Mr. Gardner said that Gen. Crozier told the committee on military affairs that $55,000,000 for field guns must be appropriated in the next four years if the new National Guard is to be equipped according to the estimates laid down in 1911 by the so-called Greble board of officers.

Gen. Crozier pointed out, however, that twice this amount of money would be necessary if the later recommendations of the treat board are followed.

Announcement of his candidacy for re-election as representative from the 14th district of Massachusetts was made yesterday by Richard Olney 2d, who said he would be a contestant in the democratic primaries in September.

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS

IT WILL BE HERE TOMORROW WITH GREAT STREET PAGEANT AT 10 O'CLOCK

The Barnum & Bailey circus will be here tomorrow, eager to prove that it proudly remains the world's mightiest amusement institution. Four long railroad trains will bring the picturesque invaders; through densely crowded streets the morning parade will measure its gay and glamorous passage; performances will be given afternoon and night; midnight will witness the breaking of the great tented encampment and the departure to people and scenes anew.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" comes from Fitchburg, where its exhibitions are being given today to delighted audiences, which test the capacity of the biggest "white top" the enterprise has ever carried. In popularity and in patronage the Barnum & Bailey circus is this season making the best record of its long and illustrious history.

First to come to a putting halt early tomorrow morning will be the "flying squadron," as the first section of the circus' railroad equipment is known. The miniature city of 27 separate tents will be installed, if nothing untoward intervenes, advance agents estimated today, long before noon.

The street parade is scheduled to move from the show grounds at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and Barnum & Bailey promise a stupendous, grand and glorious inaugural of the biennial festival they provide here. The arching, up-curved front of a splendid red and gold band chafed, offering a fascinating, crashing, cataclysm of brazen melody and drawn by many broad, pomponed white horses, will first disclose itself. Stretching for blocks behind, a sinuous, colorful mass, crowned with dancing, distant bannings, and suggesting in glintings of gold and splashing of color an on-couling argosy of glitter and gorgeousness.

But it is under the "big top" that this thousand-sided miracle of the amusement world pledges to live up to its reputation and beyond. This circus goes on improving each year and burning up all the laudatory adjectives until all the superlatives are exhausted, and it becomes a difficult matter to write of the entertainment flying the Barnum & Bailey pennant.

The performance starts with a professional pageant descriptive of Persia, and the Thousand and One Nights, after which come the purely circus features in greater variety than ever before, by far the greater number of them being seen for the first time. Among the new ones are the Chinese Ling He, Su Fong Lin and Tai Pen troupes of Chinese acrobats and wonder-workers. As a conclusion to their performances two of them slide from the very top of the tent along a slender strand of steel wire attached to their girdles. There are other novel feats too numerous to mention.

Regiments of gymnasts, tumblers, equilibrists, aerialists and acrobats will fit on and fit off. The Davy Crockett, Bradna and Derrick, the Hainford family and Charles Siegfert are acknowledged champion riders. Lupette Foret will thrill by her exploits in mid-air, as will the Siegfist-Silbon's and the Neapolitans.

New feature acts to be seen for the first time here include: Ballenber's bears; Marcelle's trained parrots, cockatoos and ravens; Lady Alice's pets, including performing rats and pigeons; Henri Filis and his "Horse Ballerina," introducing dancing horses and dancing girls; Swain's trained rats, cats and dogs, in which felines and rodents perform astounding feats; Moran and Wisner, who perform with hats the tricks usually performed by boomerang experts; the Beifords; the Picchiano troupe; the Darling Sisters; the Paladins; Wells's equestrian fox terriers and monkeys; and many others. The performances here will be in every essential the same as given in Madison Square garden, New York city, where the entertainment was pronounced as altogether the biggest and best circus ever put together.

Performances are scheduled for 2 and 8 o'clock p. m., doors opening at 1 and 7 o'clock. Tickets may be bought at Higgett's drug store at the same prices charged upon the show grounds.

SIX CENT FARES

Engineer Adams for the Remonstrants Appears at Hearing

BOSTON, June 22.—Alton D. Adams, acting as engineer for remonstrants to the Bay State line's proposed increases of fare, was the sole witness yesterday at the hearing at the state house before the public service commission. He expressed belief that the investors should be given a return on every cent they had put into the road, but he did not believe that they should get a return on the whole $12,000,000 the road cost, according to the figures given in the report of Robert M. Feustel, the Bay State's engineer.

He explained this by saying that the investment out of income should be deducted from the actual money cost of the property, and showed by his method of figuring that that would leave approximately $23,000,000 supplied by the stockholders and creditors. This amount was entitled to a return. The rest, which was represented in depreciation or investment from income, should not be included in any ruling having to do with rates.

Commissioner Eastman called attention to the item of abandoned property, which Mr. Adams had said was necessarily omitted in his computations because he couldn't get the figures.

Arthur G. Wadleigh, attorney for the remonstrants, explained that he had endeavored to have that information put in the record by Mr. Feustel, who promised at first that he would get it, but who later informed him that he could not, because of the great amount of work it would involve.

Mr. Eastman believed the information was essential to the computations, but Mr. Adams would only admit that if the item were supplied and the cost added to the $23,000,000 of investment cost, it would undoubtedly affect the 6.74 per cent which he found as the return actually earned on the Bay State investment in 1914. This, he said, would be reduced.

After further questions by Chairman MacLeod and Mr. Eastman on this point and as to whether any unit prices in contracts and vouchers of the company named in the Feustel report were acceptable to the remonstrants, Mr. Adams was given until Wednesday next to prepare additional tables. Today Atty. Wadleigh will cross-examine inspectors Bishop and Hayes of the state commission relative to their reports of the Bay State case.

JITNEY WAS OVERLOADED

OPERATOR OF JITNEY BUS PLAYING BETWEEN LOWELL AND LAWRENCE HAD LICENSE SUSPENDED

Special to The Sun
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 22.—Determined to put a stop to the practice of overspeeding and overloading jitney busses running between Lowell and Lawrence, the highway commissioners today declined to return the operator's license of Roy L. Glines of 12 Butler street, Lawrence; the license was suspended several days ago, upon receipt by the commission of information which led them to believe that Glines was not a proper person to operate automobiles. Today he asked that it be returned, stating that he has two children who are dependent upon his jitney earnings for their support. The commission decided, however, that a little longer suspension is required to impress upon Glines the fact that he must be more careful in the use of his jitney.

The complaint made to the commission was that on May 21 Glines made one trip between Lowell and Lawrence, with 24 passengers, in a seven-passenger Peerless car, and that heavy loads and excessive speed are quite common with him. An investigator was sent out to learn what he could of Glines' practices, and made a trip between Lowell and Lawrence with him. On that trip there were eight persons in the car, and the ten miles between towns were covered in 19 minutes, although two miles of the distance is through the thickly settled parts of the two cities. On that trip, Glines told the investigator of the big business he did May 21, and especially about the 24-passenger trip, adding that he usually made about 25 miles an hour. In addition he learned that the police estimate of Glines is that he is a "wild and irresponsible driver." Today Glines admitted all the charges as to overloading, but said his usual running time between Lowell and Lawrence is from 25 to 30 minutes. He said he has been operating automobiles for eight years, has never had an accident, never been fined in court, and has never drunk a drop.

In view of his previous good record, the commissioners decided to return his license after a short time, but felt that some further suspension was required in order to make him understand that he must not repeat his offense of having in his car more passengers than it can safely carry.

BODY FROM THE RIVER

FOUND NEAR METHUEN LINE—RING WITH INITIALS "M. P." IN POCKET

The Lowell police have been notified by the police of Lawrence that the body of a man was taken from the Merrimack river about 6.25 a. m. Tuesday, near the Lawrence-Methuen line, above the pumping station. The body is that of a man of about 40 years old, dark complexion, wearing dark clothes; five feet, three inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds. The body had been in the water for more than a week. A ring with the initials "M. P." was found in his possession.

AMERICAN CHICLE COMPANY

THE SPELLBINDER

While the scenes enacted at the depot in connection with the departure of the boys of Company M, Ninth regiment were mild in comparison with the possibilities of war, they were sufficient to make one reflect.

The Spanish-American war witnessed another great outpouring of heroic citizen-soldiers and gallant and skilled leaders, and now once more they have been called out, and preparation therefor, viewed at close range. The soldiers themselves were in exuberant spirits over the sudden turn of affairs but those left at home were sad at heart.

The occasion of the departure of the Ninth demonstrated the fact that such a crisis makes all men akin whatever their politics may be. When the boys were sent off, the train while it was pulling out of the depot, and his first official act upon his arrival at city hall was to make provision for a relief fund for the care of those dependent upon the soldiers during the absence of the latter from home. The first to respond, even before the announcement of the establishment of the fund was made public, was Bennett Silverblatt, the well known lawyer of The Sun building, a prominent representative of Lowell's Jewish community, which quite clearly indicates that out of Lowell's various nationalities and groups are one, when a supreme emergency arises to test the patriotism of its citizens.

The Mobilization

The prompt manner in which the militia has been mobilized all over the country sets an example for the world. But there is one thing that has been seen what the United States can do when war is declared. In 1861, when war was imminent between north and south, the European press almost without exception "saw the finish" of the republic in the event of war. It asserted that "patriotism was unknown to Americans and that a free government like ours, compelled to rely upon volunteer service, could not muster a large army of defenders. The proclamation of President Lincoln calling for 75,000 soldiers was received as the venture of a madman and a quick dissolution of the Union was prophesied. And even in this country there were a few who entertained similarly unfriendly thoughts. But the attack on Fort Sumter occurred on April 12, and history tells us what happened afterward. The 75,000 were there, and more, too, and the Union survived. "Two things in the Civil war amazed the world; one the number and courage of our volunteers; the other the ability of the commanding officers. The prerequisites for successful war in other countries were large standing armies and years of careful training for officers and men. In this country only the call of the president was needed to raise up thousands of men most daring in deed and most skillful in leadership."

After the Civil war a noted French general, commenting upon the conduct of the American soldier said: "War is a science of high degree; at the commencement of the contest the government of the United States had at its disposal only a handful of trained officers; the war, moreover, was to offer in its varied operations unusual difficulties; and yet the command throughout the vast army was admirable in skill of planning and execution.

The Spanish-American war witnessed another great outpouring of heroic citizen-soldiers and gallant and skilled leaders, and now once more they have been called out, and preparation therefor, viewed at close range. The soldiers themselves were in exuberant spirits over the sudden turn of affairs but those left at home were sad at heart.

Eliminate the Poles

Now that it is assured that a new bridge is to be built at Pawtucket falls, isn't it an appropriate time to take up the matter of the multiplicity of telegraph and telephone poles that are at present stuck up in Pawtucket Square? There are some 14 of them, within a very few feet of each other, and while they are not particularly significantly even in an environment of old frame buildings and a rusty iron bridge, they will be less slightly when some of those buildings have been removed, and a new and gracefully constructed bridge structure shall have been completed. It would be well to remove all of them and place the wires underground, at this time, but if this cannot be done, surely there does not seem to be any need for so many of them within such a limited area. Judging from the talk around city hall, now that the bridge promoters of Pawtucketville have been assured that the bridge itself is soon to be constructed, they will now occupy their spare time in agitating the removal of some, if not all, of the unsightly poles at Pawtucket square.

Street Railway Preparedness

The fact that the street railway company has sent snow plows into Pawtucketville, is not a reflection upon the municipal council, by intimating that it will not have the bridge completed before the snow flies, but is simply a matter of preparedness, should such a thing happen. Many discontented patrons of the road undoubtedly entertain the wish that the company would exercise such commendable preparedness in the conduct of some of its other lines; preparedness to accommodate its growing business in certain sections. If the construction of the new bridge is prolonged beyond expectations it will be the weather conditions and those existing in the river or something else unforeseen, rather than any delinquency on the part of the municipal council which has tackled the proposition in business-like manner, after a year's fruitless discussion by the former government, and which is now upon carrying it through on schedule time.

Speaking of the street railway's preparedness the members of the Lowell Driving club think that the Bay State is not onto its job when it will not make preparations to carry the public to the Driving Park at Golden Cove, where the club intends to hold big meets, county fairs, etc. The Driving club would have been a much better place to hold the Buffalo Bill show and the circus, even, as some aver, under present street railway conditions. The members would like better accommodations to the park but the street railway people, it is said, claim that it would cost $30,000 to lay double tracks out to Golden Cove, and offer no other solution of the matter. A spur track from

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoons will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Chesterford street to the park entrance might be laid at less expense, and perhaps this would get around the difficulty. The Jinnys surely had the call on the street cars at Monday night's event in the rear of the cemetery.

Water Department Parks

A visitor at city hall, yesterday, remarked that the parks of the water department, which for the past few years have been among the city's real beauty spots, are not looking as attractive to the eye this season, and attributed the fault to the rainy weather. That, perhaps, was in part responsible for their appearance, but Commissioner Putnam thus far has not had a sufficient income in his department to keep them as well as he would otherwise, and Mr. Harry Nichols, who for the past two years has been responsible for their artistic appearance, is at present employed at the filtration plant on account of the stringency of money in the department. The water department has quite a good sized park system, made up mostly of land which was kept free from buildings on account of its proximity to the water services. At a comparatively small expenditure, under the skillful direction of Mr. Nichols, these former vacant lots have been transformed into floral and grassy bowers, which add much to the city's outdoor appearance.

MORE ARMY AEROPLANES

AMENDMENT FOR INCREASE OF $2,000,000 IN ARMY BILL—HOUSE REPESES $20 TO GUARDSMEN

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Republican members of the house, who a month ago amended the naval bill to provide for an increase of $2,000,000 in the aeroplane appropriation, carried an amendment through the committee of the whole yesterday for a similar increase in the army bill. The increase from $1,222,100 to $3,222,100 would provide for an additional 200 machines.

Minority Leader Mann, who offered the amendment, declared the aviation service was in a deplorable state and should be built up immediately. Only two democrats, Representatives Hurlbut and Stokes of Michigan, voted for it.

The house adopted without opposition an amendment providing that civil employees of the government who are called into service with the National Guard shall be given their old positions when mustered out, but voted down a proposal to increase the pay of guardsmen from $15 to $20 a month during the active service.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A proposal for four battle cruisers and four dreadnoughts in this year's naval construction program was discussed yesterday by the senate sub-committee, before which the naval bill is pending. Chairman Tillman predicted, after the conference, that the eight capital ship plans would be approved. Senators Swanson and Lodge, the other members, said a substantial increase was certain over the house building program of five battle cruisers and no dreadnoughts.

"We are going to give the navy the entire increase in personnel that they ask for, too," said Senator Tillman. "I think the total enlisted strength they wanted is about 70,000 men, or an increase of 20,700 men."

GERMANS MAKE STRONG ATTACK ON NORTHERN ARMIES—HOLD RUSSIAN FORCES

LONDON, June 22.—Fierce fighting with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and the Germans in Volhynia, along the stretch of the Dniester, and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynsk.

The official communications issued yesterday by the German, Austrian and Russian war offices all indicate that the Germans are making determined efforts to resume the initiative, lost through the Russian Gen. Nure's drive and to create a diversion by a strong attack on Gen. Kuropatkin's armies in the north, in an effort to prevent the Russians receiving reinforcements.

Although up to the present the Germans are making no striking advance they are clearly holding up their opponents. Most stubborn fighting with fluctuating results, is proceeding around Grumstyn west of Kolki. The Germans also are again attacking farther north in the Morgon district and the region of Riga.

Military experts say that it remains to be seen whether the Germans will be able to bring sufficient pressure to bear to reduce the hard pressed Austrians in Bukovina and

GERMANS MAKE STRONG ATTACK ON NORTHERN ARMIES—HOLD RUSSIAN FORCES

LONDON, June 22.—Fierce fighting with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and the Germans in Volhynia, along the stretch of the Dniester, and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynsk.

The official communications issued yesterday by the German, Austrian and Russian war offices all indicate that the Germans are making determined efforts to resume the initiative, lost through the Russian Gen. Nure's drive and to create a diversion by a strong attack on Gen. Kuropatkin's armies in the north, in an effort to prevent the Russians receiving reinforcements.

Although up to the present the Germans are making no striking advance they are clearly holding up their opponents. Most stubborn fighting with fluctuating results, is proceeding around Grumstyn west of Kolki. The Germans also are again attacking farther north in the Morgon district and the region of Riga.

Military experts say that it remains to be seen whether the Germans will be able to bring sufficient pressure to bear to reduce the hard pressed Austrians in Bukovina and enable them to make a fresh stand on a new line.

The Russians, who had crossed the Stry and reached the village of Grumstyn, west of Kolki, entered the town and captured 11 officers, 400 men and six machine guns.

In the fighting the town changed hands several times, but under a concentrated German artillery fire the Russians finally were driven back with the loss of 1,600 men made prisoners.

Along the Stokhod, near the village of Dabimisto, the Germans delivered a heavy attack, which resulted itself later into hand-to-hand fighting, in which the Russians, according to Petrograd, forced the Germans to flee.

Near Kladin another heavy on-slaught was stopped by the Russians and the Germans put to flight. Near Lokatchi, southeast of Vladimir-Volynsk, Russians reports the capture of 1200 Viennese.

North, west and northwest of Lutsk vicious encounters are taking place. Across the frontier in Galicia the stalemate in the region of Buszacz persists.

In Bukovina the Russians continue to drive the Austrians west and southwest. Petrograd announces that the prisoners taken by the Russians in Volhynia and Galicia up to June 13 aggregated 12,454.

The Germans claim successes for their arms on the northern part of the Russian front in the Dvinsk, Smolensk and Dubalovka sectors, with the inflicting of heavy losses on the Russians in the latter region.

On both sides of the Meuse river in the region of Verdun the Germans again launched strong attacks against the French positions, but were everywhere repulsed by the French artillery. Except for intermittent bombardments there was comparative quiet on the other parts of the French front Wednesday.

Rome reports the capture of an Austrian position in the Posina valley, southwest of Asiago, further progress by the Italians north of Frenzela valley and the stopping of Austrian surprise attacks southwest of Asiago.

In the fighting in Asiatic Turkey and in German East Africa the Russian and British war offices record further victories for their forces respectively against the Turks and the Germans.

THE ISONZO RIVER

FOLLOWS TORTUOUS CHANNEL FOR 75 MILES—RIVER IS TOO TURBULENT FOR NAVIGATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—The Isonzo front is the subject of the National Geographic society's war geography bulletin, issued today from its Washington headquarters, which says:

Contrary to popular belief, the Isonzo river, along which the Italians made their first attack against Austria and where their lines have held more firmly against the vigorous Teutonic offensive of the last ten days than on the Tyrolean front, is not the boundary line between the two countries, but lies wholly within Austrian territory, from two to twelve miles from the border. Its source is near the junction of the Carnic and Julian Alps, on Mt. Terglou, the loftiest peak of the latter range, and it follows a tortuous channel for seventy-five miles, emptying into the Gulf of Trieste.

So turbulent are the Isonzo waters that the river is practically unnavigable except for the few miles of its estuary, where its course is through a rapidly extending delta. On its way through the alluvial plain it is known as the Slobba, whose mouth is less than 20 miles from the important Austrian port of Trieste, lying to the southeast.

The Isonzo is the principal river of the country and crown-land of Gorizia and Gradisca, which have an area about equal to that of Rhode Island. This principality and two other crown-lands, Istria and Trieste, constitute Austria's Kuasteland (coast land).

Before the devastation wrought by the war the valley of the Isonzo was a highly productive region, agriculture and vine-growing being the chief accupations of that part of the population (mainly Italian) which was not engaged in silk-worm culture.

The leading city of the Isonzo valley is Gorizia (Goré), with 20,000 inhabitants, known as the Nice of Austria, on account of its popularity as a fashionable resort. Its growth coincides with the decline of Aquileia, now an insignificant town of less than 3,000 people, situated to the southwest, six miles from the sea, but which was reckoned the ninth city of the Roman empire and a great seaport during the closing years of the fourth century.

The fighting which is now occurring on the Isonzo recalls the great battle of the Isonzo (Isonzo) on the fifth century, where the Roman emperor Valentinian met signal defeat at the hands of Theodoric, the Ostrogoth. The vanquished leader was driven back to Ravenna, where, after a protracted siege, a truce was agreed upon. During the murky Ostrogoth fall before the trenchant Ostrogoth who drove his enemy from shoulder to flank with a broadsword.

"One of the most interesting natural phenomena of the Isonzo district is the short Timavus river, which empties into the Gulf of Trieste five miles from the mouth of the larger Isonzo. The Timavus rushes from a mountain-side, full-formed, in three streams of sufficient volume to float small vessels at the very source. In Virgil's day, according to the description in the Aeneid, the Timavus rushed from the rocks in nine streams. The river is supposed to be a continuation of the equally unique Ebro, whose waters disappear in the subterranean of Sicily, some twenty miles southeast of the mysterious Timavus."

"Bull" Durham is Pure all the Way from the Leaf to the Finished Flake

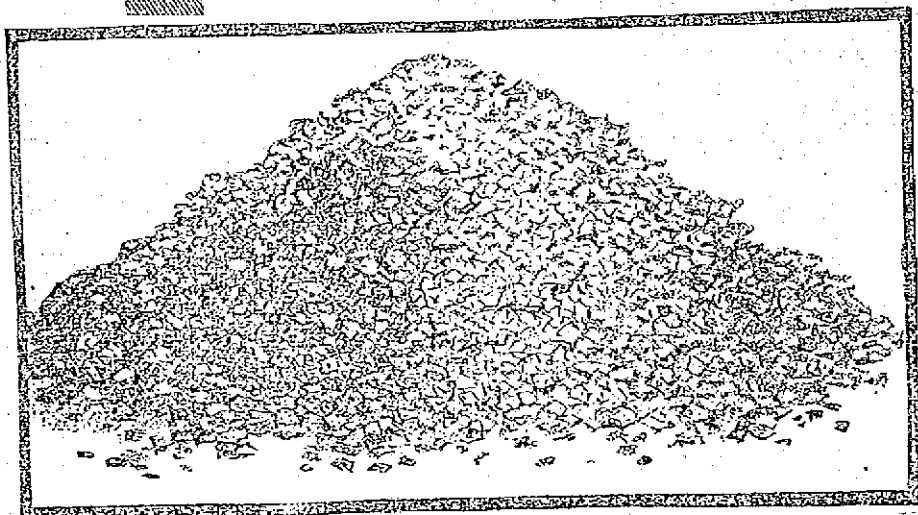

After the leaf for "Bull" Durham Has Passed Through the "Breaker."

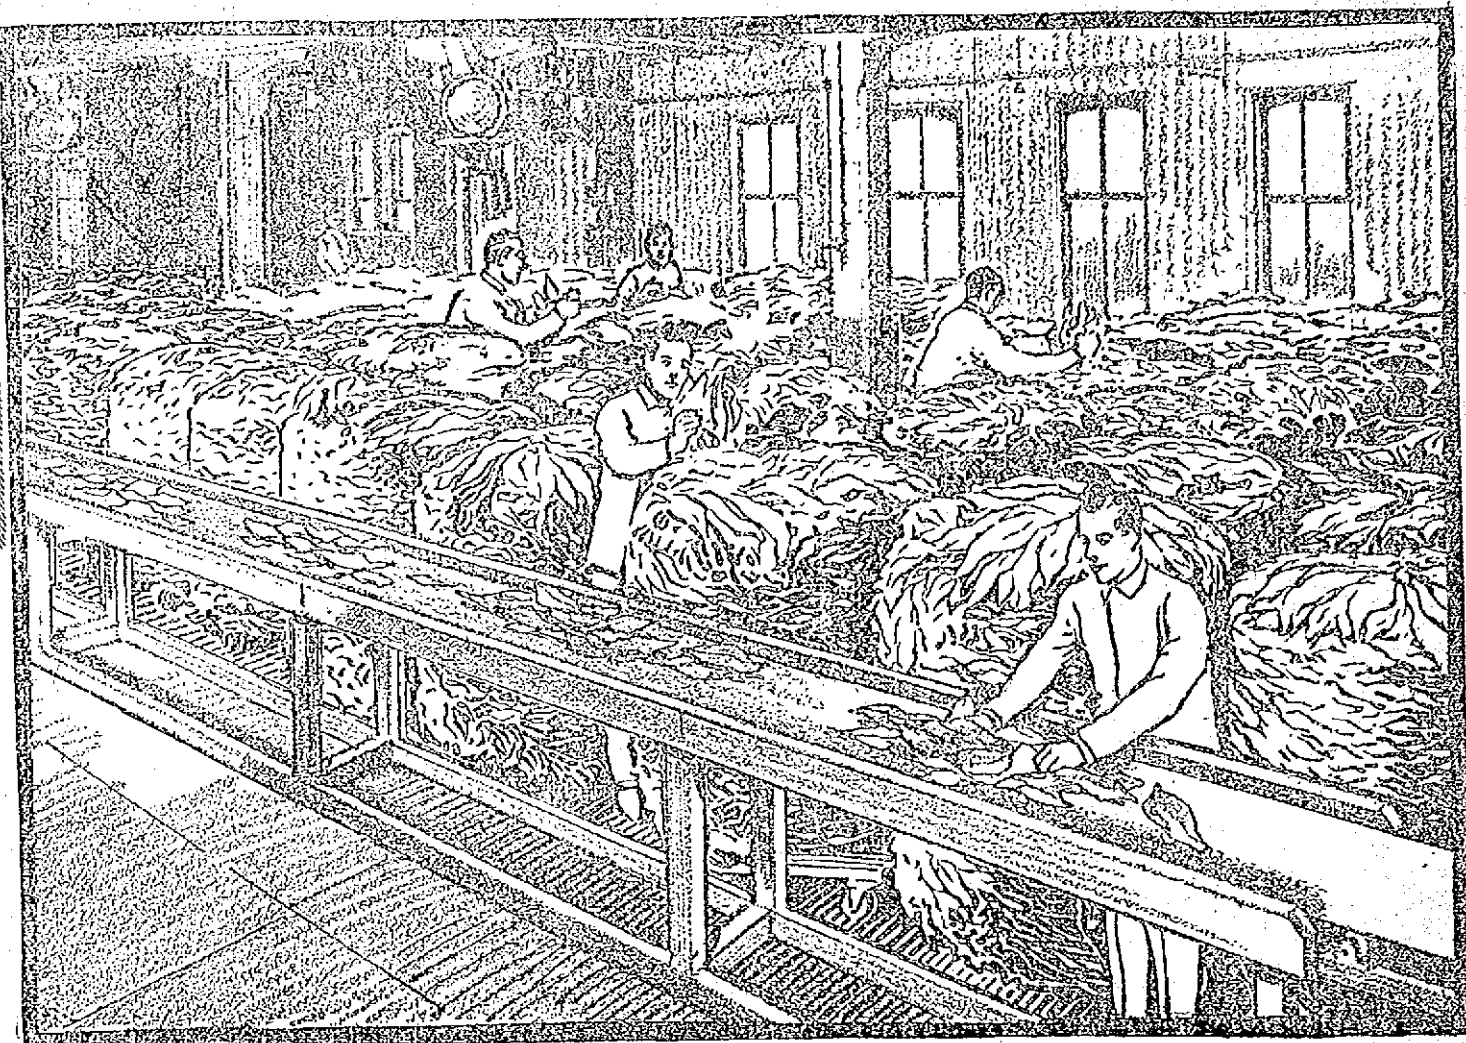

After It Has Passed Through the Third Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Tenth and Last Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Sieves—the Finished Flake.

Where the Golden Virginia-Carolina Leaf for "Bull" Durham Starts on Its Journey.

Only Pure Virginia-Carolina Leaf Goes Through the "Bull" Durham Manufacturing System—Only Pure Tobacco Comes Out as "Bull" Durham

Grouped about a moving belt on the top floor of the "Bull" Durham factory at Durham, N. C., are giant hogsheads of tobacco leaf—107 of them.

To the eye they show a mass of color—soft, rich, golden—the distinctive, individual, matchless shades that belong solely to famous bright Virginia-Carolina leaf.

Nothing else ever goes into that big room—nothing but this pure, ripe leaf.

From each of the 107 hogsheads a certain quantity is taken and placed on the moving belt.

The hogsheads differ slightly in character. They are of different crops, are raised in different sections, vary somewhat in body and aroma. All the 107 are required to make up the wonderful blend which has made "Bull" Durham the world's best known and best liked cigarette tobacco.

The freight of golden leaf moves forward on the belt to the "breaker," then on into a series of ten granulators, and finally into a system of sieves, coming out three floors below in fragrant flakes of uniform size—the finished "Bull" Durham.

The entire operation of making "Bull" Durham, from the first "breaking" of the leaf to the final sifting of the tiny flakes, is carried on automatically inside a continuous tight-closed wooden flume.

The pure leaf is kept pure. No foreign matter of any kind can get mixed with the tobacco at any stage of its manufacture.

And that's why "Bull" Durham stands every test for purity.

You can test it yourself. Pour some "Bull" Durham on your hand or a piece of paper. Separate the grains—examine them closely. You will find only tiny flakes of pure tobacco—nothing else looks like the golden Virginia-Carolina leaf used in "Bull" Durham.

SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT

This is a time when the public should unreservedly condemn the partisan paper or the partisan person who would distort the present serious situation of the country for party purposes. To the credit of our national spirit be it stated that no direct opposition to President Wilson's present determination has manifested itself, but indications of an insidious undercurrent are showing in certain quarters. It is surely to be regretted if the prospect of a coming campaign should so warp one's patriotism that he would misrepresent the present policy of the administration in an effort to strengthen the republican party in the coming election. No body of men would oppose such an unworthy spirit more promptly than the great mass of fair republicans who look upon the present critical conditions as American citizens rather than as members of a party.

Undesirable in a like way is the attitude of another section of press and public which strives to make democratic capital out of the situation. This is as futile and as dangerous as it is unwise. The stand of America against Mexico is not the personal stand of President Wilson and neither is it the stand of the democratic party. It is the stand of the American government, backed by the entire American people, against the farcical government of Mexico which does not deserve the name.

It is most desirable at this time that the American people look upon Mexican affairs calmly and without passion. We are not yet at war with Mexico, and it is possible that we may not find war necessary. That is for Carranza to decide. One word from him, either to his followers or to the United States, and Washington will adopt the last resort. The reply of President Wilson leaves no loophole of doubt as to what will happen, should Carranza show further hostility towards our troops in Mexico or permit any expedition into our territory.

Should war come, it may be longer and more costly than most Americans realize, for though Mexico cannot fight as a great power, the Mexican hordes can avail of the natural advantages of their country and wage the kind of war that cannot be put down in a few months. Moreover the job undertaken cannot be abandoned until it is completed, and the American president and the American troops will need the full support of our people to show not only Mexico but the world that our patience of four years was the patience of a nation that knows how to fight when put to it. Moreover, the ending of such a war would open up grave possibilities that all the republics to the south of us are watching, and we cannot afford to have any division of sentiment on partisan lines when the nation is called upon to make a momentous decision.

While looking on the situation in the most optimistic manner, it would also be well for our people to consider the possibility of outside interference. True, most of the great powers have all they can do to wage their own battles, but in a selfish world there is always danger that the struggles of nations may be availed of for the commission of acts that cannot be performed in time of peace.

No newspaper has been more outspoken in opposition to certain policies of President Wilson, and to the Mexican policy in particular than the New York Sun. Yet, in its issue of yesterday, after some criticism of the president, it said:

In face of that situation he is entitled to the loyal support of every American and from every American worthy the name he is going to receive it through thick and thin. There is no more doubt of this than there is of the unflinching devotion of the people to the flag that is now in Woodrow Wilson's hands.

Newspapers which, like The Sun and most of those around it, as well as throughout the entire Union, perceive clearly the distinction between the claiming of justice for partisanship and the obligations of patriotic duty will not find the slightest difficulty in reconciling reason and conscience as to what has gone before with absolute loyalty to the holder of the flag from the moment it is being done. There is no danger of any kind of confusion of the two campaigns, national and political. This is as true in the presence of the possibility of war as it would be true during actual war, if that should come.

Not even the New York World which has been the uncompromising defender of the president has spoken more emphatically and it is commendable that this paper has thrown its immense influence on the side where the support of all Americans and all American papers should be at this time. While exercising the American privilege of free press and free speech, let all who believe in "America First" support the administration through the trying days that lie immediately ahead.

THE SHINGLE ROOF

The board of trade has taken timely action in recommending to the municipal council the adoption of a new ordinance against the shingle roof in Lowell, and the proposed regulation should be adopted. It is in line with what all cities are now doing and what all cities must adopt sooner or later, since the evils of the shingle roof have been too well demonstrated in the great fires of Chelsea, Salem and cities that have suffered more recently.

The Sun has long contended that unless the roofs of a city are fire resisting, it is futile to adopt other fire prevention methods. The latest equipment and the most adequate fire protection will not avail if in the business section or in any congested section buildings are allowed to use the flimsy roof that is as dangerous as brown paper when the sparks of a great fire are flying. Moreover, it is misleading to allege that the shingle roof is economical, for while its first cost is less than that of slate or some fire resisting material, the necessary repairs and re-shingling will even matters up before the building has had a long lease of life.

The ordinance suggested by the board of trade seems to be both just and practical. It does not call for the elimination of shingle roofs immediately but provides for their gradual removal. Under the system advised, all roofs in Lowell would be of fire resisting material by 1923. Builders of new structures would be obliged to resort to slate, tile or some other material, and in this way the old shingle roofs would gradually disappear, since the present shingle roofs could not be repaired so as to perpetuate them indefinitely. A sweeping rule for change might work hardship, but this plan would seem to benefit the entire city while inflicting no unfair sacrifice on Lowell citizens.

A TEACHER'S ADVICE

The address of Miss Mary McShimmon of the Pierce grammar school, Brookline, delivered at the commencement exercises at the State Normal school, was the sincere advice of a brilliant and successful teacher who sees in the teaching profession a great opportunity. Confessing that she started out 35 years ago with the ideas of an older generation, she proved to be in the front rank of those who have adopted newer and saner methods of education—and they are now a great company. When those who listened will have forgotten most of the substance of her fine address, they will remember her personal enthusiasm and the remedy she has adopted for the unruly boy, viz: the providing of a task on which he may get rid of his surplus energy. In the relation of that process she touched the heart of many a teacher's difficulty—inability to restore discipline when pupils grow restless or nervous. The gist of her message was "Give the children something to do and something to think about and keep your minds always fresh, active and resourceful." There was nothing of the purely academic in her talk but there was common sense, inspiration and poetry. Those who listened must have taken their diplomas in the consciousness that they were workers in a profession that has a great deal to do with the shaping of men and women—and it is men and women who make up the world.

A DANGEROUS CURVE

A child was killed a few days ago in North Billerica on the spot where a young woman was killed under almost similar circumstances a few weeks ago. At this point the road winds around the so-called "Tahoe Oval" and even the speed permitted by the law makes it dangerous for pedestrians, owing to the curving nature of the roadway. Those who are on the road are within their rights as there is a public crossing on the spot, but in at least one of the cases it looks as though the driver was wholly blameless. Yet, that a dangerous condition exists there cannot be denied, and to state that this or that person was not to blame will not ensure safety for the future. Not only drivers from Lowell and from North Billerica but from all over the country drive through this road, and something ought to be done to protect the lives of people who may use it. It is not a place for children to play indiscriminately, but there are two recent deaths to serve as a warning of what is just as likely to happen again unless something is done to prevent it.

CARE FOR FAMILIES

In calling a special meeting of the municipal council with the intention of appointing a fund committee to care for the dependent families of those who have gone to the Mexican border, Mayor O'Donnell has done the right thing, and The Sun offers him hearty congratulations. This is something in which bravado or a "heroic attitude" is distasteful, and Lowell should regard it merely in the light of duty. When the call came recently from the committee arranging for a preparedness parade, the city responded nobly, and here is a chance to show the same spirit only in a more practical way. All Lowell citizens whatever their views on other things must admire the courage and patriotic devotion of the fine young men who left this city yesterday. Let us then show our admiration in a practical way by making prompt provision for those they leave behind whose natural anxiety may be augmented by the prospect of want or financial difficulty.

SEEN AND HEARD

No matter how much a feller likes flowers he generally has to die to get 'em.

The only time I know of when it pays to be hidebound is when a feller gets caught in an Indian massacre.

There may be awkward things in this world than a woman on a step-ladder, but if there is I ain't never seen 'em.

A happy married life is when a feller and his wife can get along with one easy chair on the porch. P.S.—There ain't none such.

There are some fellers who are going to have a dull time in heaven without gas companies and no street railway lines to kick about.

Jogging The Memory

The old method of tying a string about the finger to recall to mind some task to be done at a certain time has been done away with. The new way is to transfer a ring from one finger to another. On the accustomed finger the ring feels natural and does not cause annoyance, but on any other finger it slightly irritates. This irritation constantly will aid in recalling the task to be done. Just try it once.—Exchange.

Authors Hate Has Its Uses

"If I were asked to name the most intelligent animal in the world," said the observer, "I should say it is a small boy in a Sunday school class, for himself, a country church not long ago and a lad who sat near me illustrated my point. The sermon evidently did not fill out the boy's idea of entertainment and he had given over all pretense of attention."

"Immediately in front of him sat a girl whose head seemed ablaze with an aureole of fiery red hair. She had given the boy a happy suggestion and he alternately held out one forefinger near the flaming locks, then, with the other fist hammered it, using the back of the seat for an anvil. He varied this occasionally by dipping the finger in an imaginary blacksmith's tub and softly going 'sizz! sizz!'—Indianapolis News.

Time For Prayer

The married women were telling stories about the brightness of their respective offerings. They had reached the religious stage. One mother of a girl of six years and a boy of four told this story:

"Carl and Ruth had been unusually annoying all the morning while I was trying to hang my parlor curtains. It seemed to me that they had never before compressed so much noise in such a small space as my front room."

Finally got up and had them punished in the most drastic measures. I seized them each by one ear and led them none to gently into the farthest room from where I was working. Seating them on stools on opposite sides of the fireplace I warned them not to utter a single word for five minutes under pain of more severe punishment. As I turned to leave the room, my little boy with the utmost gravity said to his sister:

"Ruth, let us pray."

"Forwith both launched into the Lord's prayer with the utmost fervor. Really," added the mother, "I didn't think the heart to punish them after that display of piety."—Fitchburg News.

The Foolish Deer

A foolish deer once missed his guess because of unpreparedness.

Said he, "I don't believe in such; I think they praise it overmuch."

"The forest is so very wide. No enemy could reach my side."

"And if they did I have my horns. A weapon no one ever fears."

"And should that fail I have my heels. A single glance my speed reveals."

WHAT NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED

WONDERFULLY SPEEDY NEW FOUND REMEDY FOR THIED, WOUND OUT, SHATTERED, CRUSHING NERVOUS SYSTEMS

It is simply marvelous, the speedy relief that a single glass of SARGOL brings to any man or woman whose nerves are upset, unstrung or dulled, tired and exhausted. Every tablet seems to go straight to the source of the trouble, and in just a few moments (aiding, despondency, "jumps," "hiccups," nervous indigestion and all these other symptoms of run-down nerves) the nervous system is brought back to normal, and the nervous system is completely transformed from the worst nervousness into a strong, healthy, vigorous man or woman.

SARGOL really does more good in the average case of "nerves" than a month's vacation because it not only "rests" the nerves but it puts new snap and "ginger" and courage into your entire body.

SARGOL must accomplish these things for its cost is nothing. Lowell Pharmacy and other leading druggists in Lowell sell it with this absolute guarantee, positively asserting that if the patient does not get better from 60 days' faithful use.

Their face crimson in the risen light.

The friendly wind blew warm upon my breast.

Above the trembling heart, fearful of death.

They wrapped my eyes with linen, led me forth;

And bound me prostrate on the pillow—

Face to the sky. I felt the tender breeze

Of summer morning touch my tear wet lips.

And thoughts of gardens and of rose-grown lanes

Trodden in England when the world was green

Came to me and I prayed to One I knew

To save me. Then a drift of stinging sand

Fell on my pinioned arms—and then,

I heard the pounding hoofs of horses beat.

The surging rush of soldiers, clashing

And jingling harness; the sharp clang of steel

And the hoarse call of leaders urging on

Their panting army while my guards implored

That I be brave and face the coming death.

They lifted my beating brow and faltered

A litany for those about to die.

Crocheting, I lay and heard the sounds come

The jangle louder and a trumpet call

Deafened my senses, and again I cried aloud

Striving against the bondage of my chains.

But on they came, strident, tumultuous,

With steady hoof beats, pounding,

Thundering

To crush me in the desert's burning

To mold me with this golden shining earth.

And lo! a crimson shadow in the Then darkness fell across me like a

Of sweetness, and I woke to find the dawn!

ROOSEVELT NOT TO RUN

T. R. IN LETTER DECLINING NOMINATION URGES MOORE'S TO SUPPORT HUGHES

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 22.—When Col. Roosevelt, however, yesterday signed his letter to the progressive national committee declining the nomination for the presidency and urging the election of Justice Hughes, he at the same time signed the death warrant of the progressive party which he had just accomplished the chief objects for which it was formed.

To make the run for the presidency and to keep up the party as a fighting force, he says, can have but one result—to insure the re-election of President Wilson and four years more of spineless politics which have made American diplomacy a by-word abroad and a thing of regret at home, and brought the nation to the edge of war while unprepared to even defend its border against hand-made raids.

Some might be secured by continuing the party and making the fight, but these results could not warrant the party or its candidate taking the responsibility of returning President Wilson to the White House with the consequent grave risks to the national life of the United States. For the progressive party and the course it has followed since its birth four years ago, Colonel Roosevelt has neither excuses, explanations nor apologies. It came into being, he holds, at a time when the republican party had become the party of reaction and the plain people. In the four years that have elapsed the republicans have come back to the ancient landmarks, have enacted in law the most important reforms for which the progressives stood, and have placed their candidate upon a platform to which every progressive can subscribe, the colonel contends.

FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

REVENUE FROM AUTO REGISTRATION SHOWS $200,000 INCREASE THIS YEAR OVER LAST

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston 22.—As a record-breaking activity in all departments of the automobile business, the Massachusetts highway commission has available for highway repairs this year approximately $200,000 more than last, this representing the increased revenue of the commission on account of the unprecedented number of registrations of all kinds.

The aggregate revenue of the commission, up to June 1st, was $1,107,609.80; last year it was $906,346.01.

Pleasure cars to the number of 89,864 have been registered this year, an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent over last year's number, which was 65,052. In addition there have been 13,925 commercial vehicles, as compared with 9,273 last year.

Motor cycles, while showing an increase, do not show the same percentage as the pleasure cars. Last year's registration of motor cycles was 6,478, while this year 7,180 have been registered.

The number of licenses issued to manufacturers and dealers is 1,307 this year, as compared with 1,611 last year.

A total of 19,193 licenses to operate motor vehicles have been issued during the six months of the present fiscal year, a very material increase over last year's figures of 17,523. It is in renewals, however, that the greatest gain is shown, the commission having put out no less than 37,042 renewals this year, as compared with last year's 32,467.

Examinations of applicants show an increase from 3,597 last year to 4,115 for 1916.

BAY STATE RAISING

FUNDS FOR FAMILIES
BOSTON, June 22.—Cities and towns throughout Massachusetts yesterday began active work raising funds for dependents of militia-men called out by the mobilization order. In most cases the movements have been independently undertaken in each place for families of its own citizens.

Employers, too, have very largely co-operated to the same purpose, many companies guaranteeing employees summoned to the colors against loss of pay and consequent distress to families.

CROWD CHEERS WOMAN FOR HER PATRIOTISM
BOSTON, June 22.—The clear-spoken reply of a young woman who stood at Summer and Washington streets yesterday to a slurring remark made about a red, white and blue hatband she wore on her black sailor brought cheers to the lips and tears to the eyes of men and women who had just seen the militiamen march past.

"Stir it up, you wish," she said, looking straight into the eyes of the man who had spoken, "but these colors are my colors, and they will be with me night and day until my two brothers, one of whom is leading his battalion and the other his company, return to our home."

The words were sharply uttered; many heard them. Then there came a subdued cheer, and the men nearby reverently lifted their hats to salute the nation's colors.

SAYS KOHLEMAINEN WILL

BE COURT-MARTIALED

NEW YORK, June 22.—Hannes Kohlemainen, long distance runner, who won athletic fame as one of Finland's representatives at the Olympic games in 1912, has declined not to respond with his National Guard regiment, the 14th, of Brooklyn, for its active duty, it became known yesterday.

According to Kohlemainen's brother, William, the athlete, was induced to join the regiment under the representation that all that would be desired of him would be to take part in athletic games. Kohlemainen was to receive a commission and has taken out his first citizenship papers.

Capt. W. R. Jackson, adjutant of the 14th regiment, announced later yesterday that Kohlemainen would be court-martialed for disobedience of orders unless he responded for service.

WORK AND LITTLE PLAY

AT FRAMINGHAM CAMP

FRAMINGHAM, June 22.—Lieut. Col. Beaumont E. Buck, U.S.A., on special detail here, announced today that the work of mustering the Massachusetts militia into the federal army would not begin for several days. Orders received last night indicated that this would begin at once although it was explained that it would be necessary to await the arrival of formal papers and equipment. Because of this change in the plan it was not expected that the troops would be ready to move before the first of next week.

Under the direction of Brig-Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser, in command the camp today took up the schedule of "work, work, and little play" so that the troops can be put into condition with the least possible delay. The drilling of recruits was begun immediately after breakfast and the many small bodies of men in civilian dress at work on the field indicated the public interest and the hearty response to the call for volunteers. Reports reaching Gen. Sweetser from regimental commanders showed that 937 had enlisted within two days. Of this number 370 were recruited from the western part of the state in the companies of the second regiment, the largest number of additions gained by any of the four regiments in camp.

131 Recruits With Ninth
The Eighth regiment had 256 recruits, the Fifth had 188, and the Ninth arrived with 131. The muster roll this morning showed 5263 officers and men in camp. With 500 men in the various auxiliary units camped outside the main field, Massachusetts had concentrated a total of 5763.

Lack of horses, which had detained cavalry and field artillery commands, prevented the complete mobilization of the state's quota, although it was said that a sufficient number of mounts would be ready to move by tonight.

General Sweetser said today that recruiting was proceeding rapidly throughout the state and that this would add considerably to the number of men already enrolled for service.

MASSACHUSETTS WILL BE

AMONG FIRST AT BORDER

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Officials of the war department expressed gratification yesterday at the speed with which the mobilization of the Massachusetts militia has proceeded. It now looks as though the Massachusetts and District of Columbia troops will be ready for service before those from any other state, and in the event of immediate need these organizations will probably be among the first ordered to the border.

The war department has under consideration plans for increasing the quota of several states.

This would probably make possible the active participation of the Sixth Mass. Regt., which, under present arrangements, has been detailed for home service.

Former Alderman Charles W. Godfrey of Fitchburg yesterday offered his services to the war department through Congressman Paige. In communicating his desire for service Mr. Godfrey mentioned that he held a certificate from the Port Ogilthorpe, Ga., training camp, and also possessed a strong recommendation from Col. Ketchum.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The movement of additional regiments of the New York National Guard to Camp Whitman at Beekman, N. Y., the mobilization site for state troops, was halted today in compliance with orders from Maj. Gen. John F. O'Brien that the water supply at the camp should be completed before their arrival.

Since the development of the Mexican crisis applications for enlistments in the regular army in this city had increased from 150 a day to 150 a day. Since the National Guard mobilization was ordered applications for training at Plattsburg have doubled and now average more than 175 a day.

CONNECTICUT NATIONAL GUARD MOVES TO CAMP

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The first unit of the Connecticut National Guard moved into the mobilization camp at Niantic today. Troop B, Fifth Militia cavalry, and the Signal corps of the First Infantry leaving the state arsenal at Hartford for the camp grounds. All other commands are held in local armories and they have been ordered to maximum strength for war service.

The coast artillery corps of the state force will go to Fort H. G. Wright on Fisher's Island today for its customary 10 days' tour of duty. This unit was ordered to move into mobilization camp at Niantic today. The last of its work at the forts which guard the eastern entrance to Long Island sound will conform to that of previous years. The command has filed its ranks to full strength under the state law. Several companies of regulars which were at the forts have been sent south and the National Guardsmen have hopes that they will remain there for a longer period than 10 days.

NEW JERSEY FIRST STATE

TO COMPLETE MOBILIZATION

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 22.—New Jersey claims the distinction of being the first state to have its troops completely mobilized and awaiting further orders from the war department. The last of the organized troops called out arrived here last night and Gov. Fielder was notified by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the east, that this was the first state to have its national guard ready in response to the president's call. However, that the federal authorities have not done their share because they have failed to provide sufficient equipment and supplies for the men.

SERIOUS UPSISING AGAINST THE

TURKS IN PROGRESS IN

ARABIA

LONDON, June 22.—Reports have been received here that a serious uprising against the Turks is in progress in Arabia and that the rebels have captured the holy city of Mecca.

The London newspapers declare that the rebellion is certain to have an important bearing on the war, especially as regards the participation of Turkey. The Post says:

"The uprising is due to recent wholesale executions of Mohammedans and Syrian notables and well known religious leaders, and also to the spread in Arabia of a feeling that the Turks have abdicated their position as the protectors of the Mohammedans and have become the vassals of Germany."

A Reuters despatch from Cairo says the rebels in addition to taking Mecca have captured Jiddah, the chief seaport of Arabia and Taif, 65 miles southeast of Mecca, and have proclaimed independence of the Arabs from Ottoman rule.

It is said the garrisons of Mecca, Jiddah and Taif surrendered, with the exception of two small forts at Taif, which are still resisting. At Jiddah 15 officers, 1400 men and 50 guns were captured. Mecca is 245 miles northwest of Mecca, is closely besieged.

GREECE

PARIS, June 22, 2.45 p. m.—An allied fleet has been ordered to cruise before Piraeus, the port of Athens, according to a Havas despatch from Saloniki. It is said the fleet eventually will be supported by a landing party.

The fleet, made up of squadrons of the allied navies, will be commanded by Vice Admiral Moreau.

The despatch says that the action of the landing party "will depend upon events."

Piraeus, the second largest city of Greece, is five miles southwest of Athens. It is 200 miles below Saloniki, the base of the allied forces in Greece.

GERMANS CAPTURE FRONT LINE

TRENCHES OF FRENCH AFTER

ALL NIGHT BATTLE

PARIS, June 22, 11.30 a. m.—After violent attacks lasting all night the Germans captured front line trenches between Fumun wood and Chenois, in the Verdun sector, according to an office.

The Germans attacked in force on both banks of the Meuse after the usual heavy bombardment. An attack on the south slope of Dead Man hill was checked by grenade detachments, according to the official statement.

On the right bank of the river there were violent engagements west and south of Fort Vaux during which the Germans gained a footing in a corner of Fumun wood, but were immediately expelled. Later they returned to the attack when some trenches were captured. A German grenade assault unit of Hill No. 321 was stopped by the French fire.

The text of the statement follows: "On both banks of the river Meuse last night was marked by a series of pronounced attacks by the enemy, which followed bombardments of great severity."

"On the left bank of the river the fighting continued with ferocity in the region west and south of Fort de Vaux. Yesterday evening a powerful German attack was successful in penetrating a small wood southeast of the Fumun wood. We, however, at once delivered a counter attack, and chased the enemy out. At about midnight a further offensive action was directed by the enemy upon our positions reaching from the Fumun wood to a point east of Chenois, and was repulsed with sanguinary losses."

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR BELGIAN

COLUMNS IN GERMAN EAST

AFRICA

HAVRE, June 22.—Further successes for the Belgian columns invading German East Africa are claimed in an official statement issued by the Belgian war office today. The statement follows:

"Gen. Tombeur telegraphs that after beating the enemy on June 6 at Kivutawe our advance guard again caught up with the Germans on June 12 and forced an engagement with them on the road from Kivutawe to Kilaga, west of the River Ngokoma. The enemy was routed and retreated, abandoning the killed on the field. The pursuit continues."

GREECE HAS ACCEPTED DEMANDS

POWERS

ATHENS, June 21, via London, June 22.—Greece has accepted unconditionally the demands made by the entente powers. This decision was communicated to the French legation by Mr. Zaimis, the former premier, to whom the formation of a new cabinet is reported to have been entrusted.

The ultimatum of the entente powers was delivered to the Greek government at noon today (Wednesday). The demands presented by the entente powers, according to the new paper, N. E. Leandros, were as follows:

1.—Complete general demobilization.

2.—Removal of the chief of police of Athens.

3.—Popular pro-entente sentiment not to be suppressed.

4.—Deportation of agents spreading German propaganda.

While the dissolution of the chamber of deputies also was desired, the newspaper says, it may not be directly demanded.

The foregoing version of the nature of the entente demands are said in diplomatic circles to be substantially accurate.

The new cabinet will be made up on non-political lines, even including one or two adherents of former Premier Venizelos.

TREVINO, WHO THREATENED PERSHING, IS PERSONAL FRIEND OF CARRANZA

GEN. TREVINO AMERICAN LINE IN MEXICO.

General Jacinto Trevino, the Mexican commander who warned Pershing that an advance by American troops would mean war, is an intimate personal friend of Venustiano Carranza, de facto president of Mexico. He commands about 30,000 troops, which have been maneuvered recently to be in a position to attack Pershing's column. The map shows the line held by the American soldiers under Pershing from Columbus, N. M., to Nampiquia, Mexico.

AGAINST COST OF PAPER

NEW YORK, June 21.—Newspapers are successful in great cities only when they are operated on principles which make country newspapers possible. Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times declared today in an address before the National Editorial association, in convention here. Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels was among the speakers at today's sessions. Mr. Ochs attributed the success of the Times to the practice of ideals which he outlined in St. Paul 25 years ago at a convention of the association he addressed today. At that time, he said, the journalistic world was skeptical, believing he had "more money than brains," but he held to his tenets of being independent of outside financial considerations, and had published only clean and printable news.

Secretary Daniels praised the country newspaper and the independent thought and honest principles of country editors. The association adopted resolutions asking the department of justice, the federal trade commission and congress "immediately and thoroughly to investigate and remedy the present high price and scarcity of all paper supplies and especially the trouble with the white newspaper products."

SUPREME COURT RULES AGAINST WESTERN UNION AND UNITED TELEGRAM CO.

BOSTON, June 21.—The supreme court held today that the Western Union Telegraph Co. and the United Telegram Co. must obey a decree of the public service commission which directed that Charles H. Foster, a local broker, be supplied with continuous quotations of all transactions on the New York stock exchange. The exchange had not approved of Foster's application for service and in the absence of such approval the Western Union contended that under its contract it was unable to install a ticker.

MEMORIAL TO KITCHENER

PREMIER ASQUITH MOVES RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING ERECTION OF MONUMENT

LONDON, June 21.—In moving a resolution authorizing the erection of a memorial to the late Field Marshal Lord Kitchener out of the public funds with an inscription expressing admiration of the house for his illustrious career and gratitude for his services, Premier Asquith in the house of commons today recalled the recent meeting of Lord Kitchener with members of the house which ended in the field marshal and his most persistent and irreconcilable critics parting on terms of mutual respect.

Andrew Bonar Law, minister of the colonies, seconded the resolution, emphasizing the fact that Lord Kitchener had the fullest confidence of the country and added that now that he had fallen it was for those who remained to work with the single purpose of securing that victory in the ultimate attainment of which Lord Kitchener had never failed to believe.

The resolution for the Kitchener memorial was agreed to.

SUFFRAGE PLANK

Mrs. Hooker Culls on President Wilson for Interpretation—Says Question Should Be Decided by States

WASHINGTON, June 21.—An interpretation of the suffrage plank of the democratic platform was sought from President Wilson today by Mrs. D. E. Hooker of Richmond, Va., acting as a spokesman for the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage and the Virginia State Federation of Labor. She left the White House with the report that the president stated the plank meant the question should be decided by the states, not by federal action, and still held to his refusal to urge the passage of the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment to the constitution.

"The president said that he hoped the democrats in writing the St. Louis plank would not be accused of 'hashing' and 'hanging'," said Mrs. Hooker. "He also said he hoped the plank meant what it said."

fall. There is a report that Lord Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, will be his successor.

The Duke of Connaught had arranged to leave Canada in September, 1914, and the Prince of Wales had been announced as his successor. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught with the Princess Patricia had made preparations for their departure for England and the Prince of Wales was about to sail from England when the war broke out. The prince went to the front with the British forces and is still there. The Duke of Connaught announced that he would continue in Canada. Events are so shaping themselves that the Duke and Duchess of Connaught now see the way clear for their departure from Canada.

BATTERY C WILL GO OVER THE ROAD FROM METHUEN ARMORY TO SOUTH FRAMINGHAM

Battery C, quartered at the Methuen armory near Stanley's on the Merrimack, will go over the road to South Framingham tonight and is expected to pass through Lowell about 5 o'clock. The original intention was to leave the armory at 1 o'clock this afternoon and word was received at the mayor's office at about the noon hour that the battery would reach Lowell about 2.30. However, some unforeseen delay was met with and at 3.30 o'clock another message was received stating that Battery C was then leaving the armory and would reach here about 5 o'clock. It was stated yesterday that considerable difficulty was experienced in securing the required number of horses.

HAD NO AUTO LICENSE

Orlando Viau of Lowell was arraigned in district court in Lawrence on Monday before Judge J. J. Mahoney, for a violation of the auto law for failing to produce his license when asked to do so by a policeman, and his case was continued. Policeman Horan said he noticed the front number plate was off the machine when the defendant was passing through Lawrence en route from Lowell to Salisbury beach. The front number plate was in court and told the court he was operating his brother's car, but didn't have his license with him to show when asked to do so.

The president hopes to select a group of active men to aid National Chairman Vance C. McCormick, but has not definitely decided upon the personnel. HIGH PRICES OF GASOLINE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Officials of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio testified today in the closing hearing of the federal trade commission's investigation into the increase in the price of gasoline that economic causes justified the advances. They were unable to give any reason for the failure of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, to compete in the Ohio territory. Independent oil men told the commission recently that demoralization of the oil business was due to high prices maintained in Ohio as a result of the failure of the Indiana concern to enter that field.

MEXICANS AGAIN IN FAVOR

SHIPPING SHARES AND ROCK ISLAND ISSUES FEATURED OPENING—CLOSING HEAVY

NEW YORK, June 21.—Shipping shares and Rock Island issues featured today's early operations, showing marked strength as a result of overnight developments favorable to those properties. Marine pfd. rose over a point and Rock Island as much or more with heavy dealings in the debentures at a gain of 2 points. Denver & Rio Grande pfd. also manifested much activity and strength, rising 2 1/2. Mexicans were again in favor. Petroleum gained 2 1/2 with a point for American Smelting. Continental Can. was the conspicuous specialty, its initial gain of 2 points soon being extended to 4 1/2. U. S. Steel and Crucible Steel were higher by a point with 1 1/2 for Best Sugar.

Interest in other low priced rails, notably Lake Erie and Western, Texas & Pacific, was revived, those issues showing advances of 2 to 4 points. Standard rails were neglected, however, aside from occasional activity in Reading and Lehigh Valley. Motors recovered fully from the early week's reversal. Wallis-Overland rising 3 1/2 points with 5 1/2 for Chandler and 3 1/2 for Studebaker. Coppers also improved despite lower prices abroad, but zinc shares were heavy. Profit taking materially reduced gains in all quarters before midday. Bonds were irregular.

BATTERY C OFF TO FRONT

Delay Caused by Green Horses—
Daring Capture of Runaway by
Sun Janitor on Bridge Street

Battery C, first squadron field artillery, M.V.M., passed through Lowell about 7 o'clock last evening after a long and tedious delay that was not enjoyed by the weary and anxious ones who had been awaiting their arrival for more than four hours. Shortly before the noon hour yesterday word was received at the mayor's office that Battery C would leave the Methuen armory at 1 o'clock and would arrive here about 2:30. It was suggested then that the battery be met at the city line and escorted through the city by the High School regiment and the Business Men's battalion. But if the battery was to arrive at 2:30 the time for the preparation of escort was too short and besides it would be doing something for Battery C that was not done for Company M that left Lowell in the morning. Company M was not given any escort from the armory and to meet and escort Battery C through the city did not seem to be just the right thing to do under the circumstances. And it was well that it was viewed in this light, for the escort would have had a very long, wet and dreary wait at the city line. The delay in leaving the armory and the very slow progress made by Battery C was due, in great measure, to the fact that many of the men were new to the battery business, and all but 16 of the horses were "green," and the fact that most of the horses were unbroken and absolutely unfamiliar with military work greatly hampered the movements of the gun and caissons. The battery left the Methuen armory, on the Lawrence-Lowell boulevard, near Stanley's on the Merrimack, at 4:35 o'clock and it took nearly two and a half hours to cover the six miles between that point and Lowell. Some of the horses, scared at the rumble of the heavy wheels and clanking of iron traces, got excited and confused and finally balked. It took some time to coax them back to an understanding of what was actually required of them and a few of them absolutely refused to understand. Much difficulty was experienced in getting horses, and it became necessary, at almost the last moment, to go to Manchester, N. H., to fill the required number. The soldiers had not been removed from the tails of one of the horses that passed through Lowell last evening and that was proof enough that the horses were green in all that the word implies.

A Thrilling Moment

A Lawrence band had been hired to play at the armory and even the music didn't seem to take with some of the green horses. Whether the music was too solemn or that their classic ears and aesthetic taste were insulted by ragtime is not known, but that they didn't take kindly to the best efforts of the music makers was a cinch. One man got a throw before he left the armory, and another horse threw his rider in First street and ran away. This action on the part of the green and rude one resulted in a thriller later on in Bridge street, near the canal bridge, when the runaway was stopped by Arsene Guy, a Sun building janitor and captain of Garde St. Louis. The runaway was spectacular and it was a dangerous moment for the thousands of spectators who gathered along the street. The horse started to run at the top of First st. hill. Soon its harness slipped off and dangled at its heels. The animal was crazed with fright and was going at break-neck speed as he passed through streets banked with men, women and children. The crowds scattered like sheep and there were times when the horse approached so near the sidewalk as to give the impression that he was about to leave the street. It was a miracle that he did not dash into the crowd as he turned from First street into Bridge street, where people were crowded at every point. The circus stunt in which Mr. Guy combined a horseman and hero combined was performed after the horse had crossed Centralville bridge. Those who witnessed the maneuver declare it was the classiest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Lowell and had Buffalo Bill seen Guy perform he never would have left Lowell without him. The horse was breaking all speed records when the brave Arsene jumped out to the middle of the street and grabbed the check rein. He ran a short way with the horse and then bracing his feet and waiting for the necessary pull on the rein, he leaped on the horse's back. A minute later the horse was on his knees on the canal bridge and no sooner had his knees touched the bridge than Arsene had him by the bridle and held him until men came up from the battery. The horse pranced and danced about, but his captor was equal to the occasion and after leading the horse to Merrimack square, Arsene, despite warnings from the battery men who had come to look upon the horse as a bad one, mounted him again and rode him bareback, to and beyond the city line in Chelmsford. His act so pleased Capt. William W. Roberts and other officers that they wanted the hero and horseman to enlist, but Arsene declined the honor. They took his name, however, and he will probably hear from them later.

The route of the battery through the city was through Bridge street to Merrimack square, Prescott street, Central street, Middlesex street, Branch street, Smith street, Westford street, Lane street, Powell street, and Chelmsford street to Chelmsford Centre.

Got Great Ovation
Everywhere along the route the battery got an ovation. About two miles ahead of the battery was the cooking outfit, with three men aboard, and prepared to cook as soon as the Baptist pond camping ground was reached.

The commander of the battery is Capt. William W. Roberts, and his commissioned officers are First Lieut. George McNamee and Roy Daniels, second lieutenants, Sumner H. Needham and W. Leo Whipple, and Surgeon-Major Harry H. Nevers. Lieut. Needham of this city has been chosen the scouting officer of the battery. Twenty-one of the battery are from this city. Heretofore these men have constituted what is known as the "Lowell section," but yesterday the men were changed about so that there is no longer any distinguishing name for any section. The Lowell men were distributed among the six sections of the battery.

Aside from Lieut. Needham the Lowell members of Battery C, are:

The Camping Ground

The battery camped for the night in Winnie's field at South Chelmsford and it was fortunate that the cooking outfit was so well in advance of the battery for they had a drizzling rain, damp wood and a wet field to contend with. But it did not take them long to get things underway and the coffee kettle was bubbling merrily when the boys arrived.

WILSON REVIEWS MILITIA

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson got his first view yesterday of military mobilization for Mexican border service. Standing on the curb of Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House with Secretary Baker and Col. Harbo, his military aide, he reviewed the District of Columbia National Guard as it marched by on the way to its camp across the Potomac River at Fort Myer.

BLOCKADE MEXICAN COAST

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 22.—Not since the beginning of the Mexican troubles has there been such a powerful fleet sent to the western Mexican littoral for patrol purposes, nor has an American admiral ever taken the precaution so to play his fighting ships that within a few moments after an outbreak of hostilities he could effectually blockade every west coast Mexican port from Guaymas to Salina Cruz.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED

MADISON, Wis., June 22.—The governor's conference, which was to have been held at Salt Lake City on June 26, has been temporarily postponed because about half the governors had wired that they could not attend on account of the president's call for state troops. RESOLUTION TO DRAFT

MILITIA INTO ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Baker informed President Wilson early today that there had been no report from Gen. Pershing on the fight between American and Carranza soldiers near Carrizal yesterday. Mr. Baker went to the White House with despatches from Gen. Funston giving such information as has been obtained from Mexican sources.

Later Secretary Baker said no new orders had been sent to Gen. Funston and that the government would take no step until an account from its own officers showing what happened had been received.

National Guardsmen to reinforce the border patrol will be sent as soon as their mobilization and organization is completed, but Mr. Baker would not predict when that might be.

"We have only the information from Mexican sources and from a few Americans who arrived on trains at El Paso," said the secretary. "We are waiting for further information, either from Gen. Pershing or other American sources."

He would not state whether a punitive expedition would be ordered to pursue the Mexicans who attacked the Americans.

From unofficial sources Mr. Baker said he had been informed of the alleged statement by Gen. Obregon assuming responsibility for the orders issued to the Mexican detachment which made the attack. He would not comment.

When Secretary Baker returned to the department, Secretary Lansing went to his office and the two cabinet members were in conference for some time. Mr. Lansing, as he left, said that his department had no word from American sources in Mexico about the fight.

A resolution authorizing the president to draft National Guardsmen willing to take the federal oath immediately into the regular army, under the terms of the new army bill was submitted by Secretary Baker to Chairman Hay of the house military committee. Mr. Hay said he would call it up tomorrow and press for immediate action.

If possible, Mr. Hay said, he would obtain consideration of the resolution by unanimous consent, but he was prepared to ask for a special rule if necessary.

The resolution differs slightly from the provision of the measures originally prepared for bringing the National Guard into federal service in that it would provide for service during "the period of the emergency," instead of "the period of the war." Members of the active guard of the reserves in all states, territories and the District of Columbia who take the new oath would be subject to draft under the resolution. The president would be authorized to combine various incomplete units in order to bring them up to war strength and to appoint officers for them.

AMERICANS REMOVED

THEIR WOUNDED WITH THEM

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The consulate announcement said complete details had been received from Villa Ahumada. The Americans removed their wounded with them.

The bodies of the American dead were counted as they lay on the field of battle.

The Mexican consulate announced early today that it had no additional details regarding the Carrizal encounter.

It was intimated at the consulate that the official Mexican view would be that the battle between the Americans and Carranza forces is a detached incident, having nothing to do with the general situation. Mexican authorities were in communication with Mexico City during the night.

AMERICAN AVIATORS IN

FRANCE CANNOT REPLY

PARIS, June 22.—The American aviators in the service of France are not able to comment on or reply to the inquiry from the Aero club of America whether they will return to take service in the American army in the event of war with Mexico. They are prevented from replying by the fact that they have enlisted in the French army for the duration of the war and are subject to army discipline.

The only manner in which this subject could be taken up would be by negotiations between the governments of France and the United States.

VILLA'S WIFE ARRESTED

AND DEPORTED TO JUAREZ

EL PASO, Texas, June 22.—Mrs. Luz Torres Villa, wife of Francisco Villa, was arrested by the police last night and with her sister and her sister's child, about five years of age and a German nurse, was deported to Juarez on orders from Mayor Lea, who gave no reason for the act. Mrs. Villa arrived here this afternoon, ostensibly from New Orleans, but the police believe she came from Los Angeles. She said she intended to go to Chihuahua to look for her husband.

EVACUATION OF JUAREZ

BY CARRANZA AFTER BATTLE

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—Evacuation of Juarez by the Carranza garrison is expected today as a result of yesterday's battle between troops of the Tenth cavalry and a Carranza command at Carrizal, in which a number on both sides were reported to have been killed.

Reports to Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district indicated that hurried preparations for the departure of the 4000 troops under Gen. Francisco Gonzalez were being made in Juarez throughout the night. Train trains with steam up stood in the railway yards while supplies, ammunition, food and forage were being hastily loaded into freight cars.

Evacuation of Juarez

Capt. James Allison, provost marshal of El Paso, received a report from a Mexican source early today that the evacuation of Juarez was already under way and that one train of box cars and day coaches, heavily loaded with soldiers, some of whom were perched on the tops of the cars, had left for the south over the Mexican Central line.

Throughout the night the streets in Juarez were filled with cavalrymen, a number of small detachments moving from the city and into the hills beyond while others left Juarez ostensibly to take station at border points within a few miles of El Paso. However, neither Andrew Garcia Mexican consul who spent the night in the Mexican town, nor Mexican military officials would discuss the reported evacuation over the telephone.

Details of Engagement

Details of the engagement at Carrizal are awaited anxiously here. Gen. Bell said early today that no reports had been received from Gen. Pershing, the American expeditionary commander, or from any of his subordinate officers.

Confidence was expressed, however, that the American version of the clash would be received later in the day. Stress was laid upon the fact that the battle was fought approximately 65 miles from Colonia Dublan, General Pershing's field headquarters, and that with no means of wire communication available, it would take a courier some time to reach the expeditionary commander with a report.

New Version of Battle

A new version of the engagement was brought here today by a Mexican civilian, who was in Villa Ahumada early yesterday afternoon and who said he assisted in dressing some of the Mexican wounded. He said that Gen. Felix Gomez, the slain Carranza leader, had been aware of the approach of the Americans for 12 hours and had sent a number of couriers to them warning them to return to their encampment.

Pitfall Concealed With Brush

When they persisted in their advance, he said, a pitfall several hundred feet in length was dug directly in the trail over which the cavalrymen must ride. This was cleverly concealed with brush.

Plunged Into Pitfall

As the Americans rode unsuspectingly through the sand dunes toward the entrenchment, Gen. Gomez lay concealed some hundred yards away in the mesquite. The horses of the American vanguard plunged into the pitfall, unseating their riders and injuring a number of them.

17 Americans Captured

Then, the Mexican asserted, the Carranza force lying in ambush, raked the American ranks with a machine gun. The heavy fire forced the Americans to withdraw to reorganize their line and the Mexicans captured 17 soldiers who had been thrown into the pit.

He asserted that it was then that Gen. Gomez went forward under a flag of truce to the battle, the proposed parley had begun an irresponsible soldier again started the machine gunfire.

Gen. Gomez Killed

A small detachment of cavalrymen charged forward and Gomez and his party, who were in the center of a field, directly between the two commands, their pistol fire killing the Mexican leader.

Forty Americans Killed

According to the story, both commands withdrew. The Mexican was unable to estimate the Mexican dead, but asserted that the American dead numbered 40, this statement agreeing with the Mexican official reports.

Military authorities here expressed no doubt that both commands suffered heavily in the fight, but pointed out that no information concerning the engagement other than from Mexican sources has been received.

All Information from Mexicans

Even the two Americans, James Maxey and C. Hubbs, who brought the most detailed accounts to the border, said that their informants were all Mexicans. Hope was expressed that the American casualties will not prove as heavy as the Mexican reports have indicated.

To Rescue Americans

It was not considered unlikely that Gen. Pershing already has taken steps looking toward the reinforcement of the cavalry command engaged and to a swift punitive action. It was also expected that he would take such steps as are possible to rescue the captive Americans who now are on their way to Chihuahua City.

1000 Mexicans Cross Border

Reports of the evacuation of towns held by Carranza garrisons in the territory occupied by the expeditionary command continued today, and it was thought that Gen. Trevino has ordered the re-dispatch of the troops, composing the night which has surrounded Gen. Pershing's forces for some weeks to offset a re-alignment which the American commander began yesterday. During the night upwards of 1000 Mexicans crossed the border from El Paso to Juarez and today the exodus continued.

Withdraw from Juarez

Army officers asserted today that the Mexican leaders have long realized that in the event of hostilities with the United States they could not hope to hold Juarez, against the Americans and have planned to withdraw to a more strategic point.

PLACARDS CALL JUAREZ

EL PASO, June 22.—Placards were posted about Juarez yesterday calling on all Mexicans to present themselves for possible military service. They bore the signature of Gen. Jacinto Trevino.

FUNSTON AWAITS NEWS

FROM GEN. PERSHING

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Funston's headquarters reflected today the unrelieved strain in the American-Mexican situation. The night had passed without news from Gen. Pershing and army officers here professed to see a remaining chance that war might be avoided, although unwilling to believe that the commander of the American force that clashed yesterday with Gen. Trevino's men at Carrizal had been the aggressor.

Frank Skepticism was aroused by the suggestion that Gen. Gomez might not have been attempting to enforce the Carranza edict by force, and it was pointed out that his determination to forestall the Americans back to their own line was indicated by the official admission that he had sent a messenger to the American commander advising him to withdraw.

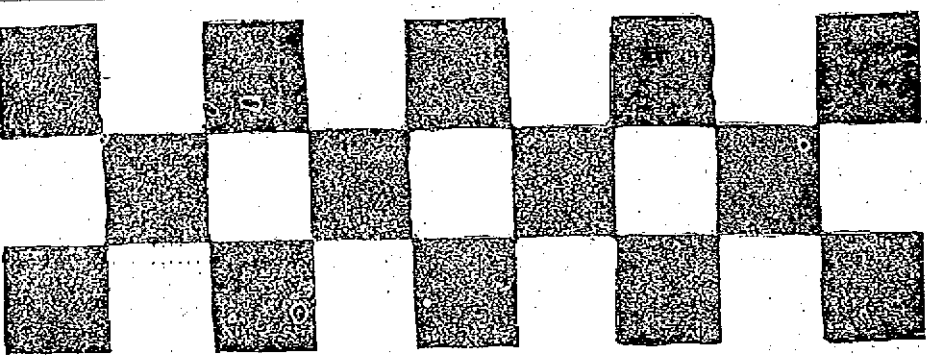

Gen. Funston spent the night in efforts to learn more details of what occurred at Carrizal, but in conformity with the known attitude of the administration not to precipitate war without orders or sufficient cause, he remained steadfast in his determination not to authorize moves that would remove all doubt as to the American army's future relations with that country.

State officers realized that in the event of military operations on a big scale the great problem would be in dealing with the various big units of the Carranza army stationed within striking distance of every port of entry from Brownsville to Lower California.

News that Juarez was being evacuated by the Mexican garrison did not surprise the headquarters staff, which yesterday learned that Gen. Ricau had removed his forces from Matamoros and that his army in action had been taken at one or two other towns.

In no case, however, have the Mexican forces moved far south of the border. Apparently the intention of the Mexican army officers was to make such disposition of their men that a defense could be maintained beyond towns that lie under the guns of the American side. A notable exception was offered at Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, where the garrison was increased by the arrival of Gen. Francisco Murguía with 2000 troops. Additional troops also were added to the garrison at Ojinaga, Coahuila, Tijuana, and from Nogales also was reported a heavy concentration in the interior and in position to menace a rich valley on the American side.

None of the reported Mexican troop movements caused uneasiness at the headquarters, however, where confidence is felt in the ability of the American forces to carry out, without hitch, any orders they may receive.

Eighth Inning Rally Gives Locals
Lead—Batting of Stimpson and Kilhullen Featured

Lowell took advantage of Pitcher Woodward's wildness in the eighth inning of the game with New Haven yesterday afternoon and besides breaking a 2-2 tie, piled up a three-run lead which was retained to the end and the local boys captured the game by a score of 5 to 2. The contest was close throughout and despite the rain which fell during the last inning the crowd remained until the final out was made.

Matty Zieser was in the points for Lowell and although he persisted in getting himself into serious losses by giving the opposing batsmen free transportation to the first sack, he twirled a good game. He gave eight bases on balls. Woodward was touched up for 10 hits and issued six passes, five of which came in the eighth inning.

The batting of Outfielder Stimpson featured. In five trips to the plate he obtained four singles and was hit by a pitched ball, giving him a perfect average for the day. Kilhullen continued his heavy hitting and contributed three singles which aided in the scoring.

First Inning
Despite the fact that Zieser passed the first two men in good fielding on the part of the Lowell players prevented the visitors from scoring. Lowell's only chance to get a man across the plate was lost when Stimpson died at third.

Nutter opened with a base on balls, but was thrown out at second by Kilhullen when the runner tried to purloin the second base. J. Shannon was also given a free pass. M. Shannon sent a high fly up in front of the plate and "Kil" got under it and there were two out. Miller was third out on a fly to Torphy.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
In the latter half of the inning Stimpson went to first after being hit by a pitched ball, and traveled along to second on Lord's infield out. M. Shannon to Miller. Stimpson was out at third on Briggs' grounder to M. Shannon. Barrows closed the inning with a foul fly to Courtney.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 0, New Haven 0.

Second Inning
New Haven broke the tie in the second inning by sending a man across the plate on Kilhullen's miff of a throw by Torphy. Chouinard scored. Lowell failed to get any effective work. Chouinard hit a deep right field for three bases and Courtney went to first on four balls. Bressler hit to Torphy, and the latter threw the ball to Kilhullen to get Chouinard at the plate, but "Kil" dropped the ball and the runner scored. Devine was also given a free pass. Woodward hit to Zieser, who threw to Kilhullen, getting Courtney at the plate. Kilhullen threw to Greenough, completing a double play. Nutter sent a grounder to Greenhalge and was out at first.

One run, one hit, one error.
In Lowell's half Greenhalge struck out. Kilhullen singled but was forced at second on Torphy's grounder to Courtney. Greenough was called out on strikes.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Third Inning
Lowell tied the score in the third. Stimpson opened with a single, second and went to third on a put out and scored on Briggs' single. The visitors were retired in quick order. J. Shannon fled to Barrows and M. Shannon struck out. Miller hit a high fly which Briggs gathered in for the third out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Zieser sent a grounder to Woodward and was retired at first. Stimpson singled to left field and stole second. Lord sent the ball to Chouinard and failed to reach first, Stimpson going to third on the put out. Briggs singled over short stop scoring Stimpson. Barrows sent a grounder to M. Shannon and Briggs was nailed at third.

One run, two hits, one error.
Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Fourth Inning
Neither side scored in the fourth inning.

Chouinard hit a hot grounder to Greenough and was out at first, Zieser covering the bag. Courtney grounded to Greenough and was out at first, the latter making the put out unassisted. Bressler singled to right field but was forced at second on Devine's hot grounder to Greenhalge.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Greenhalge sent a grounder to Chouinard and was out at first. Bressler then made a nice catch of Kilhullen's fly to left garden. M. Shannon made a poor throw on Torphy's grounder and the runner was safe at first. Greenough drew a free pass but Zieser closed the inning with a grounder to Miller.

No runs, no hits, one error.
Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Fifth Inning
It looked as though the visitors would score after Zieser gave two passes in the fifth, but he closed up the gap by striking out two of the heavy hitters of the team.

Woodward opened the fifth with a walk to first. Zieser having passed him up. He went to second on Nutter's sacrifice. J. Shannon was also given a base on balls. Zieser in attempting to get Woodward off second threw wild and both base runners were advanced. M. Shannon and Miller, the two heavy hitters of the New Haven team, were retired on strikes.

No runs, no hits, one error.
Stimpson slammed the ball to left field for what looked like a good smash, but Bressler made a quick recovery and Stimpson was unable to get farther than first. Lord drove the ball to J. Shannon and the latter threw to first for a double. Stimpson being caught off the bag. Briggs was third out on a grounder to M. Shannon.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Sixth Inning
Lowell forged to the front in this inning by sending a man across the plate.

Chouinard hit through Zieser for a safe and Courtney followed with a strike-out. Bressler fouled off to Kilhullen and a little later Chouinard was thrown out while attempting to steal second.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Barrows went out on a foul-fly to Courtney. Greenhalge hit a boundary over Courtney's head and was safe at first. Kilhullen got scratch hit between first and second, but Greenhalge in attempting to make third on the play was thrown out. Woodward made a bad throw at Torphy's boundary and the runner was safe at first. Greenough sent a grounder through Chouinard and Kilhullen scored. Zieser closed the inning with a grounder to Chouinard.

One run, two hits, two errors.
Score: Lowell 2, New Haven 1.

Seventh Inning
Devine singled by third base and went to second on Woodward's sacrifice. Nutter made three healthy swings at the ball but failed to connect and was the second out. J. Shannon hit to Greenough and was third out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Stimpson opened the latter half of the seventh with a single over second base and went to second on Lord's sacrifice. Briggs struck out. Barrows singled to right and was safe, but Stimpson was nailed at the plate trying to score on the hit.

No runs, two hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 2, New Haven 1.

Eighth Inning

CRAWFORD AT FIRST BASE

JENNINGS WANTS "WHAT DO SAM" TO PLAY INITIAL SACK—YET ERAN UNWILLING

Jennings has been unjustly charged with keeping Sam Crawford on the bench through spite. The absurdity of such a charge is apparent when it is considered that success means more to Jennings than it can possibly mean to any other person, writes Norman Beasley in the Detroit Journal. Jennings has been switching his team about—that's true—but he has made switches with the purpose of getting a winning combination. Surely that is a laudable desire.

Jennings has been unable to use Crawford through most of the season because the veteran has been suffering from an assortment of ailments. First Sam was threatened with pneumonia and when shaking off this discovered that the cold had settled in the muscles of his back. It was an impossible thought to consider Sam in the line-up when beset by these troubles.

In the next place, Jennings honestly believes Sam is at his trails and as an outfielder, Jennings, in believing this, shares an idea with a lot of baseball men. Sam is at the age where tendons tighten and he cannot cover ground as he once did. Slow runners take advantage of his throwing arm and Jennings, in playing Hellmann in right field, was casting about for a capable substitute.

Hughie does not believe Crawford's days are ended as a major leaguer. He wants Sam to play for the Red Sox but Crawford is unwilling because of a lack of practice.

SPORTS CLOSE CONVENTION

Haverhill Lodge Wins Prize Drill at New England Moose Gathering at Newport

NEWPORT, June 22.—Haverhill lodge of Loyal Order of Moose won the silver cup given by Gov. R. Livingston Beekman for the prize drill yesterday afternoon, which with sports closed the New England convention. Woonsocket lodge was second and Whip City lodge of Westfield, Mass., was third.

Of the prizes in the big parade yesterday morning and afternoon, Cranston lodge took three—for the best opening lodge, for having the largest number of members and for having the tallest moose in line.

Westfield lodge took the prize for the lodge coming the longest distance, Warwick for having the heaviest, Pawtucket for the shortest and Woonsocket for the lightest moose in line.

GOOD FOR 5 YEARS YET

EDDIE PLANK BELIEVES HE WILL BE PITCHING WHEN 45 YEARS OLD

Eddie Plank refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't amount to much this season, and confounds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching in the majors until he is 45 years old. According to all that dope, the hero of today's game will stick around another five years. In a garrulous moment the other day he consented to talk about himself. Here is what he had to say:

"I've never had a sore arm, and when

I quit the game it will be because I'm tired of it. I'm 40 now, but I'm going to stick in the big leagues for five more years. At 45, then, I think I'll be prepared to stay at home. Pitching is a job. It must be studied by the pitcher. He must study the other fellow, the batter, and then give him what he knows he cannot hit.

"That's the way I have pitched for 15 years. The fellow with the fast ball will last longer than the one with the curve. I'll pitch five fast ones to a slow curve or slow ball. But the winning pitcher must have the combination. He must mix 'em to the batter. Control is the biggest point. If you can put it where you want, then you'll win more games than you lose.

"I believe control just was natural with me. If you keep the ball away from the 'groove' of the sluggers you'll win. Benny Kauff got one real hit off me last season. I was a drive over the right field fence in St. Louis. He had me three and two and my foot slipped just as I shot the ball. It went outside and he met it.

"You can't fool Ty Cobb. He'll hit anything. Against Ty I just try to get him off his stride and trust to luck of my infielders. Against sluggers like Crawford, Speaker and Jackson, they are easier to feel than Ty, because they swing a heavy bat and hold it on the handle. Ty uses a light one, and he swings it like a toothpick.

"I never try for a strike-out record. You want to know if you attempt to strike out a fellow who comes up there, I know that I have eight other fellows on the field with me. In spring training I take my time. Never a curve until after the first week, and then I start my speed gradually. I believe this season has kept my arm in shape for 15 years."

PLAY BALL!

(Anonymous—although efforts were made to learn author's name). This world is a diamond, with the bases laid. And on it, Life's great game of ball is played.

The teams are Human Beings versus Fate.

And Time's the umpire, watching by the plate.

We're a fine bat. Our purpose o'er to wield Ambition's club and try to score.

To solve the curves the pitcher or throws,

And jam the sphere where not a fielder's foot seem to bat with skill immense.

Knocking long homers o'er the deep dead-end.

Others' bent infield hits, but wildly rare.

And beat the ball down to the primal base.

Still others, though they strive their best, no doubt.

Fan wildly at the air, and then strike.

Then seek the bench, downcast, with visage drawn.

Crestfallen, shamed, blue, ambled to the corner.

Or rag the umpire, growling like a bear.

"You robber! That decision wasn't fair!"

That's not the game! Be not a grouch or quitter!

What's your game? You're not a straight 300 hitter.

You've got another chance. Stand to the plate.

Grab that home run bat, get braced and wait for a good one—let the other tip—

And when it comes—Now! Lam it hard; and zip!

It's got to go. And so must you, old man.

Hike the base. Keep going—yes, you can!

Stal second! Good! Now, easy—not too gay.

There's a lead! A hit! Now you're away!

Keep on! Don't stop! Don't lose that dandy stride!

You've got to beat the throw in. Slide, now! Slide!

Hurray! You did it! Score! Of course you scored!

See—there's your tally marked up on the board.

And now you'll win the game—no matter what it is.

You just can't lose, old man, if you'll play ball.

FOSTER A HERO

Red Sox Pitcher Blanks
Yankees Without Even
a Hit—Score 2 to 0

George Foster, Little Giant of the Red Sox, burst his way into baseball's big book of fame yesterday by pitching a no-hit, no-run, 2 to 0 game against the New York Yankees at Fenway Park.

George is the same barrel-chested little man who won two games for the Sox in last October's last series. In fact, he it was who pitched the Sox to victory in the game which won the world championship for the Carrigans.

Only three times yesterday did Yankees reach first base, all three on bases on balls. A sacrifice bunt sent one of these three to second, but that was the deal-time. The champs accounted Foster perfect support, which at times became spectacular.

It was the first no-hit, no-run game in the American league since May 31, 1914, when the Boston Red Sox humiliated the Cleveland Indians. Since Joe Wood doubly doubted the St. Louis Browns in July, 1911, has a Red Sox pitcher swung the Biggest Broom.

But yesterday's no-hit, no-run game was the second by a Boston big leaguer in just a week. Last Friday Tom Hughes of the Braves pitched a 2 to 0, no-hit, no-run game at Braves Field against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Bill Carrigan caught Foster, the first time Boss Bill has handled his delivery for many a day. Much of the credit of the pitcher's great work goes to the manager, whose knowledge of batters' weaknesses is unexcelled.

There is no cloud of doubt over the no-hit, no-run performance. There was never any question of judgment for the scores to come. Neither team made an error. It was as near a technically perfect game as Boston fandom has ever seen since 1904, when Cy Young pitched a no-hit, no-run, no-reach game against Ruhe Waddell and the Athletics on the old Huntington.

Four balls were hit hard by the Yankees throughout the game, and only four. That shows the extent of Foster's mastery. In the second Harry Hooper made one of his sensational catches in deep right field at the expense of Home Run Baker.

By a lift which would have been a home run on the New York Polo grounds and many another park with a shorter right field barrier.

CLEAN-UP FOR HARVARD

CRIMSON CLINCHES SERIES BY DEFEATING YALE 4 TO 1 YESTERDAY—CROWD OF 15,000

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—By defeating Yale, 4 to 1 yesterday, Harvard clinched the three game series with that university, having won the first game at New Haven yesterday, 5 to 2.

A crowd estimated at 15,000 saw the contest, which had the usual accompanying game side features, including a parade of the various classes in uniform, the singing of class songs, and a peanut battle between classes in the grand stand.

Yale got the bases full in the fifth and Early's long fly gave Shepley an opportunity to score. It looked as if the Blue would pile up several

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

The next home game is a week from tomorrow with Hartford.

Lowell showed a little glimmer at the proper time yesterday and clinched the game.

For a time it looked as though Mitty Zieser was going wild but he regained control and did well.

Greenough is playing a good game at second base. He made one fine stop of a hard hit grounder that looked like a hit and got his men at first.

Greenough, the new first baseman, is a fifty fender and displays considerable pop. In three games he has made 29 putouts and six assists without an error. While he has yet to get his first hit, Greenough has reached first seven times in the three games.

Rube Bressler, a former Athletic pitcher, played a fine game in left field. Besides making a splendid catch of a hard hit ball from Kihlstedt's club, he held a couple of hits that were valuable doubles to plain singles. Rube is a valuable member of the New Haven team.

Danny Murphy, who played second base when the New Haven boys were here earlier in the season, was in uniform, but did not move from the bench during the game. Occasionally Danny scolded his players a little but he seemed particularly calm after having watched Burkett, Pieper and Hamilton perform.

Umpire Stafford did not make a very good showing in the three games he officiated at this week. His decisions on balls and strikes were often off and he did not seem to watch the bases any too closely.

Webb Crowther, acting manager of Hartford, is a native of that city and played with the Senators in the Eastern association in 1911. He coached the Vermont university team in 1914 and was manager of Bellows Falls in the Twin State league for two seasons.

"Scissors" Shears, the former Lawrence pitcher, is out of a job. He is staying in the down-river city and occasionally pitching out at Riverdale park. Shears will pitch Saturday games if he doesn't catch on anywhere soon.

The protest filed by Manager Pieper of the game played in Lawrence on account of the "hidden ball" has been thrown out. There was nothing else for the league officials to do as Umpire Ennis declared the game was in progress.

Alex Pearson, veteran pitcher of the Lawrence staff, is not to be let go as Burke thinks Aleck has outlived his usefulness. Jesse says if he cannot trade Aleck, he will release him outright.

The Pittsburgh Sentinel says: "It has been suggested that Lowell or one of the other clubs that is in the championship race may come to Pittsburgh and play out the schedule for the remainder of the year with local fans standing back of the venture to make good certain losses if the game isn't self-supporting. That plan has been suggested several times and local men with money may have a chance to do something along those lines if Lowell, Lawrence or other clubs don't get relief soon."

President W. W. Sargent of the Pittsburgh & Leominster street railway stated this morning that he has not been reached in regard to the Lowell appeal and had not been considering any purchase while the league is in the present demoralized condition, due to bad weather, awkward schedule and too many teams. If the league were to be sold into two sections with Worcester and Pittsburgh in the old New England league division, something might be done to have a team here, but under present conditions very little attention is being paid to the Eastern league in this city.

HARVARD AND YALE RACES

OARSMEN REST TODAY—ANNUAL REGATTA WILL BE ROWED TOMORROW

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.—The training period for Yale and Harvard oarsmen who have been in their tales Ferry and Red Top quarters on the Thames river, respectively, since early in the month, ended today with a quiet one with the usual scrub races in the early evening. The annual regatta will be rowed tomorrow, and each race must be rowed, or should wind and water be contrary, abandoned as none can go over until Saturday. Some members of each squad are under orders to report to their military organizations for duty late Friday night.

Today's rest is welcome to the oarsmen who have had trying conditions for training with more than the usual share of rain, high winds and rough water and for the past two days there has been a worry over possible abandonment of the races because of the mobilization orders. The difficulty was overcome, however, and a conference last night rearranged the time for the several races, the changes being slight.

Confidence runs high in the rival quarters over prospects. Those who have watched the crews in practice and have noted their physical conditions hold to the opinion that all three races, especially the "varsity" eight in the late afternoon, will be stubbornly contested every inch of the way.

FALLS CHOSEN CAPTAIN
Roland B. Falls, star pitcher of the Lowell high school team, has been unanimously elected captain of the 1917 team at a meeting of the "17" members of the squad. Falls' pitching and heavy hitting features the work of this year's team.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

1231 DEGREES IN COURSE AND 12 HONORARY DEGREES CONFERRED TODAY

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—A departure from the custom of previous years marked the Harvard university commencement today when the exercises were held in the Harvard stadium instead of Sanders theatre. The new plan was conditional upon the weather, and undergraduates and alumni were joyful when they awoke to find the sun shining from a clear sky. The touch of color usually given to the sombre commencement procession by the brilliant dress uniforms of the National Lancers, Troop A, of the militia cavalry squadron was lacking today. The Lancers in accordance with tradition escorted the governor from the state house to Cambridge and return but they wore the olive drab service uniform. They were under to go to the militia camp at Framingham later in the day. During the day billets were cast by the alumni for five overzeers for a term of six years.

Twelve hundred and thirty-one degrees in course and twelve honorary degrees were conferred at the exercises in the stadium.

The honorary degrees were announced as follows:
Master of arts: Capt. Constant Cordier, U.S.A., retired for duty with the Harvard regiment; Arthur Woods, postmaster, commissioner of New York city; Ernest Henry Wilson, botanist, Boston; Harold Murdock, banker, Boston; Edward Sanford Martin, author, New York.

Doctor of divinity: George Hodges, dean of the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge; Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin college.

Doctor of laws: Archibald Cary Coolidge, professor of history at Harvard; Francis Joseph Swazey, justice of the supreme court of New Jersey.

Doctor of letters: Frank William Taussig, professor of economics at Harvard.

Doctor of science: Richard Pearson Strong, biologist, Boston.

Doctor of arts: John Singer Sargent, artist, London.

The degree of Bachelor of arts was awarded to 493 graduates and that of master of arts to 129. Other degrees included: Bachelor of science, in various departments, 180; master of sciences, 12; doctor of philosophy, 52; and master of business administration, 31.

The graduates of the Law school numbered 137, of the Medical school, 26, and of the Dental school, 1. The rest of the list included graduates in various fields of science, architecture, engineering, forestry, public health, justice and theology.

LOCAL RED CROSS

Call for Aid From Washington—Lowell Will Help

Branches of the American Red Cross in all parts of the country which have been doing a great work in aiding the hellegrates of the old world are now confronted with the need for their efforts in Mexico.

Miss Ruth Burke, secretary of the Lowell branch, received the following telegram this morning from the national headquarters at Washington: "Red Cross making plans for two lines of work connected with sending of national guard to Mexico. First, by collecting, forwarding and distributing supplies for troops in camp; second, by giving aid to dependent families of guardsmen. Details being worked out in full—instructions later."

Officers of the local branch of the Red Cross say they need money and volunteers in order that work for America may be commenced. The Lowell branch, receiving the immediate future and the work will be on a much larger scale than hitherto. Money and supplies are needed for the starting of activities, but even more necessary is a large body of volunteer workers to make garments, bandages, clothing and hospital supplies of all sorts for the Red Cross volunteers who will be sent to the secretaries, Miss Julia T. Pevey, 68 Dover street, and any person desiring information connected with the local branch may consult the secretary.

Without doubt Lowell will respond nobly to the call for Red Cross volunteers so that our own soldiers may be cared for adequately in case of war.

FOOD QUESTION TO DECIDE WAR

STOCKHOLM, June 21, via London, June 22.—The Swedish Trade Journal, called Affarsidaren, representing the best business interest in Sweden, today prints a remarkable editorial commenting on the war, in which it says it is time for the Swedes to realize that the outcome cannot be favorable to the central powers. The food question, says the newspaper, will decide the war.

Swedish business interests are generally supposed to be friendly to Germany, and this article in the representative of the trade journal is regarded here with much interest.

In "Destiny's Toy," one of the five act attractions at the Merrimack Square theatre today, Friday and Saturday, with the charming Louise Hull in the role of little Ann. This child does not lose her life in the terrible wreck but is washed ashore and is cared for by one of the kindly fishermen until he dies. To leave the place she boards a freight car and is arrested. Later she is taken in by a gang of crooks and after a series of thrilling adventures with them she is reunited to her father who for years has mourned for her as lost. The play ends with the very tender scene of reunion between father and child. Everyone who appreciates only the best in motion pictures will want to see this play of sacrifice and devotion at the Merrimack Square theatre either today, Friday or Saturday.

Five big acts of extraordinary action are shown in "The Hand of Peril" at the Merrimack Square theatre program for the remainder of this week in addition to the feature briefly mentioned above. The daring screen star, House Peters, whose action adventure at the theatre have stirred the patrons, will appear in the leading role of this strongly acted photo-play which deals with the ever interesting, underworld, and a gang of desperate counterfeiters. Mr. Peters role is that of a secret agent of the government who sets out on the dangerous mission of apprehending these lawbreakers and how well he succeeds in landing his quarry is the theme of this gripping photoplay. A distinct novelty for the patrons of this theatre will be shown during the last day of each week at the Merrimack Square theatre. It consists of a series of pictures that are a great deal of training and care was required to develop the great degree of historic art which they show in their interpretations. You won't call any of them second Mary Pickfords or Dustin Farnums, but you'll laugh heartily over their capers, capotone the Great Sally Hays. This child does the first of these which will be seen during the remainder of this week in connection with many other pictures at the popular Merrimack Square theatre.

JITNEY DRIVER IS FINED

He Drove Auto Through Funeral Procession—Two Men Held for Rockwell Inquest.

Charles Meek was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with disturbing a funeral procession. Through his counsel, Bennett Silverblatt, a plea of guilty was entered. Numerous complaints of operators of jitneys breaking through funeral processions have been made to the police and Supt. Welch is determined that a stop must be put to this practice. Last Thursday while a funeral procession was passing through Gorham street it is alleged that Meek deliberately drove his machine between a license, was continued until Saturday.

Court Was Lenient

The fact that Louis Wentworth is an elderly man, he being 63 years of age, saved him from receiving a severe sentence this morning from Judge Enright. Wentworth has been before the court on many occasions for larceny and a few months ago finished up a ten months' term for larceny. Yesterday he entered the premises of Fred C. King and purloined a bit stock, wrench and chisel. The man was seen walking away from the place and when word was telephoned to the police station Lieut. Martin Maher was assigned to the case and a description of the man resulted in Wentworth being brought into custody. When arraigned in court this morning he admitted his guilt but said he had not been drinking. Despite the fact that the man has a long record, owing to his advanced age Judge Enright after finding him guilty sentenced him to one month in jail.

Companions Are Held

Timothy J. Murphy and Eugene Hirsch, both of Manchester, who were with Edwin E. Rockwell when he attempted to board a freight train near the Middlesex street station yesterday morning and was run over and sustained injuries which resulted in his death at St. John's hospital yesterday afternoon, were charged with drunkenness, but inasmuch as both men may be needed at the inquest which is to be held, each was held under $200 bonds for his appearance on July 1.

Fell Down Stairs

James Brennan while under the influence of liquor last night wandered into a house in William street. He started to climb a flight of stairs leading to the second floor but before he reached the top he lost his balance and fell to the bottom of the stairs, where he was later found by Patrolman P. B. Clark. The man was cut about the head and face and when brought to the police station was treated by Dr. M. A. Tighe. Owing to the condition the case was continued until Saturday.

Assault and Battery

William J. Gleason entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Henry Bechard of Westford. According to the testimony offered, Bechard came to Lowell yesterday and spent the greater part of the morning in a saloon in Middlesex street where he met Gleason and they got into an argument and after Bechard had been ordered out of the place Gleason followed and assaulted him. Bechard admitted that he had been drinking heavily and failed to recognize the defendant. He remembered leaving the saloon but the next he knew was when he awoke at St. John's hospital and found that he was suffering from lacerations on the head.

A Middlesex street business man testified to seeing Gleason assault Bechard. The defendant, who is a baker by trade and has been working at that business in this city for the past year, said he had been drinking and when Bechard tried to "trim" his friend he struck him. The court advised Bechard to keep away from Lowell and finding Gleason guilty sentenced the latter to two months in jail.

The continued case of Albert and Abraham Ali, Mohamed Fadel, Kasen and Mohamed Harnouh, Mohamed Selman and Mohamed Harnouh, charged with assault and battery on Mohamed Omar and Hassan Ali, was resumed before Judge Enright in police court this morning at the conclusion of the regular session. At the noon hour the government's case had not been completed and it was continued until tomorrow.

FIRE ALARM BUT NO FIRE

ly vacated. There was very little commotion of any kind, as all promptly left their machines and fled quickly to the street.

Mr. Perkins had arranged for the fire drill a few weeks ago, but the bad weather caused a postponement; but this morning without uttering a word to any one, except the two matrons of the department and a couple of men who were to sound the alarm, he managed to have all employees make their exit in less than five minutes.

The bullet department, which is located on the first floor of the Andrews street building, was picked out for the first fire drill. The two matrons, Mesdames Margaret L. Carndy and E. M. E. Jones, had been selected to lead the march out into the yard on Lawrence street, and also to lead the employees on the street through Lawrence and Andrews and again into the yard re-entering the building in the rear.

Fire Bell Sounded

At 10.30 o'clock sharp the fire bell was sounded in the bullet department, the alarm being given in two different parts of the room. The sounding of the bell had an instantaneous effect upon the 225 men and 275 women employed in the department, for instantly the grinding of the machines in the room ceased and the exclamation "Fire! Fire!" was heard around the room. Some who became excited asked "Where is it?" "It is a bluff," while one was heard to say "Get into line." There was no panic although some of the women were excited. In a few moments they recovered their composure and all marched in an orderly manner but with quick step out of the building. The women did not take time to look back for their clothes or remove their aprons, for the "Safety First" order had been impressed upon them so that all they thought of was to leave the building, and they did so. Some of the men who were at work repairing machines did not even drop their tools and scores of them marched out of the building carrying with them either a hammer or a wrench.

The two matrons of the department were on the qui vive and the moment the alarm was sounded, they stationed themselves near the exit door and directed the women who were leaving their machines to follow. The women marched in twos and they were followed by men, who were going out the same formation. One section of the room was first emptied, closely followed by another section and this was kept up until all had gone. The employees re-entered the building by the rear entrance and exactly six minutes after the sounding of the alarm, the first machine was again in operation.

The fire drill was witnessed by many officials of the company, who expressed their satisfaction as to the way it was carried out. Mr. Perkins, in conversation with a Sun reporter after the drill, said this is the first of a series of fire drills to be held at the plant of the company. He said, occasionally, without the slightest warning, the fire alarm will be sounded and in cases where the alarm is given on up stories some of the employees will be required to get to the street via the fire escapes.

The fire alarms will soon be connected with the electrician's department and in this manner the fire drill alarms will be sounded from that department.

RAILWAY COMPANY
HAS UPPER HANDBoard of Trade Finds Fault With
Dutton Street Job—Special
Train for Framingham

The Lowell board of trade has taken up with Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, the matter of paving between street car rails, the very particular matter in question having to do with the work now in progress in Dutton street. The board of trade doesn't seem to approve of the blocks that are being used by the street railway company and suggests that Mr. Morse furnish the company with new blocks. The following letter, signed by the secretary of the board of trade, was received by Mr. Morse this morning:

Lowell, Mass., June 21, 1916.
Charles J. Morse, Commissioner of Streets and Highways, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:
We note that the Bay State Street Railway company is laying the paving blocks between its tracks on Dutton street, and is using the old blocks, laying them by placing them on a gravel foundation and grouting the blocks. About one-half of these blocks are being placed with the worn

Lt. Kittredge, Co. M., Busy Receiving Many Recruits—Co. G
Meets Tonight at Armory

Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge of Company M, Ninth Regiment, M.V.M., who was left behind to take care of the recruiting in this city, is still on the job and very active. To a Sun reporter this afternoon, he stated that 24 young men had filed their applications in the course of the forenoon. They will go through the physical examination late this afternoon.

Yesterday there were 50 applicants and of this number only 18 successfully passed the physical examination. Most of the new recruits are spending all their time at the armory, and last evening several of them slept there. The men are all anxious to go and so much so, that this morning Lieut. Kittredge sent a request to headquarters at South Framingham asking for an immediate call of the new recruits.

Lieut. Kittredge was informed that the full equipment for the recruits including uniforms and rifles had reached the headquarters of the Ninth regiment at South Framingham, and an effort is being made to have the recruits go on the 5:35 o'clock train this afternoon. Lieut. Kittredge, however, will not accompany the men, but will remain in this city to bring the company to its full military quota, 150 men.

DIED ON A TRAIN

man Wright of Billerica at Dover, N. H.

Word was received here this morning of the sudden death of Josiah Wright, chairman of the Billerica board of selectmen, which occurred in the parlor car of a Lowell bound train near Dover, N. H. Mr. Wright had been in Maine with a party of friends on a fishing trip for about two weeks and was returning to his home in Billerica this morning when the end came.

Mr. Wright, who was 73 years old, had been in poor health for some time but seemed to improve during his stay in Maine. Included in the party were his son-in-law, Walter R. Holden of Reading, and Roland Holden of Billerica. When the train reached North Berwick Mr. Wright was stricken and he was given attendance in the parlor car. He passed away shortly afterward, however, and when medical aid was secured from the Dover, N. H. station, he was dead. The train was detained at Dover for one hour while Medical Examiner E. L. Chapman was examining the body.

The news of Mr. Wright's death was a shock to his many friends. Though past the three score and ten mark, he was active in the affairs of the town of Billerica, where he served on the board of selectmen for many years. Up to the time of his death he was chairman of the board. He attended the meetings regularly and always took an important part in the annual town meetings. Mr. Wright had served in several minor offices in connection with the town's affairs. He was a contractor and building contractor and resided in Pond street, near Billerica Centre.

Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter R. Holden, and three sons, Chester and Charles of Billerica and Harry of Andover. He was for many years treasurer of Shawsham Lodge of Odd Fellows and was prominent in Masonic circles.

The body was taken to Boston on the train and then brought back to Billerica.

12 AMERICANS AND 14
MEXICANS WERE KILLEDPres. Wilson Determined That if War Comes Action of U.S. Will be Prompt and on a Scale of Considerable Magnitude—Mexican Report Says American Commander Responsible For Clash—U.S. Soldier Killed at Naco, Ariz., Today—Resolution Calling For Intervention Read in Senate—Message From Carranza

WASHINGTON, June 22.—No reason for a change in policy toward Mexico is seen by the Washington government in Mexican accounts of the clash at Carrizal yesterday between American and Carranza troops. Until a report comes from Gen. Pershing there will be no decision, but President Wilson is said to view the first as an incident for which subordinate commanders probably were responsible and not as an act likely to precipitate general hostilities.

An official communication from the Mexican foreign office, announcing the fight and the capture of 17 Americans and seeking an explanation of the presence of United States soldiers in that part of Mexico, far from a hot base was presented to Secretary Lansing today by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate. "It is said an interpreter employed as a guide by the American force declared that the American commander was responsible for the encounter."

From the tone as well as the contents of this communication, officials drew the impression that Carranza desired to disclaim responsibility for the affair and make it plain that no attempt has been made to carry out his threat to undertake expulsion of the American expedition by force of arms.

Further information regarding the activities for peace of foreign diplomats at Mexico City reached the state department during the day. From the same source it was learned that Carranza was exerting every effort to avoid a break with the United States and at the same time restrain beligerent demands of some of his own advisers.

War department officials believe that if 17 American soldiers actually are in the hands of the Mexicans they will be surrendered at the first opportunity. A large number of their immediate release would be one of the first steps taken by the United States government.

So far the government has no official information of its own regarding the Carrizal fight. As a courier with the news would have to ride some 65 miles to reach Gen. Pershing's headquarters the war department may not have a report before tomorrow.

Callers who saw the president today got the impression that he is determined that, despite all efforts to prevent it, war will be declared if the action of the United States would be prompt and on a scale of considerable magnitude. It would not be a war of conquest, but Mr. Wilson is said to be prepared, if necessary, to use the maximum available military strength of the nation for a short, decisive campaign to re-establish order and a stable government in Mexico, as well as to permanently insure protection of the American border from outlaw forays.

PERSHING HAS NO REPORT OF THE CARRIZAL BATTLE
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Pershing reported to Gen. Funston today that he had not yet received a report on the fight at Carrizal, but added that on information sent to him he had sent out two squadrons of the Eleventh Cavalry with instructions to get into touch with the troops released. That was engaged yesterday by the Mexican forces.

Capt. Boyd in Command
Gen. Funston made it plain that Gen. Pershing's report had altered the general situation and that no special orders will be issued until Pershing has rendered a report in detail of the Carrizal fight and incidents that led to it. Gen. Pershing said that all his men had positive orders not to do anything calculated to precipitate a fight with troops of the de facto government.

Although unstated in Pershing's report, officers at department headquarters drew the inference that Capt. Chas. T. Boyd was in command of Troop H, the troop believed to have been the one engaged at Carrizal.

MEXICAN REPORTS SAY
12 AMERICANS KILLED
EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The Americans lost 12 dead, including their commander and 17 prisoners, while 14 Mexicans were killed and 30 wounded in the battle of Carrizal, according to the official announcement today of the Mexican consulate.

The Mexicans claimed they captured 20 horses and 50 rifles at Carrizal.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING
INTERVENTION READ
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Discussion of the Mexican situation was precipitated in the senate today by Senator Works of California, who called up his resolution to authorize intervention, if it read and gave notice that unless the foreign relations committee acted soon he would move to take the matter out of its hands.

The California senator said he did not want to bring on debate at this time, but that action should not be further delayed.

"I have been content up to this time to let the resolution remain in the hands of the foreign relations committee," he said, "but I feel that the time has come when this matter should not be left exclusively in the hands of the executive branch of the government. Some action, in my opinion, must now be taken by congress. I think it exceedingly important if we are forced to enter Mexico, that we should do it with a clear declaration by congress as to our purposes and intentions, so that not only our own people but the people of Mexico and all other nations may know the objects of the United States in taking this important step."

Chairman Stone replied that his committee had taken no action and that he was not prepared to say what it would do.

U. S. SOLDIER KILLED
AND THREE WOUNDED AT NACO
NACO, Ariz., June 22.—One American soldier was killed and three others injured here early today when William Humphrey, a half-breed Mexican employed as a guard at the water works, opened fire upon members of Company E, 14th U. S. infantry, as the guard was being changed.

The sergeant in charge of the guard was one of the three injured. He was shot in the back. Another soldier was shot through the neck and the third wounded in the hip. Humphrey was taken into custody.

A large number of Mexican refugees were crossing the line into Mexico today from the Bisbee and Lowell districts.

OFFICIAL WORD FROM MEXICO ON CLASH
WASHINGTON, June 22.—An official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing the clash between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal and saving the de facto government found it difficult to understand why the Americans should have been so far away from their base, was delivered to Secretary Lansing today by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate.

The communication telegraphed by Gen. Aguilar, Carranza's foreign minister, follows:

"Please bring to the attention of the department of state, that an engagement occurred today, (twenty-first) at Carrizal near Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua, between American forces numbering about 200 men, with a force of our government, during which engagement Gen. Felix Gomez and several of our troops were killed. There were several casualties among American troops; 17 taken prisoners."

"According to the statement made by the interpreter who was acting as guide for the American forces, the command of the latter is responsible for the encounter."

"Please make proper representations to the department and say to the secretary of state that this government finds it difficult to understand why the American troops that took part in the engagement should have been at Carrizal, a point on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, some distance from Ciudad Juarez and rather far from the point which is alleged to be the base of the rest of the American troops which entered Mexico by Columbus. Further details will follow."

WIRES HOT WITH INQUIRIES
ON MILITIA MOBILIZATION
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Baker conferred with President Wilson on the basis of reports of the clash yesterday given out by Mexican commanders at the border and transmitted to the state department. Later Secretary Lansing was closeted with the war secretary and afterward Mr. Baker hastened to the capital for conferences with the congressional military committee chairman.

No explanation for these conferences were given. It was learned, however, that telegraph wires were hot with inquiries sent to various governors seeking reports of the number of National Guard regiments mobilized and available for immediate service.

Officials said President Wilson would await a definite report from Gen. Pershing as to what has happened. It was not expected until late today as the town of Carrizal, where the fighting was said to have occurred, is sixty miles or more from Pershing's advance base at Naciquipa.

At the White House it was said the president's policy was unchanged for the present at least and that Mr. Wilson had no intention of going before congress immediately.

No clear view of what happened at Carrizal could be had from the Mexican statement transmitted from the border. The stories of the fight conflict, but seem to indicate that the Americans were trapped or ambushed and suffered their chief losses from machine gun fire.

It is presumed Gen. Pershing promptly dispatched reinforcements, including artillery, to aid the cavalry detachment if it was still engaged with the Mexicans or its lines of retreatment menaced.

Secretary Baker said no marching orders had gone to National Guard units. Nothing could be done, he declared, until a report from American sources had been received.

Other officials took the same view. They would not discuss the possibility of the haste of the incomplete and conflicting Mexican advice. There were no efforts, however, to conceal the anxiety with which the situation was viewed. There is enough similarity among the border reports to convince them that a serious clash occurred.

his own volition, having asked for a leave of absence covering that period.

In releasing Lord, President Roach said that he was forced to make this move, not only on account of Lord's poor showing as manager, but also owing to his weak playing at third base. He said that third base has been a point all season, and that the only way he could overcome this weakness was by letting Lord go. Mr. Roach does not yet know who he will get to play the hot corner, but he avers that he will grab the best man available.

About Barrows, he said that "Coke," relying that he is not playing his best game, came to him and asked that he be given a leave of absence without pay, so that he might rest up. The Lowell owner granted his request, and for the present, Briggs, Kane and Stimpson will make up the outfield of the team.

Mr. Roach is out to improve the team at any cost, and avers that he will get a good combination together before many moons. He asks the cooperation of the fans in his attempt to give the Spindle City a winning team, and his efforts in this direction are certainly backed by the support of all the Lowell fans and fans of the Lowell team.

Jake Boultie, former Lowell third baseman, will join the team at Bridgeport tomorrow, and will play third base for the present.

MOTHER'S PIE
Who has not heard of the "pie that mother made"? There is of course a touch of sentiment in this pie. But it owes its reputation to the good things that went into it. Our store aims to have a sort of "mother's pie" wholesomeness. It believes in the simple virtues of courtesy and fair play, of a dollar's worth for a dollar of good, new merchandise and a good, new merchandise and a good, new merchandise. Maybe that explains why (like mother's pie) we have so many good friends.

The advantage of buying a thoroughly dependable, well-known piano like the Behr Bros., at one dollar and fifty cents a week, cannot be retold too often. In this case you are given nearly twice the time in which to pay two hundred and fifty-seven dollars (our sale price) that you ordinarily have been given to pay three hundred and fifty dollars—A BIG DOUBLE ADVANTAGE.

When You Begin to PAY You Begin to OWN a Beautiful BEHR BROS. Piano

When you pay your very first Five Dollars, you begin right then and there to own one of these beautiful Behr Bros. pianos. You also begin right then and there to get the pleasure out of it.

When you pay your first week's payment of one dollar and fifty cents, you have taken the second step toward Ownership; the second week another step; the third week still another step, and so on, and so on, until the first thing you know you will be the proud owner of a fine three hundred and fifty to four hundred dollar Behr Bros. Piano, for which you will have paid BUT TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVEN DOLLARS—WITHOUT HAVING MISSED THE MONEY.

The value of these Pianos as an investment

By investing in one of these Behr Bros. pianos you are acquiring a valuable property. You are investing in something which will be WORTH something when you have paid for it. You are BUILDING UP AN ASSET which, aside from the entertainment and pleasure you get out of it, will be worth a whole lot to you in DOLLARS AND CENTS, five, ten or fifteen years from now.

Remember, you are buying a big three hundred and fifty to four hundred dollars' worth of piano value at a cost of ONLY TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVEN DOLLARS. Taking the regular run of wear and tear into account, one of these pianos will be worth MORE AFTER YOU HAVE IT FULLY PAID FOR THAN YOU NOW HAVE TO PAY FOR ONE, and at that time you will have had over three years' use of it.

And, in the same way, the LONGER you own it, the LESS it will have cost you per month for its use. Figure it any way you wish, it is hard to see how pianos of the exceptional value of the Behr Bros. will have cost you over a dollar a month for their use, it matters not how long you own one, whether it is ten years, fifteen years, or even twenty years.

Every feature of this unusual sale is carried out in offering Behr Bros. player-pianos, with the single exception that the terms on the player-piano are two dollars and twenty-five cents a week instead of—as on the piano—one dollar and fifty cents a week. Remember, 50 out of the 125 instruments in this sale are Behr Bros. player-pianos.

A column giving the whole proposition in brief paragraphs

First—You get a Behr Bros. piano which has been made and sold for 35 years at $350 to $400, for $257.

Second—Instead of paying $25 as a first payment and then $10, $12 or $15 month, as you will in the regular way, during this sale you pay but $5 as your first payment and then but $1.50 a week.

Third—You get the strongest guarantee ever put upon a piano; a joint guarantee signed by the manufacturers, and ourselves, giving you absolute protection for five years.

Fourth—You get the privilege of returning your piano at the end of a 30-days' trial and getting YOUR MONEY BACK.

Fifth—Within one year from the day your piano is delivered, you may exchange it, at full price, FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER, without as much as a penny's loss.

Sixth—You are given opportunity to secure others to co-operate in this plan. This still further reduces the cost of your instrument.

Seventh—During this sale, a piano stool to match the piano, and delivery within 50 miles are included without adding any extra expense to you.

BILLERICA HIGH SCHOOL

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF THE HOWE SCHOOL HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

A class of 17, the largest in the history of the school, was graduated at the commencement exercises of the Howe high school yesterday afternoon and last evening. The exercises, which consisted of the usual papers by the graduates besides the principal address, were keenly enjoyed by an audience that filled the hall to its capacity. The subjects of the class were exceedingly interesting and were presented in a very efficient manner. The decorations were elaborate, flowers of the season having been gathered and hung up by members of the class and others. The program opened with a review by Burdette Landdowne offered prayer. The program was as follows: Second

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic—Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute, so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

Buck of the school committee; selection, "Honor Bound."

The principal address was given by Dr. George L. Perrin, D.D., of Somerville, whose subject was "Our Relations." In a stirring address Rev. Mr. Perrin gave some sound advice to the graduates. He warned them of the danger of attempting to go through life independent and showed in many ways how dependent everyone is on the kindness of other people. The address was very interesting and was appreciated by all, especially the graduates.

Lucy M. King, Miss Bertha E. Dimock, Everett M. Mahoney, Mrs. Florence Ritchie, Ralph E. Manning, Thomas H. Bateson, Hilda Perry, William J. A. Lyons and Frederick T. Callaghan. The after-dinner remarks were interesting and were given closest attention by the large number present. Mr. Parker made a most enjoyable toastmaster, and the following responded to his call: John A. Richardson, T. Frank Lyons, Howard Sexton, Miss Angelina Weeks, Charles E. L. Eames, Herbert A. King, Marietta Kenner, Eugene C. Vining, Grace Knowles, Forrest P. Collier, Hon. Joseph Hibbard, Rev. HIGHLAND CLUB OUTING

JOLLY PARTY TO MARTIN LUTHER GROUNDS. TYNGSBORO—BASEBALL, BANQUET AND GOOD TIME

Approximately 150 members of the Highland club left the club home in Tyngsboro street in a score of automobiles about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon bound for the grounds of the Martin Luther club in Tyngsboro, where the annual outing was held. The clouds that hovered in the sky did not dull the spirits of the members to any extent and it was the unanimous decision to carry out the program as planned despite the offerings of the weather man. It was a jolly "bunch" that bowed over the road in the many machines bedecked in club banners and other decorations. Arriving at the grounds, superfluous wraps were discarded and the members started right in for an afternoon of real enjoyment. A baseball game between two picked nines which developed some sensational playing was staged and there were various other sporting numbers for both young and old.

At 3 o'clock, the party repaired to the club house and sat down to a sumptuous banquet served by the D. L. Page Co. Despite the fact that a buffet luncheon was served on the grounds all afternoon, the appetites of the members were tuned up to a high pitch and they did full justice to the feed.

Musical numbers, after-dinner speeches and other features were in order after the banquet and it is planned to make the return trip about 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The outing was in charge of the executive committee of the club comprised of the following: President, Albert G. McCurdy, John W. Anderson, Victor Carey, Walter H. Emmott, Dr. Herbert Davis, Fred Leary, Fred Campbell, Thomas Corcoran, George H. Spillane and Roy Lovejoy.

PROF. EDMUNDS' RECITAL

A real musical treat is promised at the First Trinitarian-Congregational church this evening when the pupils of Percy W. Edmunds will give a vocal recital. The violinist for the occasion will be Miss Kathleen Wright, home of the famous Gilbert & Sullivan operas and the company will, therefore, benefit by his long experience as actor, producer and musical director.

Mr. Edmunds will produce, by request, during the fall, Gilbert & Sullivan's popular opera, "The Pirates of Penzance." The cast and chorus will be selected entirely from Mr. Edmunds' present and former pupils. Mr. Edmunds was for many years a member of the Savoy Theatre Co., London, the home of the famous Gilbert & Sullivan operas and the company will, therefore, benefit by his long experience as actor, producer and musical director.

An inquest into the death of Malcolm Lovejoy will be held in the court of second sessions in the Market building Saturday morning.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER
PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Ida Riehl, 18 years of age, was acquitted yesterday of a charge of murdering her sweetheart, Edmund Hauptfuhrer, in May, 1915, when he spurned her entreaties to marry her. The jury returned a verdict after deliberating less than an hour. While the defense based its case on a plea of temporary insanity, it virtually involved the unwritten law. The trial began yesterday.

LICENSE BOARD MET
The license commission met in special session this morning and granted several minor licenses.

Walter A. Chase was granted a license to conduct a merry-go-round on the old fair grounds. He had made an application for another lot, but owing to objection the commissioners at the meeting held Tuesday night refused to grant the license.

A common victualer license was granted to Grant Genale at 557 Middlesex street and Albert Obrzut of 122 Warren street was granted a hawker and pedlar license.

BOSTON, June 22.—Just before leaving for Framingham yesterday, Col. Edward L. Logan, commanding the 9th infantry, explained his reasons for not permitting his men to wear green sprigs of eucalyptus, a form of laurel, that Mayor Curley had provided for them at the East Newton street armory. It is against the rules and besides the men of the ninth are not hyphenated Americans. The men appreciated Col. Logan's view of the matter.

BAY STATE IS LEADER

Massachusetts Leads in Proportion to Population—One Reason for Not Calling the Sixth

BOSTON, June 22.—Officers at the war department in Washington are well pleased with the Massachusetts response to the president's call for the mobilization of the militia. They say that the old Bay State is furnishing more troops in proportion to its population than any state in the Union.

This information was contained in a telegram Gov. McCall received yesterday from Congressman Rogers of Lowell. The message reads:

"Had conference this morning (Tuesday) with adjutant-general and the division of militia affairs with reference to calling out of the 6th regiment."

A division consists of nine regiments. New England is to supply a division as follows: Connecticut, two regiments; Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, one regiment each; and Massachusetts, the remaining four regiments.

The war department cannot use more than nine regiments, and takes the position that Massachusetts, which supplies almost as many regiments as the rest of New England put together, should have one regiment cut from its quota rather than from the quota of any of the neighboring states which supply one regiment or two at the most.

"Furthermore, the department states that Massachusetts is even, at present, supplying a larger quota in proportion to its population than any state in the Union. Under these circumstances the department does not feel warranted in increasing the Massachusetts infantry quota from four to five regiments."

"However, the department states, the selection of which units shall consist a quota, devolves on the state commander-in-chief, and it will have no objection to any readjustment so as to include the 6th regiment."

It is declared unlikely that the 6th will be included at this time, however, because of the preparations of the other regiments, one of which would have to be "pulled back" to make it a place.

Banks Offer Funds to State

The National Shawmut bank yesterday sent word to State Treasurer Burrill saying that he could draw on the bank for any amount up to $1,000,000 to meet emergency payments, and the Charlestown Trust company placed at the disposal of the state its full loaning capacity of $40,000.

F. A. Noyes of Boston sent a letter to Adj. Gen. Cole offering the use of his motion picture theatre for the work of recruiting. The adjutant-general accepted the offer tentatively and instructed some motion picture men in the militia to see what arrangements could be made.

Miss Grace Hestley, acting superintendent of the Framingham hospital has placed that institution and its equipment at the disposal of the militia during the men's stay in Framingham.

To Recruit to War Strength

Some confusion has been caused by reports that the Bay State militia could not be moved out of the state until its units are recruited to war strength. The adjutant-general in discussing the latest developments of the situation yesterday said:

"That is not correct. Each of the four infantry regiments is above its minimum strength of 918 men, and 52 officers; the signal corps and field hospital and ambulance companies are up to war strength. Battery B of the field artillery is above war strength. The other batteries and the cavalry are nearly up to war strength."

"The infantry regiments, being above minimum strength, can be ordered out of the state at any time now. But the mobilization orders from the war department directed that they be recruited to war strength, and I have assumed that they would not be moved until this was done. The war strength of an infantry regiment is 1336 men and 52 officers."

"I do not know when the militia will be mustered into the United States army. The men, in mustering in, will take the oath to serve the president and the United States. They will serve for the balance of their enlistment in the militia. A militia enlistment is for three years."

"Recruiting is being carried well. We have now about 7000 men on the rolls, including the militiamen and recruits. About 2000 of these are recruits. From what I can learn our militia was mobilized about as soon as that of any of the larger states and will be at the camp ground as soon."

TO LIST ALL APPLICANTS

MAJ. GEN. WOOD SWAMPED WITH INQUIRIES AS TO PROBABILITY OF WAR WITH MEXICO

NEW YORK, June 22.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the East, announced at his headquarters at Governor's Island yesterday that he was being overwhelmed with inquiries regarding the possibility of war with Mexico and whether there would be room in the regular army for more men in the event of hostilities. His uniform answer, he said, was that it was intended to have all applicants classified and listed so that they would be ready to respond to the call for service if needed.

"Plattsburg and Fort Oglethorpe men," he said, "who are now in training, are keen for service in Mexico, and there is a large contingent of the younger men who are not tied up by business who have expressed themselves as anxious to go in any case if federal volunteers are called."

"Plattsburg and Oglethorpe will be animated by the spirit of a preparatory camp for national service this summer, and it is expected that all men will be classified and listed so that they can be made immediately available, if wanted by the government. The training will be of the most practical character, with a view to fitting the men to respond immediately to any call that may be made. The spirit of the camps is one of keenest patriotism, which the country may be proud."

GARDNER ON ARMY BILL

SAYS AT RATE OF $3,000,000 APPROPRIATION PROVIDED IN MEASURE 40 YEARS WILL BE REQUIRED

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Estimates that, at the rate of the $3,000,000 appropriation provided in the army bill, 40 years will be required to accumulate cannon necessary to equip the National Guard, and 51 years will elapse in accumulating sufficient artillery ammunition, for which another $3,000,000 is provided, were made yesterday by Representative Gardner in a speech in the house on the army bill.

Beyond this, Mr. Gardner read correspondence between himself and Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, in which his estimates were virtually corroborated.

Mr. Gardner said that Gen. Crozier told the committee on military affairs that $65,000,000 for field guns must be appropriated in the next four years if the new National Guard is to be equipped according to the estimates laid down in 1911 by the so-called Greble board of officers.

Gen. Crozier pointed out, however, that twice this amount of money would be necessary if the later recommendations of the treat board are followed.

Announcement of his candidacy for re-election as representative from the 14th district of Massachusetts was made yesterday by Richard Olney, 2d, who said he would be a contestant in the democratic primaries in September.

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS

IT WILL BE HERE TOMORROW WITH GREAT STREET PAGEANT AT 10 O'CLOCK

The Barnum & Bailey circus will be here tomorrow, eager to prove that it proudly remains the world's mightiest amusement institution. Four long railroad trains will bring the picturesque invaders; through densely crowded streets the morning parade will measure its gay and glamorous passage; performances will be given afternoon and night; midnight will witness the breaking of the great tented encampment and the departure to people and scenes anew.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" comes from Elitchburg, where its exhibitions are being given today to delighted audiences, which test the capacity of the biggest "white top" the enterprise has ever carried. In popularity and in patronage the Barnum & Bailey circus is this season making the best record of its long and illustrious history.

First to come to a pulling halt early tomorrow morning will be the "flying squadron," as the first section of the circus' railroad equipment is known.

The miniature city of 27 separate tents will be installed, if nothing untoward intervenes, advance agents estimated today, long before noon, and the street parade is scheduled to move from the show grounds at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and Barnum & Bailey promise a stupendous, grand and glorious inaugural of the biennial festival they provide here. The arching, up-curved front of a splendid red and gold band chariot, effulgent a far-faring, crashing cataract of brazen melody and drawn by many broad, pomponed white horses, will first disclose itself. Stretching for blocks behind, a stupendous, colorful mass, crowned with dancing, distant banners, flags and suggesting in glintings of gold and splashing of color an on-coming argosy of glitter and gorgeousness.

But it is under the "big top" that this thousand-sided miracle of the amusement world edgewise to live up to its reputation and beyond. This circus goes on improving each year and burning up all the laudatory adjectives until all the superlatives are exhausted, and it becomes a difficult matter to write of the entertainment flying the Barnum & Bailey pennant.

The performance starts with a professional pageant descriptive of Persia and the Thousand and One Nights, after which come the purely circus features in greater variety than ever before, by far the greater number of them being "firsts" in the history of the show. Among the newcomers are the Ching Ling Lin, Su Fong Lin and Tai Lin troupes of Chinese acrobats and wonder-workers. As a conclusion to their performances two of them slide from the very top of the tent along a slender strand of steel wire attached to their queues. There are other novel feats too numerous to mention.

Regiments of gymnasts, tumblers, equilibrists, aerialists and acrobats experts will fill on and fill off. The Davy Crockett, Bertha and Derrick, the Harford family and Charles Sieglar are acknowledged champion riders. Lupeta Perea will thrill by her exploits in mid-air, as will the Sieglar-Silbon's and the Neapolitans.

New feature acts to be seen for the first time here include: F. H. Hengberg's bears; Marcelle's trained parrots, cockatoos and ravens; Lady Alice's pets, including performing rats and pigeons; Henri Filis and his "Horse Balletina," introducing dancing horses and dancing girls; Swain's trained rats, which bark and dogs, in which felines and rodents perform astounding feats; Moran and Wiser, who perform with hats the tricks usually performed by boomerang experts; the Belfords; the Picchiano troupe; the Daving Sisters; the Paldrens; Well's equestrian fox terriers and monkeys; and many others.

The performances here will be in every essential the same as given in Madison Square garden, New York city, where the entertainment was pronounced as altogether the biggest and best circus ever put together.

Performances are scheduled for 2 and 8 o'clock p. m. doors opening at 1 and 7 o'clock. Tickets may be bought at Liggett's drug store at the same prices charged upon the show grounds.

SIX CENT FARES

Engineer Adams for the Remonstrants Appears at Hearing

BOSTON, June 22.—Alton D. Adams, acting as engineer for remonstrants to the Bay State line's proposed increases of fare, was the sole witness yesterday at the hearing at the state house before the public service commission. He expressed belief that the investors should be given a return on every cent they had put into the road, but he did not believe that they should get a return on the whole $12,000,000 the road cost, according to the figures given in the report of Robert M. Feustel, the Bay State's engineer.

He explained this by saying that the investment out of income should be deducted from the actual money cost of the property, and showed by his method of figuring that that would leave approximately $29,000,000 supplied by the stockholders and creditors. This amount was entitled to a return. The rest, which was represented in depreciation or investment from income, should not be included in any ruling having to do with rates.

Commissioner Eastman called attention to the item of abandoned property, which Mr. Adams had said was necessarily omitted in his computations because he couldn't get the figures.

Arthur G. Wadleigh, attorney for the remonstrants, explained that he had endeavored to have that information put in the record by Mr. Feustel, who promised at first that he would get it, but who later informed him that he could not, because of the great amount of work it would involve.

Mr. Eastman believed the information was essential to the computations, but Mr. Adams would only admit that if the item were supplied and the cost added to the $29,000,000 of investment cost, it would undoubtedly affect the 6.71 per cent, which he found as the return actually earned on the Bay State investment in 1914. This, he said, would be reduced.

After further questions by Chairman MacLeod and Mr. Eastman on this point and as to whether any unit prices in contracts and vouchers of the company named in the Feustel report were acceptable to the remonstrants, Mr. Adams was given until Wednesday next to prepare additional tables. Today Atty. Wadleigh will cross-examine Inspectors Bishop and Hayes of the state commission relative to their reports of the Bay State case.

LEAVE WITH PAY 45 DAYS

Best That Can Be Figured Out for Government Employees Who Enlist for Border Service

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Government employees who enlist with the National Guard for Mexican border service will receive pay for at least 45 days of their absence, according to an opinion by the attorney general yesterday. Section 59 of the new army bill provides for a 15-day leave for military training. In addition to this, 30 days annual leave with pay is provided for government employees. The only way they can receive their pay during their full enlistment is by act of congress.

JITNEY WAS OVERLOADED

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 22.—Determined to put a stop to the practice of overloading and overloading jitney buses running between Lowell and Lawrence, the highway commissioners today declined to return the operator's license of Roy L. Gilnes of 12 Butler street, Lawrence; the license was suspended several days ago, upon receipt by the commission of information which led them to believe that Gilnes was not a proper person to operate automobiles. Today he asked that it be returned, stating that he has two children, and is dependent upon his jitney earnings for their support. The commission decided, however, that a little longer suspension is required to impress upon Gilnes the fact that he must be more careful in the use of his jitney.

The complaint made to the commission was that on May 21 Gilnes made one trip between Lowell and Lawrence with 24 passengers, in a seven-passenger Peerless car, and that heavy loads and excessive speed are quite common with him. An investigator was sent out to learn what he could of Gilnes' practices, and made a trip between Lowell and Lawrence with him. On that trip there were eight persons in the car, and the ten miles between terminals were covered in 19 minutes, although two miles of the distance is through the thickly settled parts of the two cities. On that trip, Gilnes told the investigator of the big business he did May 21, and especially about the 24-passenger trip, adding that he usually made about 25 miles an hour. In addition he learned that the police estimate of Gilnes is that he is a "wild and irresponsible driver."

Today Gilnes admitted all the charges as to overloading, but said his usual running time between Lowell and Lawrence is from 25 to 30 minutes. He said he has been operating automobiles for eight years, has never had an accident, never been fined in court, and has never drunk a drop.

In view of his previous good record, the commissioners decided to return his license after a short time, but felt that some further suspension was required in order to make him understand that he must repeat his offense of having in his car more passengers than it can safely carry.

The body is that of a man of about 10 years old, dark complexion, wearing dark clothes; five feet, three inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds. The body had been in the water for more than a week. A ring with the initials "M. P." was found in his possession.

THE SPELLBINDER

While the scenes enacted at the depot in connection with the departure of the boys of company M, Ninth regiment were mild in comparison with the possibilities of war, they were sufficient to make one reflect that President Wilson did something commendable in holding off the call to arms as long as possible. War viewed at a distance has something entirely different from war or even the preparation therefor, viewed at close range. The soldiers themselves were in exuberant spirits over the sudden turn of affairs but those left at home were sad at heart.

The occasion of the departure of the Ninth demonstrated the fact that such a crisis makes all men akin whatever their politics may be and those who have condemned President Wilson's policy vis-à-vis those who have endorsed it, in cheering the soldiers and wishing them God-speed. Mayor O'Donnell, who was on hand to assist the boys on a send-off, was justly cheered by the soldiers as he alighted from their train while it was pulling out of the depot, and his first official act upon his arrival at city hall was to make provision for a relief fund for the care of those dependent upon the soldiers during the absence of the latter from home. The first to respond, even before the announcement of the establishment of the fund was made public, was Bennett Silverblatt, the well known lawyer of The Sun building, a prominent representative of Lowell's Jewish community, which quite clearly indicates that all of Lowell's various nationalities and creeds are one, when a supreme emergency arises to test the patriotism of its citizens.

The Mobilization

The prompt manner in which the militia has been mobilized all over the country sets an example for the world. But then the world has twice before seen what the United States can do when war is declared. In 1861, when war was imminent between north and south, the European press, almost without exception, "saw the finish" of the republic, in the event of war. It asserted that "patriotism was unknown to Americans, and that a free government like ours, compelled to rely upon volunteer service, could not muster a large army of defenders. The proclamation of President Lincoln calling for 75,000 soldiers was received as the venturous act of despair and a quick dissolution of the Union was prophesied." And even in this country there were a few who entertained similarly unfriendly thoughts. But the attack on Fort Sumter occurred on April 12, and history tells us what happened afterward. The 75,000 were there, and more, too, and the Union survived. "Two things in the Civil war amazed the world; one the number and courage of our volunteers; the other the ability of the commanding officers. The prerequisites for successful warfare in other countries were large standing armies and years of careful training for officers and men. In this country only the call of the president was needed to raise up thousands of men most daring in deed and most skillful in leadership."

After the Civil war a noted French general, commenting upon the conduct of the American soldier, said: "War is a science of high degree; at the commencement of the contest the government of the United States had at its disposal only a handful of trained officers; the war, moreover, was to offer in its varied operations unusual difficulties; and yet the command throughout the vast army was admirable in skill of planning and execution.

The Spanish-American war witnessed another great outpouring of patriotic citizens, brave and gallant and skilled leaders; and once more they have been called out, and Mexico will be the victim, unless that government interprets the handwriting on the border and quits.

Eliminate the Poles

Now that it is assured that a new bridge is to be built at Pawtucket falls, isn't it an appropriate time to take up the matter of the multiplicity of telegraph and telephone poles that are at present stuck up in Pawtucket Square? There are some 14 of them, within very few feet of each other, and while they are not particularly ugly even in an environment of old frame buildings and a rusty iron bridge, they will be less slightly when some of these buildings have been removed, and a new and gracefully constructed bridge structure shall have been completed. It would be well to remove all of them and place the wires underground, at this time, but if this cannot be done, surely there does not seem to be any need for so many of them within such a limited area. Judging from the talk around city hall, now that the bridge promoters of Pawtucketville have been assured that the bridge itself is soon to be constructed, they will now occupy their spare time in agitating the removal of some, if not all, of the unsightly poles at Pawtucket square.

Street Railway Preparedness

The fact that the street railway company has sent snow plows into Pawtucketville, is not a reflection upon the municipal council, by intimating that it will not have the bridge completed before the snow flies, but is simply a matter of preparedness, should such a thing happen. Many disoriented patrons of the road undoubtedly entertain the wish that the company would exercise such commendable preparedness in the conduct of some of its other lines; preparedness to accommodate its growing business in certain sections. If the construction of the new bridge is prolonged beyond expectations it will be the weather conditions and those existing in the river or something else unforeseen, rather than any delinquency on the part of the municipal council which has tackled the proposition in business-like manner, after a year's fruitless discussion by the former government, and which is set upon carrying it through on schedule time.

Speaking of the street railway's preparedness the members of the Lowell Driving club think that the Bay State is not onto its job when it will not make preparations to carry the public to the Driving Park at Golden Cove, where the club intends to hold big meets, county fairs, etc. The Driving club would have been a much better place to hold the Buffalo Bill show and the circus, even, as some aver, under present street-railway conditions. The members would like better accommodations to the park but the street railway people, it is said, claim that it would cost $30,000 to lay double tracks out to Golden Cove, and offer no other solution of the matter. Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mildified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mildified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Chelmsford street to the park entrance might be laid at less expense, and perhaps this would get around the difficulty. The street cars at Monday night's event in the rear of the cemetery.

Water Department Parks

A visitor at city hall, yesterday, remarked that the parks of the water department, which for the past few years have been among the city's real beauty spots, are not looking as attractive to the eye this season, and attributed the fact to the rainy weather. That, perhaps, was in part responsible for their appearance, but Commissioner Putnam thus far has not had a sufficient income in his department to keep them as well as he would otherwise, and Mr. Harry Nichols, who for the past two years has been responsible for their artistic appearance, is at present employed at the filtration plant on account of the stringency of money in the department. The water department has quite a good sized park system, made up mostly of land which must be kept free from buildings on account of its proximity to the water service. At a comparatively small expenditure, under the skillful direction of Mr. Nichols, these former vacant lots have been transformed into floral and grassy bowers, which add much to the city's outdoor appearance.

AMENDMENT FOR INCREASE OF $2,000,000 IN ARMY BILL—HOUSE REFUSES $20 TO GUARDSMEN

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Republican members of the house, who a month ago amended the naval bill to provide for an increase of $2,000,000 in the aeroplane appropriation, carried an amendment through the committee of the whole yesterday for a similar increase in the army bill. The increase from $1,222,100 to $3,222,100 would provide for an additional 200 machines.

Minority Leader Mann, who offered the amendment, declared the aviation service was in a deplorable state and should be built up immediately. Only two demagogues, Representatives Hurlbut and Beaks of Michigan, voted for it.

The house adopted without opposition an amendment providing that civil employees of the government who are called into service with the National Guard shall be given their old positions when mustered out, but voted down a proposal to increase the pay of guardsmen from $15 to $20 a month during the active service.

FOUR DREADNAUGHTS SURE, TILLMAN BELIEVES—INCREASE OF 20,000 IN NAVY PERSONNEL

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A proposal for four battle cruisers and four dreadnaughts in this year's naval construction program was discussed yesterday by the senate sub-committee, before which the naval bill is pending. Chairman Tillman predicted, after the conference, that the eight capital ship plans would be approved. Senators Swanson and Lodge, the other members, said a substantial increase was certain over the house building program of five battle cruisers and no dreadnaughts.

"We are going to give the navy the entire increase in personnel that they ask for," said Senator Tillman. "I think the total enlisted strength they wanted is about 70,000 men, or an increase of 20,700 men."

RUSSIAN DRIVE HALTED

GERMANS MAKE STRONG ATTACK ON NORTHERN ARMIES—HOLD RETROGRAD'S FORCES

LONDON, June 22.—Fierce fighting, with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and the Germans in Volynia, along the Stokhod and Str rivers, and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynski. The official communications issued yesterday by the German government and Russian war offices all indicate that the Germans are making determined efforts to resume the initiative lost through the Russian Gen. Brusilov's drive and to create a diversion by a strong attack on Gen. Kropotkin's armies in the north, in an effort to prevent the Russians receiving reinforcements.

Although up to the present the Germans are making no striking advance they are clearly holding up their opponents. Most stubborn fighting, with fluctuating results, is proceeding around Gruziatya west of Koihi. The Germans also are again attacking further north in the Morgon district and the region of Riga.

Military experts say that it remains to be seen whether the Germans will be able to bring sufficient pressure to these sectors to relieve the hard pressed Austrians in Bukovina and

The Russians, who had crossed the Styra and reached the village of Griziatyn, west of Koihi, entered the town and captured 11 officers, 400 men and six machine guns.

In the fighting the town changed hands several times, but under a concentrated German artillery fire the Russians finally were driven back with the loss of 1000 men made prisoners.

Along the Stokhod, near the village of Dajniest, the Germans delivered a heavy attack, which resulted itself later into hand-to-hand fighting, in which the Russians, according to Petrograd, forced the Germans to flee. Near Kiscina another heavy onslaught was stopped by the Russians and the Germans put to flight. Near

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 22.—The Isonzo front is the subject of the National Geographic society's war geography bulletin, issued today from its Washington headquarters, which says:

"Contrary to popular belief, the Isonzo river, along which the Italians made their first attack against Austria and where their lines have held more firmly against the vigorous Teutonic offensive of the last ten days than on the Tyrolean front, is not the boundary line between the two countries, but lies wholly within Austrian territory, from two to twelve miles from the border. Its source is near the juncture of the Carnic and Julian Alps, on Mt. Terglen, the loftiest peak of the latter range, and it follows a tortuous channel for seventy-five miles, emptying into the Gulf of Trieste. So turbulent are the Isonzo's waters that the river is practically unnavigable, except for the few miles of its estuary, where its course is through a rapidly extending delta. On its way through the alluvial plain it is known as the Sodobba, whose mouth is less than 20 miles from the important Austrian port of Trieste, lying to the southeast."

"The Isonzo is the principal river of the country and crown-land of Gorz and Gradisca, which have an area about equal to that of Rhode Island. This principally and two other crown-lands, Istria and Trieste, constitute Austria's Kustenland (coast land)."

"Before the devastation wrought by the war the valley of the Isonzo was a highly productive region, agriculture and vine-growing being the chief occupations of that part of the population (mainly Italian) which was not engaged in silk-worm culture."

"The leading city of the Isonzo valley is Goritz (Goriz) with 30,000 inhabitants, known as the Nice of Austria, on account of its popularity as a fashionable resort. Its growth coincides with the decline of Aquileia, now an insignificant town of less than 5,000 people, situated to the south-west, six miles from the sea, but which was reckoned the ninth city of the Roman empire and a great seaport during the closing years of the fourth century."

"The fighting which is now occurring on the Isonzo recalls the great battle of the Isonzo (Isonzo) in the fifth century, where the Roman emperor Theodosius met signal defeat at the hands of Theodoric, the Ostrogoth. The vanquished leader was driven back to Ravenna, where, after a protracted siege of three years, he fell before the treacherous Ostrogoth who drove his enemy from shoulder to flank with a broadsword."

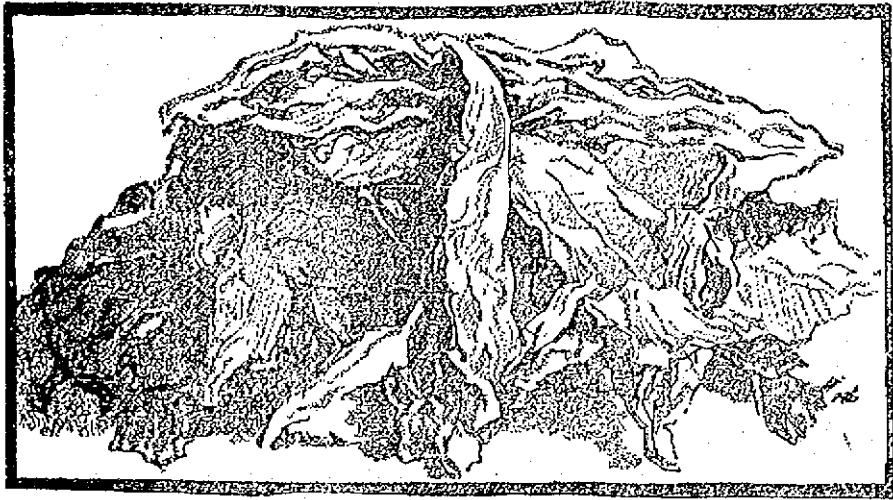

"One of the most interesting natural phenomena of the Isonzo district is the delta of the Timavus river, which empties into the Gulf of Trieste five miles from the mouth of the larger watercourse. The Timavus rushes from a mountain-side, full-formed, in three streams of sufficient volume to float small vessels at the very source. In Virgil's day, according to the description in the Aeneid, the Timavus rushed from the coasts in nine streams. The river is supposed to be a continuation of the equally unique Reka, whose waters disappear in the grottoes of Sankt Kanian, some twenty miles south of the mysterious Timavus."

"Bull" Durham is Pure all the Way from the Leaf to the Finished Flake

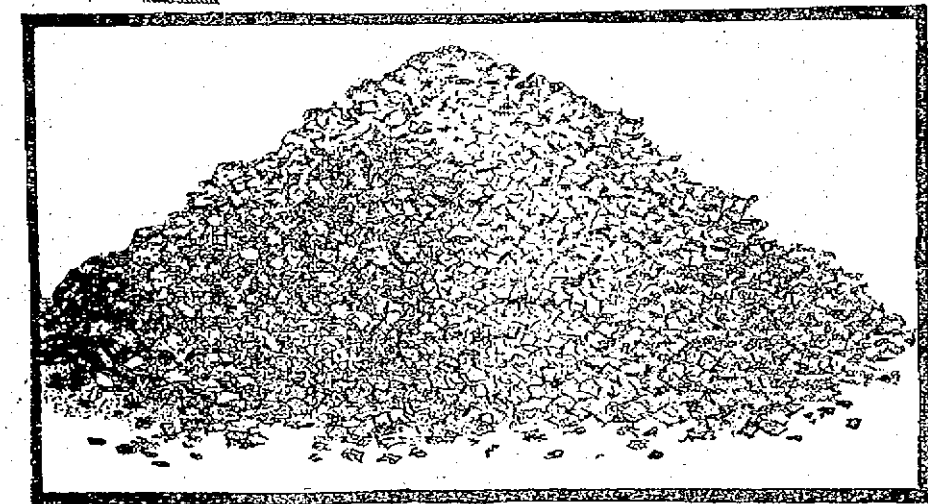

After the leaf for "Bull" Durham Has Passed Through the "Breaker."

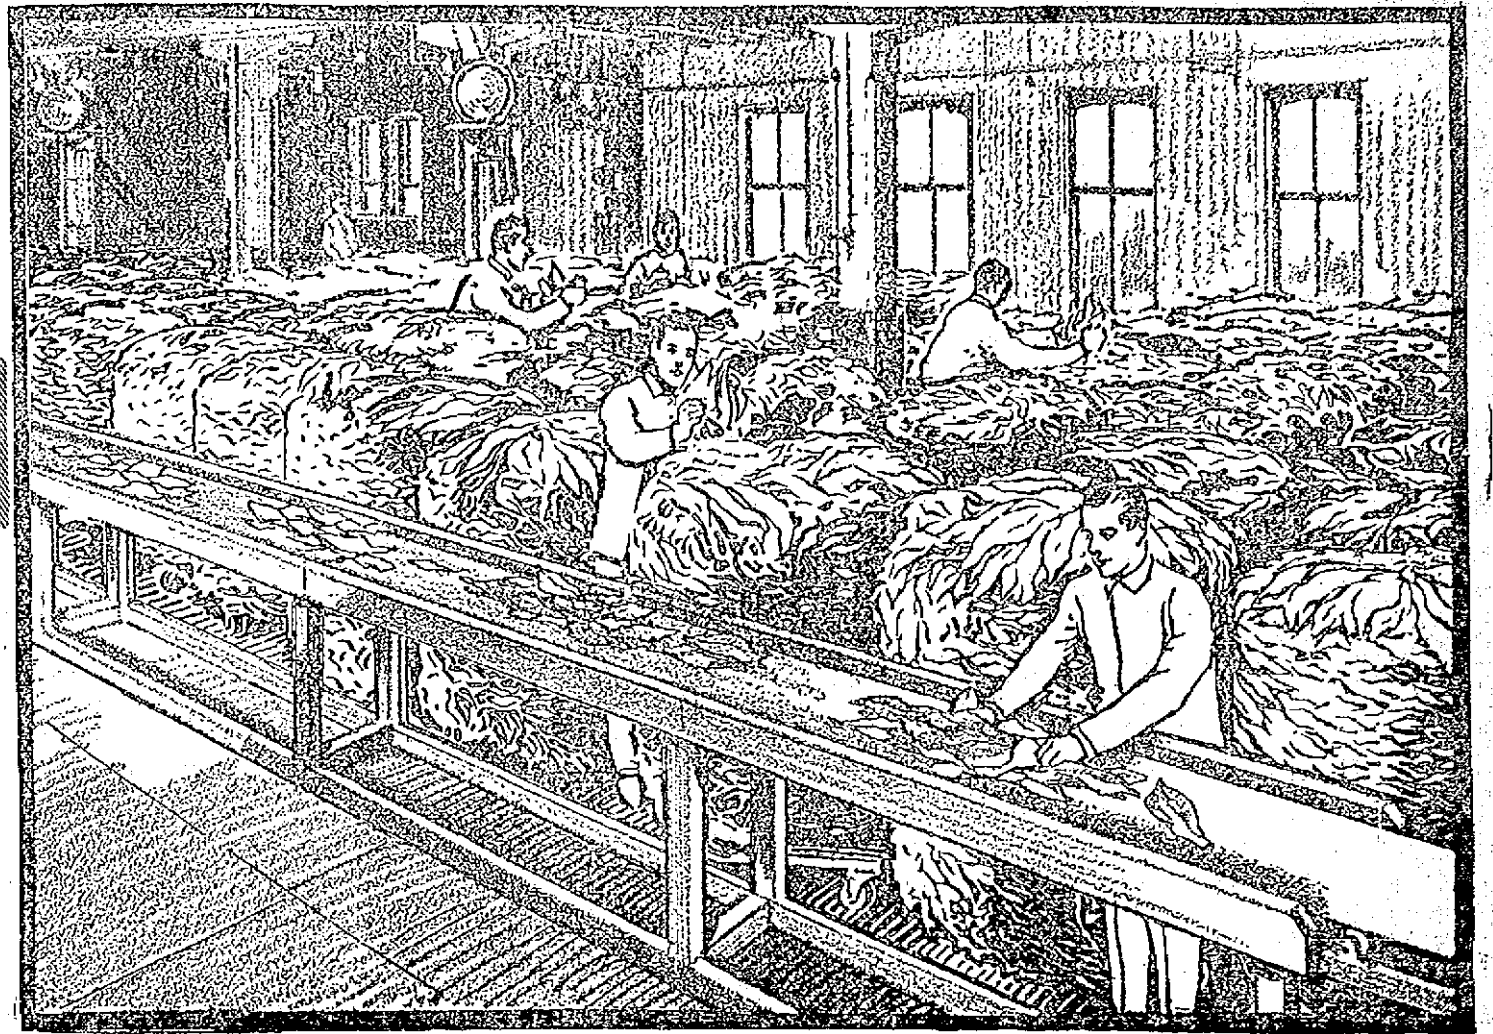

After It Has Passed Through the Third Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Tenth and Last Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Sieves—the Finished Flake.

Where the Golden Virginia-Carolina Leaf for "Bull" Durham Starts on Its Journey.

Only Pure Virginia-Carolina Leaf Goes Through the "Bull" Durham Manufacturing System—Only Pure Tobacco Comes Out as "Bull" Durham

Grouped about a moving belt on the top floor of the "Bull" Durham factory at Durham, N. C., are giant hogsheads of tobacco leaf—107 of them.

To the eye they show a mass of color—soft, rich, golden—the distinctive, individual, matchless shades that belong solely to famous bright Virginia-Carolina leaf.

Nothing else ever goes into that big room—nothing but this pure, ripe leaf.

From each of the 107 hogsheads a certain quantity is taken and placed on the moving belt.

The hogsheads differ slightly in character. They are of different crops, are raised in different sections, vary somewhat in body and aroma. All the 107 are required to make up the wonderful blend which has made "Bull" Durham the world's best known and best liked cigarette tobacco.

The freight of golden leaf moves forward on the belt to the "breaker," then on into a series of ten granulators, and finally into a system of sieves, coming out three floors below in fragrant flakes of uniform size—the finished "Bull" Durham.

The entire operation of making "Bull" Durham, from the first "breaking" of the leaf to the final sifting of the tiny flakes, is carried on automatically inside a continuous tight-closed wooden flume.

The pure leaf is kept pure. No foreign matter of any kind can get mixed with the tobacco at any stage of its manufacture.

And that's why "Bull" Durham stands every test for purity.

You can test it yourself. Pour some "Bull" Durham on your hand or a piece of paper. Separate the grains—examine them closely. You will find only tiny flakes of pure tobacco—nothing else looks like the golden Virginia-Carolina leaf used in "Bull" Durham.

SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT

This is a time when the public should unreservedly condemn the partisan paper or the partisan person who would distort the present serious situation of the country for party purposes. To the credit of our national spirit it is stated that no direct opposition to President Wilson's present determination has manifested itself, but indications of an insidious undercurrent are showing in certain quarters. It is surely to be regretted if the prospect of a coming campaign should so warp one's patriotism that he would misrepresent the present policy of the administration in an effort to strengthen the republican party in the coming election. No body of men would oppose such an unworthy spirit more promptly than the great mass of fair republicans who look upon the present critical conditions as American citizens rather than as members of a party.

Undesirable in a like way is the attitude of another section of press and public which strives to make democratic capital out of the situation. This is as futile and as dangerous as it is unwise. The stand of America against Mexico is not the personal island of President Wilson and neither is it the stand of the democratic party. It is the stand of the American government, backed by the entire American people, against the farcical government of Mexico which does not deserve the name.

It is most desirable at this time that the American people look upon Mexican affairs calmly and without passion. We are not yet at war with Mexico, and it is possible that we may not find war necessary. That is for Carranza to decide. One word from him, either to his followers or to the United States, and Washington will adopt the last resort. The reply of President Wilson leaves no loophole of doubt as to what will happen. Should Carranza show further hostility towards our troops in Mexico or permit any expedition into our territory.

Should war come, it may be longer and more costly than most Americans realize, for though Mexico cannot fight as a great power, the Mexican hordes can avail of the natural advantages of their country and wage the kind of war that cannot be put down in a few months. Moreover the job undertaken cannot be abandoned until it is completed, and the American president and the American people will need the full support of our people to show not only Mexico but the world that our patience of four years was the patience of a nation that knows how to fight when put to it. Moreover, the ending of such a war would open up grave possibilities that all the republics to the south of us are watching, and we cannot afford to have any division of sentiment on partisan lines when the nation is called upon to make a momentous decision.

While looking on the situation in the most optimistic manner, it would also be well for our people to consider the possibility of outside interference. True, most of the great powers have left them to their own fate, but they can do to wage their own battle, but in a selfish world there is always danger that the struggles of nations may be availed of for the commission of acts that cannot be performed in time of peace.

No newspaper has been more outspoken in opposition to certain policies of President Wilson, and to the Mexican policy in particular than the New York Sun. Yet, in its issue of yesterday, after some criticism of the president, it said:

In face of that situation he is entitled to the loyal support of every American and from every American worthy the name he is going to receive it through thick and thin. There is no more doubt of this than there is of the unquestioning devotion of the people to the flag that is now in Woodrow Wilson's hands.

Newspapers which, like the Sun and most of those which it has been through the calling Union, perceive clearly the distinction between the claims of political partisanship and the obligations of patriotic duty will not find the slightest difficulty in reconciling reason and conscience as to what has gone before with absolute loyalty to the holder of the flag from the moment it is borne aloft. There is no danger of anybody's confusing the proper relation of American citizenship to the two campaigns, national and political. This is as true in the presence of the possibility of war as it would be true during actual war, if that should come.

Nel even the New York World which has been the uncompromising defender of the president has spoken more emphatically and it is commendable that this paper has thrown its immense influence on the side where the support of all Americans and all American papers should be at this time. While exercising the American privilege of free press and free speech, let all who believe in "America First" support the administration through the trying days that lie immediately ahead.

THE SHINGLE ROOF

The board of trade has taken timely action in recommending to the municipal council the adoption of a new ordinance against the shingle roof in Lowell, and the proposed regulation should be adopted. It is in line with what many cities are now doing and what all cities must adopt sooner or later, since the evils of the shingle roof have been too well demonstrated in the great fires of Chelsea, Salem and cities that have suffered more recently.

The Sun has long contended that unless the roofs of a city are fire resisting, it is futile to adopt other fire prevention methods. The latest equipment and the most adequate fire protection will not avail if in the business section or in any congested section buildings are allowed to use the flimsy roof that is as dangerous as a bomb paper when the sparks of a great fire are flying. Moreover, it is misleading to allege that the shingle roof is economical, for while its first cost is less than that of slate or some fire resisting material, the necessary repairs and re-shingling will even matters up before the building has had a long lease of life.

The ordinance suggested by the board of trade seems to be both just and practical. It does not call for the elimination of shingle roofs immediately but provides for their gradual removal. Under the system advised, all roofs in Lowell would be of fire resisting material by 1926. Builders of new structures would be obliged to resort to slate, tile or some other material, and in this way the old shingle roofs would gradually disappear, since the present shingle roofs could not be repaired so as to perpetuate them indefinitely. A sweeping rule for change might work hardship, but this plan would seem to benefit the entire city while inflicting no unfair sacrifice on Lowell citizens.

A TEACHER'S ADVICE

The address of Miss Mary McKimmon of the Pierce grammar school, Brookline, delivered at the commencement exercises at the State Normal school, was the sincere advice of a brilliant and successful teacher who sees in the teaching profession a great opportunity. Confessing that she started out 35 years ago with the ideas of an older generation, she proved to be in the front rank of those who have adopted newer and saner methods of education—and they are now a great company. When those who listened will have forgotten most of the substance of her fine address, they will remember her personal enthusiasm and the remedy she has adopted for the unruly boy, viz: the providing of a task on which he may get rid of his surplus energy. In the relation of that process she touched the heart of many a teacher's difficulty—inability to restore discipline when pupils grow restless or nervous. The gist of her message was "Give the children something to do and something to think about and keep your minds always fresh, active and resourceful." There was nothing of the purely academic in her talk but there was common sense, inspiration and poetry. Those who listened must have taken their diplomas in the consciousness that they were workers in a profession that has a great deal to do with the shaping of men and women—and it is men and women who make up the world.

A DANGEROUS CURVE

A child was killed a few days ago in North Billerica on the spot where a young woman was killed under almost similar circumstances a few weeks ago. At this point the road winds around the so-called "Talbot Oval" and even the speed permitted by the law makes it dangerous for pedestrians, owing to the curving nature of the roadway. Those who are on the road are within their rights as there is a public crossing on the spot, but in at least one of the cases it looks as though the driver was wholly blameless. Yet, that a dangerous condition exists there cannot be denied, and to state that this or that person was not to blame will not ensure safety for the future. Not only drivers from Lowell and from North Billerica but from all over the country drive through this road, and something ought to be done to protect the lives of people who may use it. It is not a place for children to play indiscriminately, but there are two recent deaths to serve as a warning of what is just as likely to happen again unless something is done to prevent it.

CARE FOR FAMILIES

In calling a special meeting of the municipal council with the intention of appointing a fund committee to care for the dependent families of those who have gone to the Mexican border, Mayor O'Donnell has done the right thing, and The Sun offers him hearty congratulations. This is something in which bravado or a hot air attitude is distasteful, and Lowell should regard it merely in the light of duty. When the call came recently from the committee arranging for a preparedness parade, the city responded nobly, and there is a chance to show the same spirit only in a more practical way. All Lowell citizens whatever their views on other things must admire the courage and patriotic devotion of the fine young men who left this city yesterday. Let us then show our admiration in a practical way by making prompt provision for those they leave behind whose natural anxiety may be augmented by the prospect of want or financial difficulty.

SEEN AND HEARD

No matter how much a feller likes flowers he generally has to die to get 'em.

The only time I know of when it pays to be baldheaded is when a feller gets caught in an Indian massacre.

There may be awkward things in this world than a woman on a step-ladder, but if there is I ain't never seen 'em.

A happy married life is when a feller and his wife can get along with one easy chair on the porch. P.S.—There ain't none such.

There are some fellers who are going to have a dull time in heaven without gas companies and no street railway lines to kick about.

Joggling The Memory

The old method of tying a string about the finger to recall to mind some task to be done at a certain time has been done away with. The new way is to transfer a ring from one finger to another. On the accustomed finger the ring feels natural and does not cause annoyance, but on any other finger it slightly irritates. This irritation constantly will aid in recalling the task to be done. Just try it once.—Exchange.

Arthur's Hair Has Its Uses

"If I were asked to name the most ingenious animal in the world," said the observer, "I should say it is the small boy in devising entertainment for himself. I attended a country church not long ago and a lad who sat near me illustrated my point. The sermon evidently did not fill out the boy's idea of entertainment and he had given over all pretense of attention.

"Immediately in front of him sat a girl whose head seemed ablaze with an aureole of fiery red hair. This had given the boy a happy suggestion and he alternately held out one forefinger near the flaming locks, then, with the other fist hammered it, using the back of the seat for an anvil. He varied this occasionally by dipping the finger in an imaginary blacksmith's tub and softly going 'steez sizz!'—Indianapolis News.

Time For Prayer

The married women were telling stories about the brightness of their respective offspring. They had reached the religious stage. One mother of a girl of six years and a boy of four told this one:

"Carl and Ruth had been unusually annoying all the morning while I was trying to hang my parlor curtains. It seemed to me that they had never before compressed so much noise in such a small space as my front room. "It finally got so bad that I decided to take drastic measures. I seized them each by one ear and led them none to gently into the farthest room from where I was working. Seating them on stools on opposite sides of the fireplace I warned them not to utter a single word for five minutes under pain of more severe punishment. As I turned to leave the room, my little boy with the utmost gravity said to his sister:

"'Povvith both launched into the Lord's prayer with the utmost fervor. Really," added the mother, "I didn't have the heart to punish them after that display of piety."—Fitchburg News.

The Foolish Deer

A foolish deer once missed his guess because of unpreparedness.

Said he, "I don't believe in such; I think they praise it overmuch."

"The forest is so very wide No enemy could reach my side."

"And if they did I have my horns, A weapon no one ever scorns."

"And should that fall I have my heels; A single glance my speed reveals."

Alas, the deer who proudly spoke Was soon a hattrack and a steak!

—McLanburgh Wilson in New York Times.

The Dream

I stood alone against the desert sky Flaming with sunrise signals, rose and gold, Back in some ago forgotten. At my feet

Two soldiers helmeted in shirts of steel Spoke in an unknown tongue, and yet I knew

They told me I must die—yet, gently, gently touched

My captive arms and weeping comforted

My woman's terror as I sought to find How had I sinned, what was the stain I bore.

They answered not—looked in each other's eyes.

The friendly wind blew warm upon my breast

Above the trembling heart, fearful of death.

They wrapped my eyes with linen, led me forth,

And bound me prostrate on the pillow—ing sand—

Face to the sky. I felt the tender breeze

Of summer morning touch my tear wet lips.

And thoughts of gardens and of rose-tinted lanes

Trodden in England prayed the world was green

Came to me and I prayed to One I knew To save me. Then a drift of stinging sand

Fell on my pinioned arms—and then, afar,

I heard the pounding hoofs of horses, beat,

The surging rush of soldiers, clashing spurs

And jangling harness; the sharp clang of steel

And the hoarse call of leaders urging on

Their glistening army while my guards

That I be brave and face the coming death.

They bathed my heating brow and fanned my head

A litany for those about to die.

Crouching, I lay and heard the sounds come on

The far leader and a trumpet call

Defeated my senses, and again I cried aloud

Striving against the bondage of my dead dreams.

But on came, strident, tumultuous, With steady hoof beats, pounding, thundering

To crush me in the desert's burning To mold me with this golden shining earth.

And leave a crimson shadow in the sand

Then darkness fell across me like a shroud

Of sweetness, and I woke to find the dawn!

ROOSEVELT NOT TO RUN

T. R. IN LETTER DECLINING NOMINATION URGES MOORE'S TO SUPPORT HUGHES

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 22.—When Col. Theodore Roosevelt yesterday signed his letter to the progressive national committee declining the nomination for the presidency and urging the election of Justice Hughes, he at the same time signed the death warrant of the progressive party, which he maintained has accomplished the chief objects for which it was formed.

To make the run for the presidency and to keep up the party as a fighting force, he says, can have but one result—to insure the re-election of President Wilson and four years more of the spineless policy which have made American diplomacy a by-word abroad and a thing of regret at home, and brought the nation to the edge of war while unprepared to even defend its border against bandit raids.

Some minor reforms, he admits, might be secured by continuing the party and making the fight, but these results could not warrant the party or its candidate taking the responsibility of returning President Wilson to the White House with the consequent grave risks to the national life of the United States. For the progressive party and the course it has followed since its birth four years ago, Colonel Roosevelt has neither excuses, explanations nor apologies. It came into being, he holds, at a time when the republican party had become the party of reaction and ceased to be the party of Lincoln and the plain people. In the four years that have elapsed the republicans have come back to the ancient landmarks, have enacted into laws in the several states many of the most impious reforms for which they placed upon a platform to which every progressive can subscribe, the colonel contends.

REVENUE FROM AUTO REGISTRATION SHOWS $200,000 INCREASE THIS YEAR OVER LAST

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston 22.—As a record-breaking activity in all departments of the automobile business, the Massachusetts highway commission has available for highway repairs this year approximately $200,000 more than last, this representing the increased revenue of the commission on account of the unprecedented number of registrations of all kinds.

The aggregate revenue of the commission, up to June 1st, was $1,071,665.80; last year it was $866,346.01. Pleasure cars to the number of $0,884 have been registered this year, an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent over last year's number, which was 85,052. In addition there have been 13,925 commercial vehicles, as compared with 9,273 last year.

Motor cycles, while showing an increase, do not show the same percentage as the pleasure cars. Last year's registration of motor cycles was 6,470, and this year 7,160 have been registered.

The number of licenses issued to manufacturers and dealers is 1,807 this year, as compared with 1,611 last year. A total of 19,193 licenses to operate motor vehicles has been issued during the six months of the present fiscal year, a very material increase over last year's figures of 17,523. It is in renewals, however, that the greatest gain is shown, the commission having put out no less than 37,912 renewals this year, as compared with last year's 32,457.

Examinations of applicants show an increase from 3,397 last year to 4,116 for 1915.

Annual Outing

The annual outing of the employees of the U. S. Cartridge Co. will be held at Nantasket beach on Saturday, June 22. It is probable that the entire plant will close all day on the date of the outing.

Boot & Shoe Workers

A meeting of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union held a regular meeting in Carpenters' hall last evening. Two new members were initiated and considerable routine business was transacted. It was voted to have two representatives at the St. John's day banquet which will be held at Associated hall Sunday evening and Messrs. Jos. A. Pion and Arthur Bellefeuille were appointed. Joseph Roy was chosen a substitute.

evening, the occasion to be a prize drill, followed by a supper and post prandial exercises. All the former officers of the company have been invited to attend and it is expected that they will all be there to renew acquaintances and participate in the evening's program.

At 8 o'clock all the men of the company will be marched to the drill shed, where a prize drill for the Fitch and Parker medals will take place. Following this drill another competitive drill for privates only will be held for what is known as the "Wilson" medal, a solid gold medal which was donated the company today by Lawyer William H. Wilson. This medal will have to be won three times in succession in order to become the permanent property of a member of the company.

Following the drills a supper will be served in the mess hall after which a varied program, consisting of instrumental and vocal selections as well at Carpenters' hall, this city, Saturday afternoon. The attendance will be composed of delegates representing all Mill Men's locals of the state and it is expected that considerable business will be transacted. Better working conditions will be discussed and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the members of the organization will be taken up. The conference will be held under the auspices of the Lowell local and a varied program is being arranged for the occasion.

U. S. Cartridge Co.

The chief topic of discussion among the male employees of the United States these days is the proposed battalion, which the Gun & Rifle club of the plant has undertaken to organize. It is planned to form a battalion composed of four or five companies with about 65 men to each company.

A meeting of the male employees of the company has been called for this evening at the garage of the company at 8 o'clock and it is hoped that the attendance will be large. The following bulletin has been posted in various parts of the plant:

"The suggestion has been made that a battalion of Cartridge Co. employees be formed to drill once a week and get the benefits of military instruction. The uniforms will probably cost $8. A meeting will be held in the garage Thursday evening, June 22 and all the employees interested are invited to attend. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

If the battalion is formed it is probable that the drill officers will be Jas. B. Pion, former lieutenant of Co. 1, Sixth regiment, M.V.M., and Walter H. Hinman, a former officer of the crack Seventh regiment of the New York National Guard. Both men are employed by the company.

as addresses by the present and past officers of the company will be given.

BAY STATE RAISING

FUNDS FOR FAMILIES

BOSTON, June 22.—Cities and towns throughout Massachusetts yesterday began active work raising funds for dependents of militia-men called out by the mobilization order. In most cases the movements have been independently undertaken in each place for families of its own citizens.

Employers, too, have very largely cooperated to the same purpose, many companies guaranteeing employees summoned to the colors against loss of pay and consequent distress to families.

CROWD CHEERS WOMAN

FOR HER PATRIOTISM

BOSTON, June 22.—The clear spoken reply of a young woman who stood at Summer and Washington streets yesterday to a shaming remark made about a red, white and blue husband she wore on her black sailor brought cheers to the lips and tears to the eyes of men and women who had just seen the militiamen march past.

"Stir if you wish," she said, looking straight into the eyes of the man who had spoken, "but these colors are my colors, and they will be with me night and day until my two brothers, one of whom is leading his battalion and the other his company, return to our home."

The words were sharply uttered; many heard them. Then there came a subdued cheer, and the men nearby reverently lifted their hats to salute the nation's colors.

SAYS KOHLEMAINEN WILL

BE COURT-MARTIALED

NEW YORK, June 22.—Hannes Kohlemainen, long distance runner, who won athletic fame at the Finland's representatives at the Olympic games in 1912, has decided not to respond with his National Guard regiment, the 14th, of Brooklyn, for Mexican duty, it became known yesterday.

According to Kohlemainen's brother, William, the athlete, has induced to join the regiment under the representation that all that would be desired of him would be to take part in athletic games. Kohlemainen is a stone mason and has taken out his first citizenship papers.

Capt. W. R. Jackson, adjutant of the 14th regiment, announced later yesterday that Kohlemainen would be court-martialed for disobedience of orders unless he reported for service.

WORK AND LITTLE PLAY

AT FRAMINGHAM CAMP

FRAMINGHAM, June 22.—Lieut. Col. Beaumont B. Buck, U.S.A., on special detail here, announced today that the federal army would not begin for several days. Orders received last night indicated that this would begin at once although it was explained that it would be necessary to await the arrival of formal papers and equipment. Because of this change in the plan it was not expected that the troops would be ready to move before the first of next week.

Under the direction of Brig. Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser, in command, the camp today took up the schedule of "work, work, work and little play" so that the troops can be put into condition with the least possible delay. The drilling of recruits was begun immediately after breakfast and the many small bodies of men in civilian dress at work on the field indicated the public interest and the hearty response to the call for volunteers. Reports reaching Gen. Sweetser from regimental commanders showed that 937 had enlisted within two days. Of this number 370 were recruited from the western part of the state in the companies of the second regiment, the largest number of additions gained by any of the four regiments in camp.

131 Recruits With Ninth

The Eighth regiment had 256 recruits, the Fifth had 186, and the Ninth arrived with 131. The muster roll this morning showed 5293 officers and men in camp. With 500 men in the various auxiliary units camped outside the main field, Massachusetts had concentrated a total of 5723 cavalry and field artillery commands, prevented the complete mobilization of the state's quota, although it was said that a sufficient number of mounts would be ready to move by tonight.

General Sweetser said today that recruiting was proceeding rapidly throughout the state and that this would add considerably to the number of men already enrolled for service.

MASSACHUSETTS WILL BE

AMONG FIRST AT BORDER

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Officials of the war department expressed gratification today at the speed with which the mobilization of the Massachusetts militia has proceeded. It now looks as though the Massachusetts and District of Columbia troops will be ready for service before those from any other state, and in the event of immediate need these organizations will probably be among the first ordered to the border.

The war department has under consideration plans for increasing the quota of several states.

This would probably make possible the active participation of the Sixth Mass. Regt., which, under present arrangements, has been detailed for home service.

Former Alderman Charles W. Godfrey of Fitchburg yesterday offered his services to the war department through Congressman Paige. In communicating his desire for service Mr. Godfrey mentioned that he held a certificate from the Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. training camp, and also possessed a strong recommendation from Col. Ketcham.

150 APPLICATIONS A DAY

NEW YORK, June 22.—The movement of additional regiments of the New York National Guard to Camp Whitman at Beckman, N. Y., the mobilizing site for state troops, was continuing in compliance with orders from Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan in order that the water supply at the camp should be completed before their arrival.

GERMANS CAPTURE FRONT LINE

TRENCHES OF FRENCH AFTER

ALL NIGHT BATTLE

PARIS, June 22, 11.30 a. m.—After violent attacks lasting all night the Germans captured front line trenches between Fumlin wood and Chenols, in the Verdun sector, according to an office.

The Germans attacked in force on both banks of the Meuse after the usual heavy bombardment. An attack on the south slope of Dead Man hill was checked by grenade detachments, according to the official statement.

On the right bank of the river there were violent engagements west and south of Fort Vaux during which the Germans gained a footing in a corner of Fumlin wood, but were immediately expelled. Later they returned to the attack when some trenches were captured. A German grenade assault north of Hill No. 321 was stopped by the French fire.

The text of the statement follows:

"On both banks of the river Meuse last night was marked by a series of pronounced attacks. The enemy, which followed bombardments of great severity.

"On the left bank of the river the fighting continued with ferocity in the region west and south of Fort de Vaux. Yesterday evening a powerful German attack was successful in penetrating a small wood southeast of the Fumlin wood. We, however, at once delivered a counter attack, and chased the enemy out. At about midnight a further offensive action was directed by the enemy upon our positions reaching from the Fumlin wood to a point east of Chenols, and was repulsed with sanguinary losses.

GREECE HAS ACCEPTED DEMANDS

POWERS

ATHENS, June 21, via London, June 22.—Greece has accepted unconditionally the demands made by the entente powers. This decision was communicated to the French legation by M. Zaimis, the former premier, to whom the formation of a new cabinet is reported to have been entrusted.

The ultimatum of the entente powers was delivered to the Greek government at noon today (Wednesday). The demands presented by the entente powers, according to the newspaper Nea Hemia, were as follows:

- 1—Complete general demobilization.
- 2—Removal of the chief of police of Athens.
- 3—Popular pro-entente sentiment not to be suppressed.
- 4—Deportation of agents spreading German propaganda.

While the dissolution of the chamber of deputies also was desired, the newspaper says, it may not be directly demanded.

The foregoing version of the nature of the entente demands are said in diplomatic circles to be substantially accurate.

The new cabinet will be made up of non-political lines, even including one or two adherents of former Premier Venizelos.

SERIOUS UPRISING AGAINST THE

ARABIA

LONDON, June 22.—Reports have been received here that a serious uprising against the Turks is in progress in Arabia and that the rebels have captured the holy city of Mecca.

The London newspapers declare that the rebellion is certain to have an important bearing on the war, especially as regards the participation of Turkey. The Post says:

"The uprising is due to recent wholesale executions of Mohammedans and Syrian notables and well known religious leaders, and also to the spread in Arabia of a feeling that the Turks have abdicated their position as the protectors of the Mohammedans and have become the vassals of Germany."

A Reuter despatch from Cairo says the rebels in addition to taking Mecca have captured Jiddah, the chief seaport of Arabia and Taif, 65 miles southeast of Mecca, and have proclaimed independence of the Arabs from Ottoman rule.

It is said the garrisons of Mecca, Jiddah and Taif surrendered, with the exception of two small forts at Taif, which are still resisting. At Jiddah 45 officers, 1400 men and six guns were captured. Medina, 248 miles northwest of Mecca, is closely besieged.

GREECE ACCEPTS WITHOUT RESERVE DEMANDS OF ENTENTE ALLIES

ATHENS, June 21, via London, June 22.—Under heavy pressure from the entente powers, Greece has accepted without reserve the demands presented today in a joint note to Great Britain, France and Russia. At the most critical moment Greece was without a government. Premier Skouloudis late today announced to the chamber of deputies the resignation of himself and his associates in the cabinet and failure to the present to obtain successors to them.

M. Skouloudis refused to receive the communication from the entente powers on the ground that no Greek cabinet existed.

The action of the entente powers came on one of the hottest days of many years in Greece. The people were unaware what had occurred until well on towards evening, when newspapers and handbills, distributed broadcast the text of the demands.

Meantime King Constantine returned hastily to Athens. All the troops in the city were ordered under arms.

The people of Athens remained calm, and talk of non-compliance with the demands of the allies apparently awakened no widespread spirit of resistance.

IT WILL CONDUCT EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

Upon the approval of the directors of the Lowell board of trade, the office of the secretary will conduct during the next three months a placement bureau, and will endeavor to find positions for young men and women who desire temporary work during the summer vacation. A communication will be forwarded to the business industries and mercantile establishments requesting co-operation with the board, and a card index system of the applicants for positions will be maintained at the office and may be consulted by employers. Last year the board was very successful in finding positions, and it is hoped that employers will make use of the bureau.

There is absolutely no charge to either applicant or employer for the services rendered. Registration of applicants may begin any time.

BATTERY C OFF TO FRONT

Delay Caused by Green Horses—
Sun Janitor on Bridge Street

Battery C, first squadron field artillery, M.V.A., passed through Lowell about 7 o'clock last evening after a long and tedious delay that was not enjoyed by the weary and anxious ones who had been awaiting their arrival for more than four hours. Shortly before the noon hour yesterday word was received at the mayor's office that Battery C would leave the Methuen armory at 1 o'clock and would arrive here about 2:30. It was suggested then that the battery be met at the city line and escorted through the city by the High School regiment and the Business and Finance companies. But if the battery was to arrive at the time for the preparation of escort was too short and besides it would be doing something for Battery C that was not done for Company M that left Lowell in the morning. Company M was not given any escort from the armory and to meet and escort Battery C through the city did not seem to be just the right thing to do under the circumstances. And it was well that it was viewed in this light, for the escort would have a very long, tedious, and dreary wait at the city line. The delay in leaving the armory and the very slow progress made by Battery C was due, in great measure, to the fact that many of the men were new to the battery business and all but 16 of the horses were "green." And the fact that most of the horses were unbroken and absolutely unfamiliar with military work greatly hampered the movements of the gun and caissons. The battery left the Methuen armory, on the Lawrence-Lowell boulevard, near Stanley's on the Merrimack, at 4:25 o'clock and it took nearly two and a half hours to cover the six miles between that point and Lowell. Some of the horses, scared at the rumble of the heavy wheels and clanking of iron traces, got excited and confused and finally balked. It took some time to coax them back to an understanding of what was actually required of them and a few of them absolutely refused to understand. Much difficulty was experienced in getting horses, and it became necessary, at almost the last moment, to go to Manchester, N. H., to fill the required number. The safe tags had been removed from the tails of one of the horses that passed through Lowell last evening and that was proof enough that the horses were green in all that the word implies.

A Thrilling Moment
A Lawrence hand had been hired to play at the armory and even the music didn't seem to take with some of the green horses. Whether the music was too solemn or that their classic ears and asthetic taste were insulted by rag time is not known, but that they didn't take kindly to the best efforts of the music makers was a cinch. One man got a throw before he left the armory, and another horse threw his rider in First street and ran away. This action on the part of the green and rude one resulted in a thriller later on in Bridge street, near the canal bridge, when the runaway was stopped by Arsene Guy, a Sun building janitor and captain of Garde St. Louis. The runaway was spectacular and it was a dangerous moment for the thousands of spectators who gathered along the street. The horse started to run at the top of First st. hill. Soon its harness slipped off and dangled at its heels. The animal was crazed with fright and was going at break-neck speed as he passed through streets banked with men, women and children. The crowds scattered like sheep and there were times when the horse approached so near the sidewalk as to give the impression that he was about to leave the street. It was a miracle that he did not dash into the crowd as he turned from First street into Bridge street, where people were crowded at every point.

The circus stunt in which Mr. Guy proved himself a horseman and hero combined was performed after the horse had crossed Centralville bridge. Those who witnessed the maneuver declared it was the classiest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Lowell and had Buffalo Bill seen Guy perform he never would have left Lowell without him. The horse was breaking all speed records when the brave Arsene jumped out to the middle of the street and grabbed the check rein. He ran a short way with the horse and then bracing his feet and waiting for the necessary pull on the rein, he leaped on the horse's back. A minute later the horse was on his knees on the canal bridge and no sooner had his knees touched the bridge than Arsene had him by the bridle and held him until men came up from the battery. The horse pranced and danced about, but his captor was equal to the occasion and after leading the horse to Merrimack square, Arsene, despite warnings from the battery men who had come to look upon the horse as a bad one, mounted him again and rode him bareback, to and beyond the city line in Chelmsford. His act so pleased Capt. William W. Roberts and other officers that they wanted the hero and horseman to enlist, but Arsene declined the honor. They took his name, however, and he will probably hear from them later.

The route of the battery through the city was through Bridge street to Merrimack square, Prescott street, Central street, Middlesex street, Branch street, Smith street, Westford street, Lane street, Fowell street, and Chelmsford street to Chelmsford Centre.

Got Great Ovation
Everywhere along the route the battery got an ovation. About two miles ahead of the battery was the cooking outfit, with three men aboard, and prepared to cook as soon as the Battery camped ground was reached.

The commander of the battery is Capt. William W. Roberts, and his commissioned officers are: First Lieut. George McLane and Roy Daniels; second lieutenants, Sumner H. Needham and W. Leo Phelps; and Surgeon-Major Harry H. Myers. Lieut. Needham of this city has been chosen the scouting officer of the battery. Twenty-one of the battery are from this city. Heretofore these men have constituted what is known as the "Lowell section," but yesterday the men were changed about so that there is no longer any distinguishing name for any section. The Lowell men were distributed among the six sections of the battery. Aside from Lieut. Needham the Lowell members of Battery C, are:

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The comptroller of the currency announced today the reopening at Stoneham, Mass., of the Stoneham National bank, closed June 7 after discovery of a $40,000 shortage. The shortage caused by the defection of an employee, the statement said, had been made good.

FOR ARMOR PLATE WORK

NEW YORK, June 22.—An offer by the Bethlehem Steel Co. to manufacture armor plate for the government at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest and depreciation as the federal trade commission may determine to be fair is contained in a letter made public last night from E. G. Grace, president of the steel company, to Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs.

Milliken, senatorial nominee Colonel Frederick Hale, congressional nominees, Louis B. Goodall, Wallace H. White, Jr. and Representative John A. Peters, were present. Honorable Ira G. Hersey, a candidate for the senatorial nomination also attended.

WILSON REVIEWS MILITIA

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson got his first view yesterday of military mobilization for Mexican border service. Standing on the curb of Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House with Secretary Baker and Col. Harte, his military aide, he reviewed the District of Columbia National Guard as it marched by on the way to its camp across the Potomac river at Fort Myer.

"They are mighty nice looking boys," the president remarked to Secretary Baker.

BLOCKADE MEXICAN COAST

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 22.—Not since the beginning of the Mexican troubles has there been such a powerful fleet sent to the western Mexican littoral for patrol purposes, nor has an American admiral ever taken the precaution to play his fighting ships that within a few moments after an outbreak of hostilities he could effectually blockade every west coast Mexican port from Guaymas to Salina Cruz.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED

MADISON, Wis., June 22.—The governor's conference, which was to have been held at Salt Lake City on June 26, has been temporarily postponed because about half the governors had wired that they could not attend on account of the president's call for state troops. Miles C. Riley, secretary, made the announcement upon request of Governor Spry of Utah, chairman of the conference.

curled, whenever may have been the aggressor and whatever the outcome. It has brought war with Mexico, so close that officials say any hour may see the conflict in full swing.

RESOLUTION TO DRAFT

MILITIA INTO ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Baker informed President Wilson early today that there had been no report from Gen. Pershing on the fight between American and Carranza soldiers near Carrizal yesterday. Mr. Baker went to the White House with dispatches from Gen. Funston giving such information as has been obtained from Mexican sources.

Later Secretary Baker said no new orders had been sent to Gen. Funston and that the government would take no step until an account from its own officers showing what happened had been received.

National Guardsmen to reinforce the border patrol will be sent as soon as their mobilization and organization is completed, but Mr. Baker would not predict when that might be.

"We have only the information from Mexican sources and from a few Americans who arrived on trains at El Paso," said the secretary. "We are waiting for further information, either from Gen. Pershing or other American sources."

He would not state whether a punitive expedition would be ordered to pursue the Mexicans who attacked the Americans.

From unofficial sources Mr. Baker said he had been informed of the alleged statement by Gen. Obregon, assuming responsibility for the orders issued to the Mexican detachment which made the attack. He would not comment.

When Secretary Baker returned to the department, Secretary Lansing went to his office and the two cabinet members were in conference for some time. Mr. Lansing, as he left, said that his department had no word from American sources in Mexico about the fight.

A resolution authorizing the president to draft National Guardsmen willing to take the federal oath immediately into the regular army, under the terms of the new army bill was submitted by Secretary Baker to Chairman Hay of the house military committee. Mr. Hay said he would call it up tomorrow and press for immediate action.

If possible, Mr. Hay said, he would obtain consideration of the resolution by unanimous consent, but he was prepared to ask for a special rule if necessary.

The resolution differs slightly from the provision of the measures originally prepared for bringing the National Guard into federal service. In that it would provide for service during "the period of the emergency," instead of "the period of the war."

AMERICANS REMOVED

THEIR WOUNDED WITH THEM

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The consulate announcement said complete details had been received from Villa Ahumada. The Americans removed their wounded with them.

The bodies of the American dead were counted as they lay on the field of battle.

The Mexican consulate announced early today that it had no additional details regarding the Carrizal encounter.

It was intimated at the consulate that the official Mexican view would be that the battle between the American and Carranza forces is a detached incident, having nothing to do with the general situation. Mexican authorities were in communication with Mexico City during the night.

AMERICAN AVIATORS IN

FRANCE CANNOT REPLY

PARIS, June 22.—The American aviators in the service of France are not able to comment on or reply to the inquiry from the Aero club of America whether they will return to take service in the American army in the event of war with Mexico. They are prevented from replying by the fact that they have enlisted in the French army for the duration of the war and are subject to army discipline.

The only manner in which this subject could be taken up would be by negotiations between the governments of France and the United States.

VILLA'S WIFE ARRESTED

AND DEPORTED TO JUAREZ

EL PASO, Texas, June 22.—Mrs. Luz Torres Villa, wife of Francisco Villa, was arrested by the police last night and with her sister and her sister's child, about five years of age and a German nurse, was deported to Juarez on orders from Mayor Lea, who gave no reason for the act. Mrs. Villa arrived here this afternoon, ostensibly from New Orleans but the police believe she came from Los Angeles. She said she intended to go to Chihuahua to look for her husband.

EVACUATION OF JUAREZ

BY CARRANZA AFTER BATTLE

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—Evacuation of Juarez by the Carranza garrison is expected today as a result of yesterday's battle between troops of the Tenth cavalry and a Carranza command at Carrizal, in which a number on both sides were reported to have been killed.

Reports to Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district indicated that hurried preparations for the departure of the 1000 troops under Gen. Francisco Gonzalez were being made in Juarez throughout the night. Troop trains with steam up stood in the railway yards while supplies, armament, food and forage were being hastily loaded into freight cars.

Evacuation of Juarez

Capt. James Allison, provost marshal of El Paso, received a report from a Mexican source early today that the evacuation of Juarez was already under way and that one train of box cars and day coaches, heavily loaded with soldiers, some of whom were perched on the tops of the cars, had left for the south over the Mexican Central line.

Throughout the night the streets in Juarez were filled with cavalrymen, a number of small detachments moving from the city and into the hills beyond while others left Juarez ostensibly to take station at border points within a few miles of El Paso. However, neither Andres Garcia, Mexican consul who spent the night in the Mexican town, nor Mexican military officials, would discuss the reported evacuation over the telephone.

Details of Engagement

Details of the engagement at Carrizal are awaited anxiously here. Gen. Bell said early today that no reports had been received from Gen. Pershing, the American expeditionary commander, or from any of his subordinate officers.

Confidence was expressed, however, that the American version of the clash would be received later in the day. Stress was laid upon the fact that the battle was fought approximately 65 miles from Colonia Dublan, General Pershing's field headquarters, and that with no means of wire communication available, it would take a courier some time to reach the expeditionary commander with a report.

New Version of Battle

A new version of the engagement was brought here today by a Mexican civilian, who was at Villa Ahumada early yesterday afternoon and who said he assisted in dressing some of the Mexican wounded. He said that Gen. Felix Gomez, the slain Carranza leader, had been captured by the approach of the Americans for 12 hours and had sent a number of couriers to them warning them to return to their encampment.

Pitfall Concealed With Brush

When they persisted in their advance, he said, a pitfall several hundred feet in length was dug directly in the trail over which the cavalrymen must ride. This was cleverly concealed with brush.

Plunged Into Pitfall

As the Americans rode unsuspectingly through the sand dunes toward the entrenchment, Gen. Gomez lay concealed some hundred yards away in the mesquite. The horses of the American vanguard plunged into the pitfall, upsetting their riders and injuring a number of them.

17 Americans Captured

Then, the Mexican asserted, the Carranza force lying in ambush raked the American ranks with a machine gun. The heavy fire forced the Americans to withdraw, to reorganize their line and the Mexicans captured 17 soldiers who had been thrown into the pit.

He asserted that it was then that Gen. Gomez went forward under a flag of truce and that before the proposed parley had begun an irresponsible soldier again started the machine gun fire.

Gen. Gomez Killed

A small detachment of cavalrymen charged toward Gen. Gomez and his party, who were in the center of a field, directly between the two commands, their pistol fire killing the Mexican leader.

Forty Americans Killed

According to the story, both commands withdrew. The Mexican was unable to estimate the Mexican dead, but asserted that the American dead numbered 40. This statement, agreeing with the Mexican official reports, no doubt that both commands suffered heavily in the fight, but pointed out that no information concerning the engagement other than from Mexican sources has been received.

All Information from Mexicans

Even the two Americans, James Maxey and J. C. Hubble, who brought the most detailed accounts to the border, said that their informants were all Mexicans. Hope was expressed that the American casualties will not prove as heavy as the Mexican reports have indicated.

To Rescue Americans

It was not considered unlikely that Gen. Pershing already has taken steps looking toward the reinforcement of the cavalry command engaged and to a swift punitive action. It was also expected that he would take such steps as are possible to rescue the captive Americans who now are on their way to Chihuahua City.

1000 Mexicans Cross Border

Reports of the evacuation of towns held by Carranza garrisons in the territory occupied by the expeditionary command continued today, and it was thought that Gen. Trevino has ordered the re-disposition of the troops composing the ring which has surrounded Gen. Pershing's forces for some weeks to offset a re-alignment which the American commander began yesterday. During the night upwards of 1000 Mexicans crossed the border from El Paso to Juarez and today the exodus continued.

Withdrawal from Juarez

Army officers asserted today that the Mexican leaders have long realized that in the event of hostilities with the United States they could not hope to hold Juarez against the Americans and have planned to withdraw to a more strategic point.

PLACARDS AT JUAREZ

CALL MEXICANS TO ARMS

EL PASO, June 22.—Placards were posted about Juarez yesterday calling on all Mexicans to present themselves for possible military service. They bore the signature of Gen. Jacinto Trevino.

FUNSTON AWAITS NEWS

FROM GEN. PERSHING

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Funston's headquarters reflected today the unfavorable strain in the American-Mexican situation.

The night had passed without news from Gen. Pershing and army officers here professed to see a remaining chance that war might be avoided, although unwilling to believe that the commander of the American force that clashed yesterday with Gen. Trevino's men at Carrizal had been the aggressor.

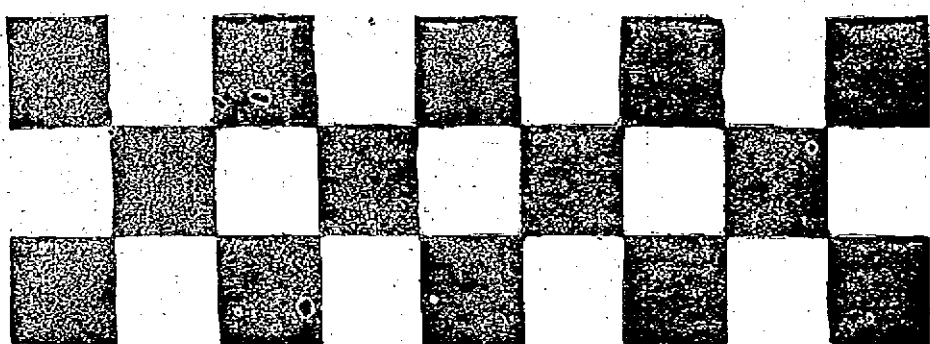

Frank skepticism was aroused by the suggestion that Gen. Gomez might not have been attempting to enforce the Carranza edict by force, and it was pointed out that his determination to force the Americans back to their own line was indicated by the official admission that he had sent a messenger to the American commander advising him to withdraw.

Gen. Funston spent the night in effort to learn more details of what occurred at Carrizal but in conformity with the known attitude of the administration not to precipitate war without orders or sufficient cause he remained steadfast in his determination not to authorize moves that would remove all doubts as to the American army's future relations with that of Carranza.

Staff officers realized that in the event of military operations on a big scale the great problem would be in dealing with the various big units of the Carranza army stationed within striking distance of every port of entry from Brownsville to Lower California.

News that Juarez was being evacuated by the Mexican garrison did not surprise the headquarters staff, which yesterday learned that Gen. Ricaut had removed the forces from Matamoros and that similar action had been taken at one or two other towns. In no case, however, have the Mexican forces moved far south of the border. Apparently the intention of the Mexican army officers was to make such disposition of their men that a defense could be maintained beyond towns that lie under the guns planted on the American side. A notable exception was offered at Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, where the garrison was increased by the arrival of Gen. Francisco Murguia with 2000 troops. Additional troops also were added to the garrison at Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, and from Nogales also was reported a heavy concentration in the interior and in position to menace a rich valley on the American side.

Of the reported Mexican troop movements caused anxiety at army headquarters, however, where confidence is felt in the ability of the American forces to carry out, without hitch, any orders they may receive.

Eighth Inning Rally Gives Locals
Lead—Batting of Stimpson and
Kilhullen Featured

Lowell took advantage of Pitcher Woodward's wildness in the eighth inning of the game with New Haven yesterday afternoon and besides breaking a 2-2 tie, piled up a three run lead which was retained to the end and the local boys captured the game by a score of 5 to 2.

The contest was close throughout and despite the rain which fell during the last inning the crowd remained until the final out was made.

Matty Zieser was in the points for Lowell and although he persisted in getting himself into serious holes by giving the opposing batters free transportation to the first sack, he twisted a good game. He gave eight bases on balls. Woodward was touched up for 10 hits and issued six passes, five of which came in the eighth inning.

The batting of Outfielder Stimpson featured the first two men up, good fielding on the part of the Lowell players prevented the visitors from scoring. Lowell's only chance to get a man across the plate was lost when Stimpson died at third.

Nutter opened with a base on balls, but was thrown out at second by Kilhullen when the runner tried to purloin the second base. J. Shannon was also given a free pass. M. Shannon sent a high fly up in front of the plate and "Kil" got under it and there were two out. Miller was third out on a fly to Torphy.

No runs, no hits, no errors. In the latter half of the inning Stimpson went to first after being hit by a pitched ball, and traveled along to second on Lord's infield out. M. Shannon to Miller. Stimpson was out at third on Briggs' grounder to M. Shannon. Barrows closed the inning with a foul fly to Courtney.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 5, New Haven 0.

Second Inning
New Haven broke the ice in the second inning by sending a man across the plate on Kilhullen's miff of a throw by Torphy. Chouinard scoring. Lowell failed to do any effective work.

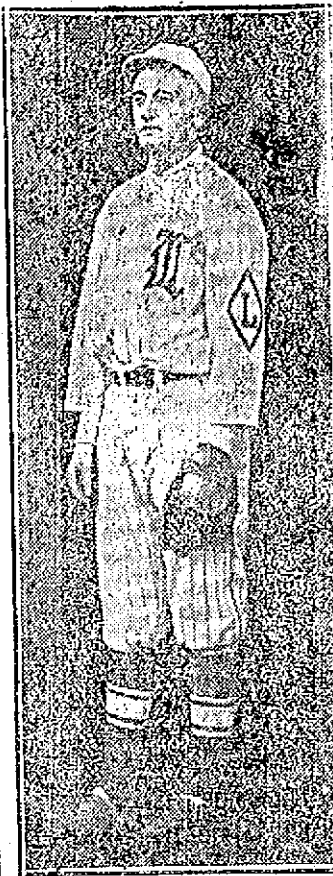

Chouinard hit to deep right field for three bases and Courtney went to first on four balls. Bressler hit to Torphy, and the latter threw the ball to Kilhullen to get Chouinard at the plate, but "Kil" dropped the ball and the runner scored. Devine was also given a free pass. Woodward hit to Zieser, who threw to Kilhullen, getting Courtney at the plate. Kilhullen threw to Greenough, completing a double play, and was out at first.

One run, one hit, one error. In Lowell's half Greenough struck out. Kilhullen singled but was forced at second on Torphy's grounder to Courtney. Greenough was called out on strikes.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Third Inning

Lowell tied the score in the third. Stimpson opened with a single, stole second and went to third on a put out and scored on Briggs' single. The visitors were retired in quick order. J. Shannon flied to Barrows and M. Shannon struck out. Miller hit a high fly which Briggs gathered in for the third out.

Zieser sent a grounder to Woodward and was retired at first. Stimpson singled to left field and stole second. Lord sent the ball to Chouinard and failed to reach first. Stimpson going to third on the put out. Briggs singled over short stop scoring Stimpson. Barrows sent a grounder to M. Shannon and Briggs was nailed at third.

One run, two hits, one error. Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Fourth Inning

Neither side scored in the fourth inning. Chouinard hit a hot grounder to Greenough and was out at first. Zieser covering the bag, Courtney grounded to Greenough and was out at first, the latter making the put out unassisted. Bressler singled to right field but was forced at second on Devine's hot grounder to Greenough.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Greenough sent a grounder to Chouinard and was out at first. Bressler then made a nice catch of Kilhullen's fly to left garden. M. Shannon made a poor throw on Torphy's grounder and the runner was safe at first. Greenough drew a free pass but Zieser closed the inning with a grounder to Miller.

No runs, no hits, one error. Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Fifth Inning

It looked as though the visitors would score after Zieser gave two passes in the fifth, but he closed up the gap by striking out two of the heavy hitters of the team.

Woodward opened the fifth with a walk to first, Zieser having passed him up. He went to second on Nutter's sacrifice. J. Shannon was also given a base on balls. Zieser in attempting to get Woodward off second threw wild and both base runners were advanced. M. Shannon and Miller, the two heavy hitters of the New Haven team, were retired on strikes.

No runs, no hits, one error. Stimpson claimed the ball to left field for what looked like a good smash, but Bressler made a quick recovery and Stimpson was unable to get farther than first. Lord drove the ball to J. Shannon and the latter threw to first for a double. Stimpson being caught off the bag. Briggs was third out on a grounder to M. Shannon.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 1.

Sixth Inning

Lowell forged to the front in this inning by sending a man across the plate.

Chouinard hit through Zieser for a safe one and Courtney followed with a strike-out. Bressler fouled to Kilhullen and a little later Chouinard was thrown out while attempting to steal second.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Barrows went out on a foul-fly to Courtney. Greenough hit a bouncer over Courtney's head and was safe at first. Kilhullen got scratch hit between first and second, but Greenough in attempting to throw the ball to the plate was thrown out. Woodward made a bad throw of Torphy's grounder and the runner was safe at first. Greenough sent a grounder through Chouinard and Kilhullen scored. Zieser closed the inning with a grounder to Chouinard.

One run, two hits, two errors. Score: Lowell 2, New Haven 1.

Seventh Inning

Devine singled by third base and went to second on Woodward's sacrifice. Nutter made three healthy swings at the ball, but failed to connect and was the second out. J. Shannon hit to Greenough and was third out.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Stimpson opened the latter half of the seventh with a single over second base and went to second on Lord's sacrifice. Briggs struck out. Barrows singled to right and was safe, but Stimpson was nailed at the plate trying to score on the hit.

No runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 2, New Haven 1.

Eighth Inning

M. Shannon opened the eighth with a double to left field and went to third on Miller's infield out. Zieser to Greenough. Chouinard scratched a single to centre and M. Shannon crossed the plate, tying the score. Courtney struck out. Bressler bunted and Kilhullen took the ball and tagged him

One run, two hits, no errors. Greenough walked. Kilhullen singled to centre, Greenough going to second. Torphy walked, filling the bases. Greenough was hit on the back by a pitched ball, but Umpire Stafford would not allow him to go to first, stating that the batter did not try to get out of the way. Greenough was forced, forcing in Greenough. Zieser struck out. Stimpson got his fourth hit of the game, a single to left and Kilhullen scored. Torphy was out at third on Bressler's throw to Courtney. Lord walked and the bases were filled again.

Briggs walked and Greenough came across with another run. Barrows grounded out, Chouinard to Miller. Three runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 5, New Haven 2.

M. Shannon went out, Zieser to Greenough.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

CRAWFORD AT FIRST BASE

JENNINGS WANTS "WEAHOH SAM" TO PLAY INSTEAD OF "VET-ERAN UNWILLING"

Jennings has been unjustly charged with keeping Sam Crawford on the bench through spite. The absurdity of such a charge is apparent when it is considered that success means more to Hughes than it can possibly mean to any other person, writes Norman Beasley in the Detroit Journal. Jennings has been switching his team about—that's true—but he has made switches with the purpose of getting a winning combination. Surely that is a laudable desire.

Jennings has been unable to use Crawford through most of the season because the veteran has been suffering from an assortment of ailments. First, Sam was threatened with pneumonia and when shaking off this discovered that the cold had settled in the muscles of his back. It was an impossible thought to consider Sam in the line-up when beset by these troubles.

In the next place, Jennings honestly believes Sam is at his trail's end as an outfielder. Jennings, in believing this, shares an idea with a lot of baseball men. Sam is at the age where tendons tighten and he cannot cover ground as he once did. Slow runners take advantage of his throwing arm and Jennings, in playing Hellmuth in right field, was casting about for a capable substitute.

Hughes does not believe Crawford's days are ended as a major leaguer. He wants Sam to play first base but Crawford is unwilling because of a lack of practice.

SPORTS CLOSE CONVENTION

Haverhill Lodge Wins Prize Drill at Newport

NEWPORT, June 22.—Haverhill lodge of the Royal Order of Moose won the silver cup given by Gov. R. Livingston Beekman for the prize drill yesterday afternoon, which with sports closed the New England convention. Woonsocket lodge was second and Whip City lodge of Westfield, Mass., was third.

Of the prizes in the big parade yesterday morning and afternoon, Cranston lodge took three—for the best appearing lodge, for having the largest number of members and for having the tallest moose in line.

Westfield lodge took the prize for the lodge coming the longest distance. Warwick for having the heaviest. Pawtucket for the shortest and Woonsocket for the lightest moose in line.

GOOD FOR 5 YEARS YET

EDDIE PLANK BELIEVES HE WILL BE PITCHING WHEN 45 YEARS OLD

Eddie Plank refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't amount to much this season, and considers it a crime to keep on pitching in his 45th year. He is 45 years old. According to all that does, the hero of Gettysburg will stick around another five years. In a garrulous moment the other day he consented to talk about himself. Here is what he had to say:

"I've never had a sore arm, and when

I quit the game it will be because I'm tired of it. I'm 40 now, but I'm going to stick in the big leagues for five more years. At 45, then, I think I'll be prepared to stay at home. Pitching is a job. It must be studied by the pitcher. He must study the other fellow, the batter, and then give him what he knows he cannot hit.

"That's the fellow with the fast ball will last longer than the one with the curve. I'll pitch five fast ones to a single curve or slow ball. But the winning pitcher must have the combination. He must mix 'em up. If you can control is the biggest point. If you can put it where you want, then you'll win more games than you lose.

"I believe control just was natural with me. If you keep the ball away from the 'groove' of the sluggers you'll win. Benny Kauff got one real hit off me last season. It was a drive over the right field fence in St. Louis. He had me three and two and my foot slipped just as I shot the ball. It went outside, and he met it.

"You can't fool Ty Cobb. He'll hit anything. Against Ty I just try to get him off his stride and trust to luck of my infielders. Against sluggers like Crawford, Speaker and Jackson, they are easier to feel than Ty, because they swing a heavy bat and hold it on the handle. Ty swings a light one, and he swings it like a toothpick.

"I never try for a strike-out record. I won't last long if you attempt to fan every fellow who comes up there. I know that I have eight other fellows in the field with me. In spring training I take my time. Never a curve until after the first week, and then I start my speed gradually. I believe this system has kept my arm in shape for 15 long years."

Play Ball!

(Anonymous—although efforts were made to learn author's name). This world's a diamond, with the bases laid. It's a great game of ball. And it's the umpire, watching by the plate.

We're at the bat. Our purpose o'er and o'er. To wield ambition's club and try to score. To try to solve the curves the pitcher throws. And in the sphere where not a fielder goes.

Some of us seem to bat with skill im-mortal. Knocking long homers o'er the deep field fence. Others bat in field hits, but wildly. And beat the ball down to the primal base.

Still others, though they strive their best, Fan wildly at the air, and then strike out. Then seek the bench, downcast, with Crestfallen, shamefaced, blue, ambition gone! Or rag the umpire, growling like a bear.

"You robber! That decision wasn't fair!" That's not the game! Be not a grouch. What though you're not a straight 300 hitter.

You've got another chance. Stand to the plate. Grab tight your bat, get braced and calmly wait! For a good one—let the other play!

And when it comes—Now! I am it hard, and zip! It's got to go, and so must you, old man. Hike for the base. Keep going—yes, you can. Stead on! Good! Now, easy—not too gay.

There! Get a lead! A hit! Now you're away! Keep on! Don't stop! Don't lose that dandy stride. You've got to beat the throw in. Slide, now! Slide! It's there! Of course you scored.

See—there's your tally marked up on the board! And now you'll win the game—no doubt at all. You just can't lose, old man, if you'll play ball.

FOSTER A HERO

Red Sox Pitcher Blanks

Yankees Without Even

a Hit—Score 2 to 0

George Foster, Little Giant of the Red Sox, burst his way into baseball's big book of fame yesterday by pitching a no-hit, no-run, 2 to 0 game against the New York Yankees at Fenway Park.

George Foster, the same barrel-chested Little Iron man who won two games for the Sox in last October's world series. In fact, he it was who pitched the Sox to victory in the game which won the world championship for the Carlgans.

Only three times yesterday did Yankees reach first base, all three on bases on balls. A sacrificial bunt sent one of these three to second, but that was the dead-end. The Carlgans, however, were perfect support, which at times became spectacular.

It was the first no-hit, no-run game in the American league since May 31, 1914, when Joe Benz of the White Sox humiliated the Cleveland Nuts since Joe Wood doubly dashed the St. Louis Browns in July, 1913, has a Red Sox pitcher swung the Biggest Proom.

But yesterday's no-hit, no-run game was the second by a Boston big league pitcher in a week. Last Friday Tom Hughes of the Braves pitched a 2 to 0, no-hit, no-run game at Braves Field against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Bill Carrigan caught Foster, the first time Boss Bill has handled his delivery for many a day. Much of the credit of the pitcher's great work goes to the manager, whose knowledge of batters' weaknesses is unexcelled.

There is no cloud of doubt over the no-hit, no-run performance. There was never any question of judgment for the scorers to settle. Neither team made an error. It was as near a technically perfect game as Boston has ever seen since 1904, when Cy Young pitched a no-hit, no-run, no-reach game against Rube Waddell and the Athletics on the old Hunt-ington avenue grounds.

Four balls were hit hard by the Yankees throughout the game, and on one of them Foster showed the extent of his mastery. In the second Harry Hooper made one of his sensational catches in deep right field at the expense of Home Run Baker, incidentally a hit which would have been a home run on the New York Polo grounds and many another park with a shorter right field barrier.

CLEAN-UP FOR HARVARD

CRIMSON CLINCHES SERIES BY DEFEATING YALE 4 TO 1 YESTERDAY—CROWD OF 15,000

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—By defeating Yale, 4 to 1 yesterday, Harvard clinched the three game series with that university, having won the first game at New Haven yesterday, 5 to 2.

A crowd estimated at 15,000 saw the contest, which had the usual commencement game side features, including a parade of the various classes in uniform, the singing of class songs, and a musical battle between classes in the grand stand.

Yale got the bases full in the fifth and Early's long fly gave Shepley an opportunity to score. It looked as if the Blue would pile up several runs but Watrous was caught napping at first and the side was retired. Harvard battersmen hit hard in the next inning, a long drive by Beal scoring Coolidge and Abbot. The score:

Yale..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 4 2

Batteries: Harrison, Safford and Harte; Watrous and Munson.

ABSOLUTELY PURE 100% TURKISH TOBACCO

STRAIGHTS CIGARETTES

Alfred W.M. Camm writes able articles in the New York Globe, exposing filth in foods and factories. He calls a spade a spade.

He examined the plant where STRAIGHTS are made and these are a few of the spades he called:

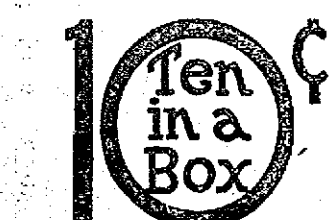

"Cigarette maker puts food makers to shame"

"I urge all to visit this factory where cleanliness is little short of godliness"

"The Tobacco was laid away as carefully as the old fashioned house-wife stores away her spare linen"

"A poem of sanitation"

STRAIGHTS are surpassingly good and pure. One box tells the story.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

The next home game is a week from tomorrow with Hartford.

Lowell showed a little ginger at the proper time yesterday and clinched the game.

For a time it looked as though Matty Zieser was going wild but he regained control and did well.

Greenough is playing a good game at second base. He made one fine stop of a hard hit grounder that looked like a hit and got his man at first.

Greenough, the new first baseman, is a nifty fielder and displays considerable pep. In three games he has made 25 putouts and six assists without an error. While he has yet to get his first hit, Greenough has reached first seven times in the three games.

Rube Bressler, a former Athletic pitcher, played a fine game in left field. Besides making a splendid catch of a hard hit ball from Kihullen's club, he held a couple of hits that were labelled doubles to plain single. Rube is a valuable man for the New Haven team.

Danny Murphy, who played second base when the New Haven boys were here earlier in the season, was in uniform, but did not come from the bench during the game. Occasionally Danny scolded his players a little but he seemed particularly calm, after having watched Burkett, Pieper and Hamilton perform.

Umpire Stafford did not make a very good showing in the three games he officiated at this week. His decisions on balls and strikes were often off and he did not seem to watch the bases very too closely.

Webb Crowther, acting manager of Hartford, is a native of that city and played with the Senators in the Eastern association in 1911. He coached the Vermont university team in 1914 and was manager of Bellows Falls in the Twin State league for two seasons.

"Scissors" Shears, the former Lawrence pitcher, is out of a job. He is staying in the down-river city and is expected to pitch Saturday games if he doesn't catch on anywhere soon.

The protest filed by Manager Pieper of the game played in Lawrence on account of the "hidden ball" has been thrown out. There was nothing else for the league officials to do as Umpire Ennis declared the game was in progress.

Alex Pearson, veteran pitcher of the Lawrence staff, is to be let go as Umpire thinks Alex has outlived his usefulness. Jesse says if he cannot trade Alex, he will release him outright.

The Fitchburg Sentinel says: "It has been suggested that Lowell or one of the other clubs that is in financial straits may come to Fitchburg and play out the schedule for the remainder of the year with local fans standing back of the venture to make good certain losses if the game isn't self-supporting. That plan has been suggested several times and local men will money may be given a chance to do something along those lines if Lowell, Lawrence or other clubs don't get relief soon. President W. W. Sargent of the Fitchburg & Lowell street railway stated this morning that he has not been approached in regard to wronging any team and had not been considering any purchase while the league is in the present demoralized condition, due to bad weather, awkward schedule and too many teams. If the league were divided into two sections with Worcester and Fitchburg in the old New England league division, something might be done to have a team here, but under present conditions very little attention is being paid to the Eastern league at this city."

HARVARD AND YALE RACES

OARSMEN REST TODAY—ANNUAL REGATTA WILL BE ROWED TO-MORROW

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.—The training period for Yale and Harvard oarsmen who have been in their Gales Ferry and Red Top quarters on the Thames river, respectively, since early in the month, ended today with a quiet one with the usual scrub races in the early evening. The annual regatta will be rowed tomorrow, and each race must be rowed, or should wind and water be contrary, abandoned as none can go over until Saturday. Some members of each squad are under orders to report to their military organizations for duty late Friday night.

Today's rest is welcome to the oarsmen who have had trying conditions for training with more than the usual share of rain, high winds and rough water and for the past two days there has been the worry over possible abandonment of the races because of the mobilization orders. The difficulty was overcome, however, and a conference last night rearranged the time for the several races, the changes being slight.

Confidence runs high in the rival quarters over prospects. Those who have watched the crews in practice and have noted their physical conditions held to the opinion that all three races, especially the "varsity" eight, in the late afternoon, will be so hotly contested every inch of the way.

FALLS CHOSEN CAPTAIN

Roland B. Falls, star pitcher of the Lowell high school baseball nine, has been unanimously elected captain of the 1917 team at a meeting of the "L" members of the squad. Falls' pitching and heavy hitting features the work of this year's team.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

1231 DEGREES IN COURSE AND 12 HONORARY DEGREES CONFERRED TODAY

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—A departure from the custom of previous years marked the Harvard commencement today when the exercises were held in the Harvard stadium instead of the Sanders theatre. The new plan was conditional upon the weather, and undergraduates and alumni were joyful when they awoke to find the sun shining from a clear sky.

The touch of color usually given to the sombre commencement procession by the brilliant dress uniforms of the National Lancers, Troop A, of the militia cavalry squadron was lacking today. The Lancers in accordance with tradition, escorted the governor from the state house to Cambridge and return but they wore the olive drab service uniform. They were under to go to the militia camp at Framingham later in the day.

During the day ballots were cast by the alumni for five overseers for a term of six years.

Twelve hundred and thirty-one degrees in course and twelve honorary degrees were conferred at the exercises in the stadium.

The honorary degrees were announced as follows: Master of arts: Capt. Constant Corbridge, U.S.A., detailed for duty with the Harvard regiment; Arthur Woods, police commissioner of New York city; Ernest Henry Wilson, botanist, Boston; Harold Murdock, banker, Boston; Edward Sanford Martin, author, New York.

Doctor of divinity: George Hodges, dean of the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge; Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin college.

Doctor of laws: Archibald Cary Coolidge, professor of history at Harvard; Francis Joseph Swayne, justice of the supreme court of New Jersey.

Doctor of letters: Frank William Taussig, professor of economics at Harvard.

Doctor of science: Richard Pearson Strong, biologist, Boston.

Doctor of arts: John Singer Sargent, artist, London.

The degree of Bachelor of arts was awarded to 453 graduates and that of master of arts to 159. Other degrees included: Bachelor of science in various departments, 106; master of science, 12; doctor of philosophy 52, and master of business administration 31. The graduates of the Law school numbered 133, of the Medical school 121, and of the Dental school 69. In the rest of the list included: architecture, engineering, forestry, public health, justice and theology.

LOCAL RED CROSS

Call for Aid From Washington—Lowell Will Help

Branches of the American Red Cross in all parts of the country which have been doing a great work in adding the belligerents of the old world are now confronted with the need for their efforts in Mexico.

Miss Ruth Burke, secretary of the Lowell branch, received the following telegram this morning from the national headquarters at Washington: "Red Cross making plans for two lines of work connected with sending of national guard to Mexico. First, by collecting, forwarding and distributing supplies for troops in camp; second, by giving help to dependent families of soldiers. Details being worked out in full—instructions later."

Officers of the local branch of the Red Cross say they need money and volunteers in order that work for America may be commenced. The Lowell branch will be pushed in the immediate future and the work will be on a much larger scale than hitherto. Money and supplies are needed for the starting of activities, but even more necessary is a large body of volunteer workers to make garments, bandages, clothing and hospital supplies of all sorts. All donations for the Lowell Red Cross should be sent to the secretary, Miss Julia T. Pevey, 63 Dover street, and any person desiring information connected with the local branch may consult the secretary, Miss Ruth Burke, Nesmith street.

Without doubt Lowell will respond nobly to the call for Red Cross volunteers so that our own soldiers may be cared for adequately in case of war.

RAILWAY COMPANY
HAS UPPER HANDBoard of Trade Finds Fault With
Dutton Street Job—Special
Train for Framingham

The Lowell board of trade has taken up with Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, the matter of paving Dutton street, calling the very particular matter in question having to do with the work now in progress in Dutton street. The board of trade doesn't seem to approve of the blocks that are being used by the street railway company and suggests that Mr. Morse furnish the company with new blocks. The following letter, signed by the secretary of the board of trade, was received by

Mr. Morse this morning:

Lowell, Mass., June 21, 1916.
Charles J. Morse, Commissioner of Streets and Highways, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:
We note that the Bay State Street Railway company is laying the paving blocks between its tracks on Dutton street, and is using the old blocks, laying them by placing them on a gravel foundation and grouting the blocks. About one-half of the blocks are being placed with the worn

RECRUITING AT ARMORY

Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge of Company M, Ninth Regiment, N.Y.M., who was left behind to take care of the recruiting in this city, is still on the job and very active. To a Sun reporter this afternoon, he stated that 21 young men had filed their applications in the course of the forenoon. They will go through the physical examination late this afternoon.

Yesterday there were 30 applicants and of this number only 18 successfully passed the physical examination. Most of the new recruits are spending all their time at the armory, and last evening several of them slept there. The men are all anxious to go and so much so that this morning Lieut. Kittredge sent a request to headquarters at South Framingham asking for an immediate call of the new recruits.

Lieut. Kittredge was informed that the roll equipment for the recruits including uniforms and rifles had reached the headquarters of the Ninth regiment at South Framingham, and an effort is being made to have the recruits go on the 5:25 o'clock train this afternoon. Lieut. Kittredge, however, will not accompany the men, but will remain in this city to bring the company to its full military quota, 150 men.

Company G Tonight

The quarters of Company G, Sixth regiment at the armory will be the scene of an interesting gathering this evening.

DIED ON A TRAIN

Sudden Death of Selectman Wright of Billerica
at Dover, N. H.

Word was received here this morning of the sudden death of Josiah Wright, chairman of the Billerica board of selectmen, which occurred in the parlor car of a Lowell bound train near Dover, N. H. Mr. Wright had been in Maine with a party of friends on a fishing trip for about two weeks and was returning to his home in Billerica this morning when the end came.

Mr. Wright, who was 73 years old, had been in poor health for some time but seemed to improve during his stay in Maine. Included in the party were his son-in-law, Walter R. Holden of Reading, and Roland Holden of Billerica. When the train reached North Berwick Mr. Wright was stricken and he was given attendance in the parlor car. He passed away shortly afterward, however, and when medical aid was secured from the Dover, N. H., station, he was dead. The train was detained at Dover for one hour while Medical Examiner E. L. Chapman was examining the body.

The news of Mr. Wright's death was a shock to his many friends. Though past the three score and ten mark, he was active in the affairs of the town of Billerica where he served on the board of selectmen for many years. Up to the time of his death he was chairman of the board. He attended the meetings regularly and always took an important part in the annual town meetings. Mr. Wright had served in several minor offices in connection with the town's affairs. He was a contractor and building mover and resided in Pond street, near Billerica Centre.

Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter R. Holden, and three sons, Chester and Charles of Billerica and Henry of Andover. He was for many years treasurer of Shawshen lodge of Odd Fellows and was prominent in Masonic circles.

The body was taken to Boston on the train and then brought back to Billerica.

Lowell played its last home game for a whole week at Spalding park this afternoon with the New Haven aggregation, yesterday's victim, again the enemy. After today's game the team goes to Bridgeport for games tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday with a lay-off Monday. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday games will be played in the Connecticut cities, and Hartford will visit here a week from tomorrow.

The Lord crowd went after the game today full of "pop" anxious to make it two straight and even up matters before leaving for the "south." Danny Murphy was equally desirous to take today's contest as he cannot afford to lose too many right now when his team is slipping a little.

The Lowell management does not intend to play Greenhalge on second base much longer, not because "Sautter" is not doing well enough, but President Roach does not like to see a man playing out of his position. Then when the double-headers come along more frequently, Greenhalge will be needed to assist Kilhullen in the backstop work.

Thanks to Old Sol and the fact that the store clerks had a half holiday today, the attendance at the game was larger than yesterday.

Harry Lord occupied a seat in the grandstand and his absence from the game caused a slight change in the positions of the local players. Greenhalge covered the third corner while Kane was on second base. Paddy Green did the pitching for Lowell while Kilhullen was behind the bat.

For the visitors Donovan was on the mound and Devine was on the receiving end of the battery.

Umpire Stafford called the game at 3 o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell
Stimpson, 1f.....J. Nutter
Kane, 2f.....J. Shannon
Briggs, 3f.....M. Shannon
Barrows, 4f.....J. Shannon
Greenhalge, 5f.....J. Shannon
Kilhullen, 6f.....J. Shannon
Torphy, 7f.....J. Shannon
Greenough, 8f.....J. Shannon
Green, 9f.....J. Shannon

First Inning

New Haven scored two runs in the first inning while the home team had to be contented with one tally.

Kane gathered in Nutter's grounder and retired the latter at first. J. Shannon followed with a foul-fly to Kilhullen. M. Shannon drew a free pass and Miller a little later hit a grounder through Kane. M. Shannon going to third on the play. A double steal was then attempted. M. Shannon scoring and Miller reaching third. Chouinard singled to right and Miller scored. Chouinard then stole second, but Courtney was third out on strikes.

Two runs, one hit, one error.

Stimpson opened the latter half of the inning with a grounder to Chouinard and was out at first. Kane singled to right field, and taking a long lead off first was doubled up between first and second, but Miller in trying to get him threw wild into left field and Kane was on the third bag before the sphere was recovered. Kane then scored on Bressler's wild throw to the plate. Briggs fled to Bressler and Barrows foul-fled to Courtney.

One run, one hit, two errors.

Score: Lowell 1, New Haven 2.

Second Inning

Lowell tied the score in the second inning when Kilhullen crossed the plate. Bressler opened the session with a grounder to Kane and was retired at first. Devine following with a single to left field. Donovan was retired on strikes and Devine was third out when he tried to steal second.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

In the latter half of the inning, Greenhalge struck out. Kilhullen singled. Donovan thought he would get the Lowell catcher napping at first and threw to Miller but the ball traveled over to the first base bleachers and Kilhullen went to third. Torphy followed with a fly to Nutter in right garden. Greenough came to the front at this point and made his first hit since coming to Lowell. It was a single to right field and Kilhullen scored, tying the score. Green sent an easy grounder to Donovan and was out at first.

One run, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 2, New Haven 2.

Third Inning

Lowell forged to the front in the third inning when two men crossed the plate as a result of a wild throw by Bressler, the visiting left fielder. The Connecticut boys were unable to score in this inning.

Kane gathered in Nutter's hard-bouncer and retired him at first. J. Shannon fled to Briggs and M. Shannon went out on strikes.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Stimpson was given a free pass in the latter half of the inning. Kane sent a bunt along the first base line and beat the ball-out to first. Stimpson going to third on Miller's bad fielding. Briggs fled to Bressler. Stimpson started for home after the ball had been caught and Bressler making a bad throw allowed Stimpson and Kane to score. Barrows and Greenhalge sent grounders to Chouinard and were out at first.

Three runs, one hit, one error.

Score: Lowell 4, New Haven 2.

Fourth Inning

Miller waited out Green and went to first on balls. Chouinard sent a grounder to Torphy and the latter threw to Kane for Miller at second. Kane made a quick throw to first and Chouinard was out. Courtney reached first on Torphy's error of the former's grounder. Courtney then stole second. Greenhalge made a nice stop of Bressler's drive along the third base line and threw the runner out at first.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Kilhullen went to first on a free pass and Torphy sent an easy fly which J. Shannon took care of. Bressler came in on the run from left field and caught Greenough's fly within a few inches of the ground. Green was out at first on a grounder to Miller.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 4, New Haven 2.

Fifth Inning

Devine fled to Briggs and Donovan fled to Stimpson in left garden. Nutter singled over second and went to second base on J. Shannon's single to right. Green struck out M. Shannon.

No runs, two hits, no errors.

Stimpson walked and Kane in attempting to sacrifice popped a fly to Miller. Briggs singled and Stimpson went to second. Stimpson scored on Barrows' single to right. Briggs going to third. Briggs and Barrows attempted a double steal, Briggs being nailed at the plate. Greenhalge was out at first on an easy grounder to Donovan.

One run, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 5, New Haven 2.

Sixth Inning

Miller sent a grounder to Green and was out at first and Chouinard fled to Briggs. Courtney walked to first after being hit by a pitched ball. Kane took Bressler's grounder and threw to first for the put-out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Lowell got another run in the latter half of the inning. Kilhullen opened with a base on balls, this being the fourth consecutive inning that he had passed the first man to face him. He went to second on Torphy's sacrifice and stole third. Greenough made another nice hit and Kilhullen scored. Greenough, however, was caught while trying to steal second. Devine sending the ball to M. Shannon in time to get the runner. Green struck out.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 6, New Haven 2.

Seventh Inning

Devine and Donovan went to first on free passes. Nutter fled to Briggs and Devine went to third. J. Shannon hit to the right field fence, scoring Devine. M. Shannon fled to Stimpson, the latter making a pretty running catch. M. Shannon was caught napping off first.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Stimpson singled to right field. Kane hit one in the same place, and Stimpson went to third by fast running. Briggs singled to left center, scoring Stimpson and Kane. Nutter threw to the plate to get Kane and Briggs went to third. Barrows made a base on balls and a little later Briggs was caught at the plate on Greenhalge's grounder to Donovan. Kilhullen sent a high fly which J. Shannon took care of and Torphy got a base on balls, filling the bases. Greenough was third out on a grounder to Chouinard.

Two runs, three hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 8, New Haven 4.

Eighth Inning

Miller hunted to Green and was out at first. Chouinard singled to left and

—Anti-Turkish Uprising

Greece has yielded to all the demands of the entente powers.

An ultimatum was presented at noon on Wednesday. Shortly afterward, according to Athens despatches, an unconditional acceptance was made known by M. Laimis, the former premier, who is to head a new pro-partisan Greek cabinet. The demands are understood to have included general demobilization, deportation of agents spreading German propaganda and the cessation of the suppression of popular pro-entente sentiment.

Allied Fleet to Athens

The ordering of an allied squadron to Piraeus to be followed by a landing party, reported from Saloniki, probably was decided upon before the assent of Greece to the allied demands was made known.

12 AMERICANS AND 14
MEXICANS WERE KILLED

Pres. Wilson Determined That if War Comes Action of U.S. Will be Prompt and on a Scale of Considerable Magnitude—Mexican Report Says American Commander Responsible For Clash—U.S. Soldier Killed at Naco, Ariz., Today—Resolution Calling For Intervention Read in Senate—Message From Carranza

WASHINGTON, June 22.—No reason for a change in policy toward Mexico is seen by the Washington government in Mexican accounts of the clash at Carrizal yesterday between American and Carranza troops. Pershing there will be no decision, but President Wilson is said to view the first as an incident for which subordinate commanders probably were responsible and not as an act likely to precipitate general hostilities.

An official communication from the Mexican foreign office, announcing the fight and the capture of 12 Americans and seeking an explanation of the presence of United States soldiers in that part of Mexico, far from their base was presented to Secretary Lansing today by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate. It is said an interpreter employed as a guide by the American force declared that the American commander was responsible for the encounter.

From the tone as well as the contents of this communication, officials drew the impression that Carranza desired to disclaim responsibility for the affair and make it plain that no attempt has been made to carry out his threat to undertake expulsion of the American expedition by force of arms. Further information regarding the activities for peace of foreign diplomats at Mexico City reached the state department during the day. From the same source it was learned that Carranza was exerting every effort to avoid a break with the United States.

MOTHER'S PIE

Who has not heard of the "pie that mother made?" There is of course a touch of sentiment in this pie. But it owes its reputation to the good things that went into it. Our recipe calls for a sort of "mother's pie" wholesome, it believes in the simple virtues of courtesy and fair play, of a dollar's worth for a dollar's worth of good, new merchandise and a service alert and courteous. Maybe that explains why (like mother's pie) we have so many good friends.

The advantage of buying a thoroughly dependable, well-known piano like the Behr Bros., at one dollar and fifty cents a week, cannot be retold too often. In this case you are given nearly twice the time in which to pay two hundred and fifty-seven dollars (our sale price) that you ordinarily have been given to pay three hundred and fifty dollars—A BIG DOUBLE ADVANTAGE.

When You Begin to PAY You Begin to OWN a Beautiful BEHR BROS. Piano

WHEN you pay your very first Five Dollars, you begin right then and there to own one of these beautiful Behr Bros. pianos. You also begin right then and there to get the pleasure out of it.

When you pay your first week's payment of one dollar and fifty cents, you have taken the second step toward Ownership; the second week another step; the third week still another step, and so on, and so on, until the first thing you know you will be the proud owner of a fine three hundred and fifty to four hundred dollar Behr Bros. Piano, for which you will have paid BUT TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVEN DOLLARS—WITHOUT HAVING MISSED THE MONEY.

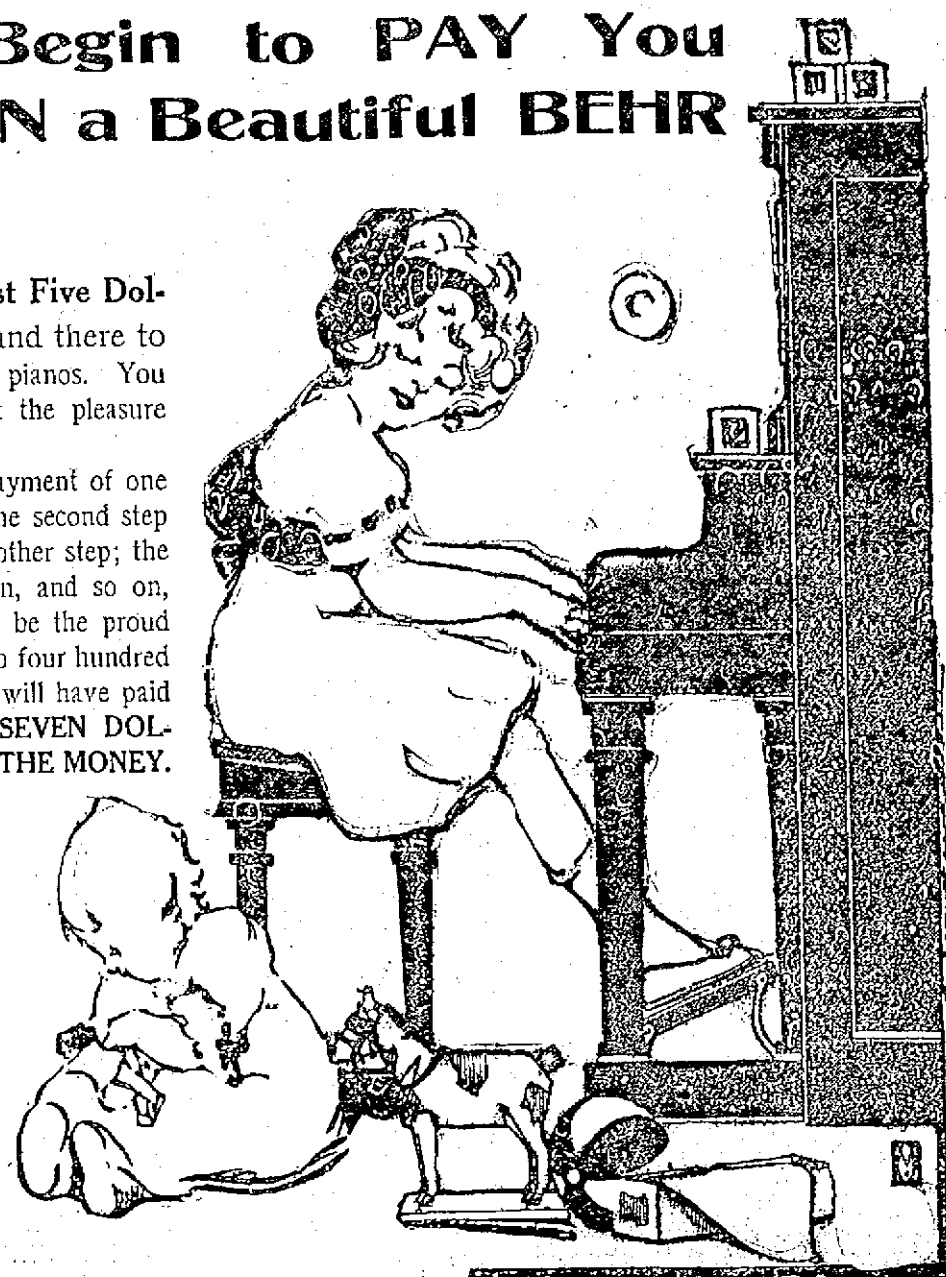

The value of these Pianos as an investment

By investing in one of these Behr Bros. pianos you are acquiring a valuable property. You are investing in something which will be WORTH something when you have paid for it. You are BUILDING UP AN ASSET which, aside from the entertainment and pleasure you get out of it, will be worth a whole lot to you in DOLLARS AND CENTS, five, ten or fifteen years from now.

Remember, you are buying a big three hundred and fifty to four hundred dollars' worth of piano value at a cost of ONLY TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVEN DOLLARS. Taking the regular run of wear and tear into account, one of these pianos will be worth MORE AFTER YOU HAVE IT FULLY PAID FOR THAN YOU NOW HAVE TO PAY FOR ONE, and at that time you will have had over three years' use of it.

And, in the same way, the LONGER you own it, the LESS it will have cost you per month for its use. Figure it any way you wish, it is hard to see how pianos of the exceptional value of the Behr Bros. will have cost you over a dollar a month for their use; it matters not how long you own one, whether it is ten year, fifteen years, or even twenty years.

Every feature of this unusual sale is carried out in offering Behr Bros. player-pianos, with the single exception that the terms on this player-piano are two dollars and twenty-five cents a week instead of—on the piano—one dollar and fifty cents a week. Remember, 50 out of the 125 instruments in this sale are Behr Bros. player-pianos.

A column giving the whole proposition in brief paragraphs

First—You get a Behr Bros. piano which has been made and sold for 35 years at $350 to $400, for $267.

Second—Instead of paying $25 as a first payment and then $10, $12 or $15 month, as you will in the regular way, during this sale you pay but $5 as your first payment and then but $1.50 a week.

Third—You get the strongest guarantee ever put upon a piano; a joint guarantee signed by the manufacturers, and ourselves, giving you absolute protection for five years.

Fourth—You get the privilege of returning your piano at the end of a 30-days' trial and getting YOUR MONEY BACK.

Fifth—Within one year from the day your piano is delivered, you may exchange it, at full price, FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER, without as much as a penny's loss.

Sixth—You are given opportunity to secure others to co-operate in this plan. This still further reduces the cost of your instrument.

Seventh—During this sale, a piano stool to match the piano, and delivery within 50 miles are included without adding any extra expense to you.

BILLERICA HIGH SCHOOL

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF THE HOWE SCHOOL HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

A class of 17, the largest in the history of the school, was graduated at the commencement exercises of the Howe high school of Billerica held in the town hall yesterday afternoon and last evening. The exercises, which consisted of the usual papers by the graduates besides the principal address, were keenly enjoyed by an audience that filled the hall to its capacity. The subject of the class were exceedingly interesting and were presented in a very efficient manner. The decorations were elaborate, flowers of the season having been gathered and hung up by members of the junior class. The program opened with an overture by the orchestra, after which Rev. Burdette Landdowne offered prayer. The program was as follows: Second

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, tired feeling, or with bilious turns, drowsy head, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

honors, "The Trials of the Immigrant," Miss Mary Margaret Cassidy; class oration, "Billerica Before the Revolution," D. Carl Lutzer; selections from High Jinks orchestra, first horn, "The Centenary of Shakespeare," Miss Helen Doris Livingston; prophecy, Miss Frieda Thommen; conferring of the diplomas, Dr. Maurice A. Buck of the school committee; selection, "Honor Bound."

The principal address was given by Dr. George L. Perrin, D.D., of Somerville, whose subject was "Our Relations." In a stirring address Rev. Mr. Perrin gave some sound advice to the graduates. He warned them of the danger of attempting to go through life independent and showed in many ways how dependent everyone is on thousands of other people. The address was very interesting and was appreciated by all, especially the graduates.

The graduates to receive diplomas were: Misses Helen Doris Livingston, Mary Margaret Cassidy, Marietta Blanche Chandler, Frieda Thommen, Mary Henrietta Baril, Winifred Rowena Fisk, Nora Helena Condon, Irene Dorothy Higgins, Florence Eva Coffey, Frederick Thomas Callaghan, D. Carl Lutzer, Charles O'Brien, Dr. Allison Dale, Ralph Sherman Webster and Philip Dulan.

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Howe School Alumni association held last evening in the town hall. At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was held with the members of the 1916 graduating class as guests. Following the dinner Vice-President J. Nelson Parker, in the absence of Dr. A. Warren Stearns, called the business meeting to order.

Lucy M. King, Miss Bertha E. Dimock, Everett M. Mahoney, Mrs. Florence Ritchie, Ralph E. Manning, Thomas H. Bateson, Hilda Perry, William J. A. Lyons and Frederick T. Callaghan. The after-dinner remarks were interesting and were given closest attention by the large number present. Mr. Parker made a most enjoyable toastmaster, and the following responded to his call: John A. Richardson, T. Frank Lyons, Howard Sexton, Miss Angelina Weeks, Charles H. Eames, Herbert A. King, Marietta Kearney, Eugene C. Kling, Grace Knowles, Forrest F. Collier, Hon. Joseph H. Board, Rev. J. Harold Dale and Fred Dickinson.

MOOSERS VISIT HUGHES

PLANS FOR HARMONY BETWEEN PARTIES EXPECTED TO BE DEVELOPED

NEW YORK, June 22.—Plans for harmony between the Republicans and the progressives were expected to be developed at conferences today between Charles E. Hughes, who arrived here today from Providence, R. I., and a number of progressive leaders. Expected callers included Major General Leonard Wood, U.S.A., and Oscar Straus, progressive candidate for governor of New York in 1912.

Republicans for whom appointments had been made included W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, chairman of the national committee's sub-committee which will select a national chairman and an executive committee, and Franklin Murphy, former governor of New Jersey.

Col. Roosevelt came to New York today from his Oyster Bay home and expected to confer with progressive leaders in the afternoon. He said he had no appointment with Mr. Hughes.

HIGHLAND CLUB OUTING

JOLLY PARTY TO MARTIN LUTHER GROUNDS, TYNGSBORO—BASEBALL, BANQUET AND GOOD TIME

Approximately 100 members of the Highland club left the club home in Princeton street in a score of automobiles about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon bound for the grounds of the Martin Luther club in Tyngsboro. The clouds that hovered in the sky did not dull the spirits of the members to any extent and it was the unanimous decision to carry out the program as planned despite the offerings of the weather man.

It was a jolly "bunch" that bowled over the road in the many machines bedecked in club banners and other decorations. Arriving at the grounds, superfluous wraps were discarded and the members started right in for an afternoon of real enjoyment. A baseball game between two picked nines which developed some sensational playing was staged and there were various other sporting numbers for both young and old.

At 5 o'clock the party repaired to the club house and sat down to a sumptuous banquet served by the D. L. Page Co. Despite the fact that a buffet luncheon was served on the grounds all afternoon, the appetites of the members were tuned up to a high pitch and they did full justice to the feed.

Musical numbers, after-dinner speeches and other features were in order after the banquet and it is planned to make the return trip about 7:30 o'clock this evening. The outing was in charge of the executive committee of the club comprised of the following: President, Albert G. McCurdy, John W. Anderson, Victor Carey, Walter H. Emmott, Dr. Herbert Davis, Fred Leary, Fred Campbell, Thomas Corcoran, George H. Spillane and Roy Lovejoy.

LICENSE BOARD MET

The license commission met in special session this morning and granted several minor licenses. Walter A. Chase was granted a license to conduct a merry-go-round on the old fair grounds. He had made an application for another lot, but owing to objection the commissioners at the meeting held Tuesday night refused to grant the license.

A common victualer license was granted to Grant Genale at 581 Middlesex street and Albert Orszut of 172 Warren street was granted a hawker and pedler license.

PROF. EDMUNDS' RECITAL

A real musical treat is promised at the First Trinitarian-Congregational church this evening when the pupils of Percy W. Edmunds will give a vocal recital. The violinist for the occasion will be Miss Kathleen Wright, with Walter Coburn as organist and Percy W. Edmunds as pianist. The program is a very excellent one and promises to reflect the splendid training of the pupils, particularly those of the advanced class.

Mr. Edmunds will produce, by request, during the fall, Gilbert & Sullivan's popular opera, "The Pirates of Penzance." The cast and chorus will be selected entirely from Mr. Edmunds' present and former pupils. Mr. Edmunds was for many years a member of the Savoy Theatre Co. London, the home of the famous Gilbert & Sullivan operas and the company will, therefore, benefit by his long experience as actor, producer and musical director.

INQUEST ON LOVEJOY DEATH

An inquest into the death of Malcolm Lovejoy will be held in the court of second sessions in the Market building Saturday morning.

NO DECORATIONS ALLOWED

BOSTON, June 22.—Just before leaving for Framingham yesterday, Col. Edward L. Logan, commanding the 31st infantry, explained his reasons for not permitting his men to wear green sprigs of euonymus, a form of laurel, that Mayor Curley had provided for them at the East Newton street armory. It is against the rules and besides the men of the ninth are not hyphenated Americans. The men appreciated Col. Logan's view of the matter.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Ida Riehl, 18 years of age, was acquitted yesterday of a charge of murdering her sweetheart, Edmund Hauptfuhrer, in May, 1915, when he spurned her entreaties to marry her. The jury returned a verdict after deliberating less than an hour. While the defense based its case on a plea of temporary insanity, it virtually involved the unwritten law. The trial began yesterday.

THE SPELLBINDER

While the scenes enacted at the depot in connection with the departure of the boys of Company M, Ninth regiment were mild in comparison with the possibilities of war, they first to make one reflect that President Wilson did something commendable in holding off the call to arms as long as possible. War viewed at a distance is something entirely different from war or even the preparation therefor, viewed at close range. The soldiers themselves were in exuberant spirits over the sudden turn of affairs but those left at home were sad at heart.

The occasion of the departure of the Ninth demonstrated the fact that such a crisis makes all men akin whatever their politics may be and those who have condemned President Wilson's policy view with those who have endorsed it, in cheering the soldiers and wishing them God-speed. Mayor O'Donnell, who was on hand to assist in giving the boys a send-off, was lustily cheered by the soldiers as they stepped from their train while it was pulling out of the depot, and his first official act upon his arrival at city hall was to make provision for a relief fund for the care of those dependent upon the soldiers during the absence of the latter from home. The response, even before the announcement of the establishment of the fund was made public, was Bennett Silverblatt, the well known lawyer of the Sun building, a prominent representative of Lowell's Jewish community, which quite clearly indicates that all of Lowell's various nationalities and creeds are one, when a supreme emergency arises to test the patriotism of its citizens.

The Mobilization
The prompt manner in which the militia has been mobilized all over the country sets an example for the world. But then the world has twice before seen what the United States can do when war is declared. In 1861, when war was imminent between north and south, the European press almost without exception "saw the finish" of the republic in the event of war. It asserted that "patriotism was unknown to Americans, and that a free government like ours, compelled to rely upon volunteer service, could not muster a large army of defenders. The proclamation of President Lincoln calling for 75,000 soldiers was received as the venturous act of despair and a quick dissolution of the Union was prophesied." And even in this country there were a few who entertained similarly unfriendly thoughts. But the attack on Fort Sumter occurred on April 12, and history tells us what happened afterward. The 75,000 were there, and more, too, and the Union survived. "Two things in the Civil war amazed the world: one the number and courage of our volunteers; the other the ability of the commanding officers. The prowess of the successful warfare in other countries were large standing armies and years of careful training for officers and men. In this country only the call of the president was needed to raise up thousands of men most daring in deed and most skillful in leadership."

After the Civil war a noted French general, commenting upon the conduct of the American soldier said: "War is a science of high degree; at the commencement of the contest the government of the United States had at its disposal only a handful of trained officers; the war, moreover, was to offer in its varied operations unusual difficulties; and yet the command throughout the vast army was admirable in skill of planning and execution.

The Spanish-American war witnessed another great outpouring of heroic citizen-soldiers and gallant and skilled leaders and now once more they have been called out, and Mexico will be the victim, unless the government interprets the handwriting on the border and quits.

Eliminate the Poles
Now that it is assured that a new bridge is to be built at Pawtucket Falls, let it be an appropriate time to take up the matter of the multiplicity of telegraph and telephone poles that are at present stuck up in Pawtucket Square? There are some 14 of them, within a very few feet of each other, and while they are not particularly unsightly even in a city environment, old frame buildings and a rusty iron bridge, they will be less slightly when some of those buildings have been removed, and a new and gracefully constructed bridge structure shall have been completed. It would be well to remove all of them and place the wires underground, at this time, but if this cannot be done, surely there does not seem to be any need for so many of them within such a limited area. Judging from the talk around city hall, now that the bridge promoters at Pawtucketville have been assured that the bridge itself is now to be constructed, they will soon occupy their spare time in agitating the removal of some, if not all, of the unsightly poles at Pawtucket square.

Street Railway Preparedness
The fact that the street railway company has sent snow plows into Pawtucketville, is not a reflection upon the municipal council, by intimating that it will not have the bridge completed before the snow flies, but is simply a matter of preparedness, should such a thing happen. Many disappointed patrons of the road undoubtedly entertain the wish that the company would exercise such commendable preparedness in the conduct of some of its other lines; preparedness to accommodate its growing business in certain sections. If the construction of the new bridge is prolonged beyond expectations it will be the weather conditions and those existing in the river or something else unforeseen, rather than any delinquency on the part of the municipal council which has tackled the proposition in a business-like manner, after a year's fruitless discussion by the former government, and which is set upon carrying it through on schedule time.

Speaking of the street railway's preparedness the members of the Lowell Driving club think that the Bay State is not onto its job when it will not make preparations to carry the public to the Driving Park at Golden Cove, where the club intends to hold big meets, county fairs, etc. The Driving club would have been a much better place to hold the Buffalo Bill show and the circus, even, as some aver, under present street railway conditions. The members would like better accommodations to the park but the street railway people, it is said, claim that it would cost $30,000 to lay double tracks out to Golden Cove, and offer no other solution of the matter. A spur track from

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulitified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of matter in the dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulitified coconut oil at any grocery store, very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Chelmsford street to the park entrance might be laid at less expense, and perhaps this would get around the difficulty. The jitneys surely had the call on the street cars at Monday night's event in the rear of the cemetery.

Water Department Parks
A visitor at city hall, yesterday, remarked that the parks of the water department, which for the past few years have been among the city's real beauty spots, are not looking as attractive to the eye this season, and attributed the fact to the rainy weather. That, perhaps, was in part responsible for their appearance, but Commissioner Putnam this far has not had a sufficient income in his department to keep them as well as he would otherwise, and Mr. Harry Nichols, who for the past two years has been responsible for their artistic appearance, is at present employed at the filtration plant on account of the enlargement of the water department. The water department has quite a good sized park system, made up mostly of land which must be kept free from buildings on account of its proximity to the water services. At a comparatively small expenditure, under the skillful direction of Mr. Nichols, these former vacant lots have been transformed into floral and grassy bowers, which add much to the city's outdoor appearance.

AMENDMENT FOR INCREASE OF $2,000,000 IN ARMY BILL—HOUSE REFUSES $20 TO GUARDMEN

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Republican members of the house, who a month ago amended the naval bill to provide for an increase of $2,000,000 in the aeroplane appropriation, carried an amendment through the committee of the whole yesterday for a similar increase in the army bill. The increase from $1,222,100 to $3,222,100 would provide for an additional 200 machines.

Minority Leader Mann, who offered the amendment, declared the aviation service was in a deplorable state and should be built up immediately. Only two democrats, Representatives Hurlbut and Beaks of Michigan, voted for it.

The house adopted without opposition an amendment providing that civil employees of the government who are called into service with the National Guard shall be given their old positions when mustered out, but voted down a proposal to increase the pay of guardsmen from $15 to $20 a month during the active service.

FOR EIGHT CAPITAL SHIPS

FOUR DREADNOUGHTS SURE, TILLMAN BELIEVES—INCREASE OF 20,000 IN NAVY PERSONNEL

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A proposal for four battle cruisers and four dreadnoughts in this year's naval construction program was discussed yesterday by the senate sub-committee, before which the naval bill is pending. Chairman Tillman predicted, after the conference, that the eight capital ship plans would be approved. Senators Swanson and Lodge, the other members, said a substantial increase was certain over the house building program of five battle cruisers and no dreadnoughts.

"We are going to give the navy the entire increase in personnel that they ask for, too," said Senator Tillman. "I think the total enlisted strength they wanted is about 70,000 men, or an increase of 20,700 men."

NEW YORK, June 21.—Contracts for four new vessels have been awarded for the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship company, and the time New York to Havana will be reduced 24 hours as soon as they can be placed in commission, according to an announcement made yesterday by President Alfred Gilbert Smith. Two of them will be passenger ships of 12,000 tons displacement, and two freight vessels of about 6000 tons displacement.

RUSSIAN DRIVE HALTED

GERMANS MAKE STRONG ATTACK ON NORTHERN ARMIES—HOLD KUROPATKIN'S FORCES

LONDON, June 22.—Fierce fighting, with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and the Germans in Volhynia, along the Stokhod and Styr rivers, and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynski. The official communications received yesterday by the German, Austrian and Russian war offices all indicate that the Germans are making determined efforts to resume the initiative lost through the Russian Gen. Brusiloff's drive and to create a diversion by a strong attack on Gen. Kuropatkin's armies in the north. In effort to prevent the Russians receiving reinforcements.

Although up to the present the Germans are making no striking advance they are clearly holding up their opponents. Most stubborn fighting, with fluctuating results, is proceeding around Grudatz west of Kolk. The Germans also are again attacking farther north in the Morgon district and the region of Riga.

Military experts say that it remains to be seen whether the Germans will be able to bring sufficient pressure in these sectors to relieve the hard pressed Austrians in Bukovina and

THE ISONZO RIVER

FOLLOWS TORTUOUS CHANNEL FOR 75 MILES—RIVER IS TOO TURBULENT FOR NAVIGATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—The Isonzo front is the subject of the National Geographic society's war geography bulletin, issued today from its Washington headquarters, which says:

"Contrary to popular belief, the Isonzo river, along which the Italians made their first attack against Austria and where their lines have held more firmly against the vigorous Teutonic offensive of the last ten days than on the Tyrolean front, is not the boundary line between the two countries, but lies wholly within Austrian territory, from two to twelve miles from the border. Its source is near the juncture of the Carnic and Julian Alps, on Mt. Terglou, the loftiest peak of the latter range, and it follows a tortuous channel for seventy-five miles, emptying into the Gulf of Trieste. So turbulent are the few miles of the estuary, where its course is through a rapidly extending delta. On its way through the alluvial plain it is known as the Sdobba, whose mouth is less than 20 miles from the important Austrian port of Trieste, lying to the southeast.

The Isonzo is the principal river of the county and crown-land of Gorz and Gradiska, which have an area about equal to that of Rhode Island. This principality and two other crown-lands, Istria and Trieste, constitute Austria's Kustental (coast land).

"Before the devastation wrought by the war the valley of the Isonzo was a highly productive region, agriculture and vine-growing being the chief occupations of that part of the population (mainly Italian) which was not engaged in silk-worm culture.

"The leading city of the Isonzo valley is Goritz (Goriz) with 30,000 inhabitants, known as the Nice of Austria, on account of its popularity as a fashionable resort. Its growth coincides with the decline of Aquileia, now an insignificant town of less than 3,000 people, situated to the southwest, six miles from the sea, but which was reckoned the ninth city of the Roman empire and a great seaport during the closing years of the fourth century.

"The fighting which is now occurring on the Isonzo recalls the great battle of the Isonzo (Isonzo) in the fifth century, where the Roman emperor Odoacer met signal defeat at the hands of Theodoric, the Ostrogoth. The vanquished leader was driven back to Ravenna, where, after a protracted siege, a truce was agreed upon. During the parley Odoacer fell before the treacherous Ostrogoth who clove his enemy from shoulder to flank with a broadsword.

"One of the most interesting natural phenomena of the Isonzo district is the 'Fiume di Timavus' river, which empties into the Gulf of Trieste five miles from the mouth of the larger watercourse. The Timavus rushes from a mountain-side, full-formed, in three streams of sufficient volume to float small vessels at the very source. In Virgil's day, according to the description in the Aeneid, the Timavus rushed from the rocks in nine streams. The river is supposed to be a continuation of the equally unique Reka, whose waters disappear in the grottoes of Sankt Kuzian, some twenty miles southeast of the mysterious Timavus."

"Bull" Durham is Pure all the Way from the Leaf to the Finished Flake

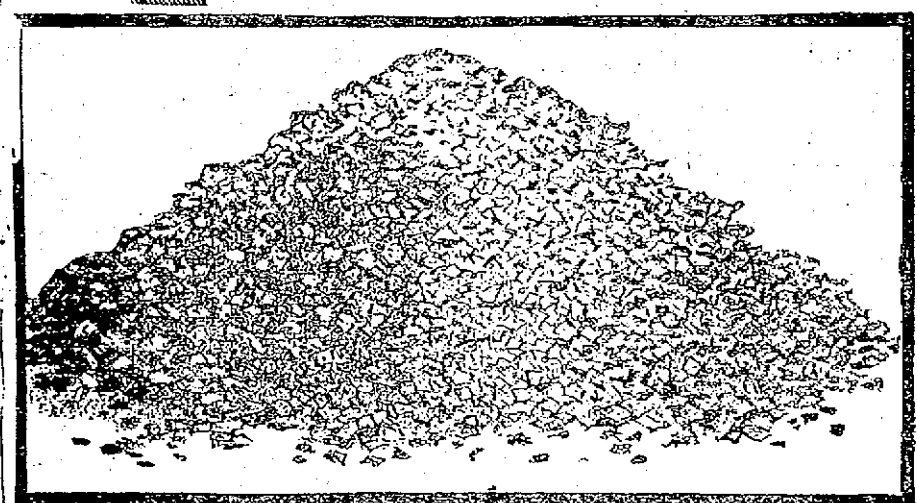

After the leaf for "Bull" Durham Has Passed Through the "Breaker."

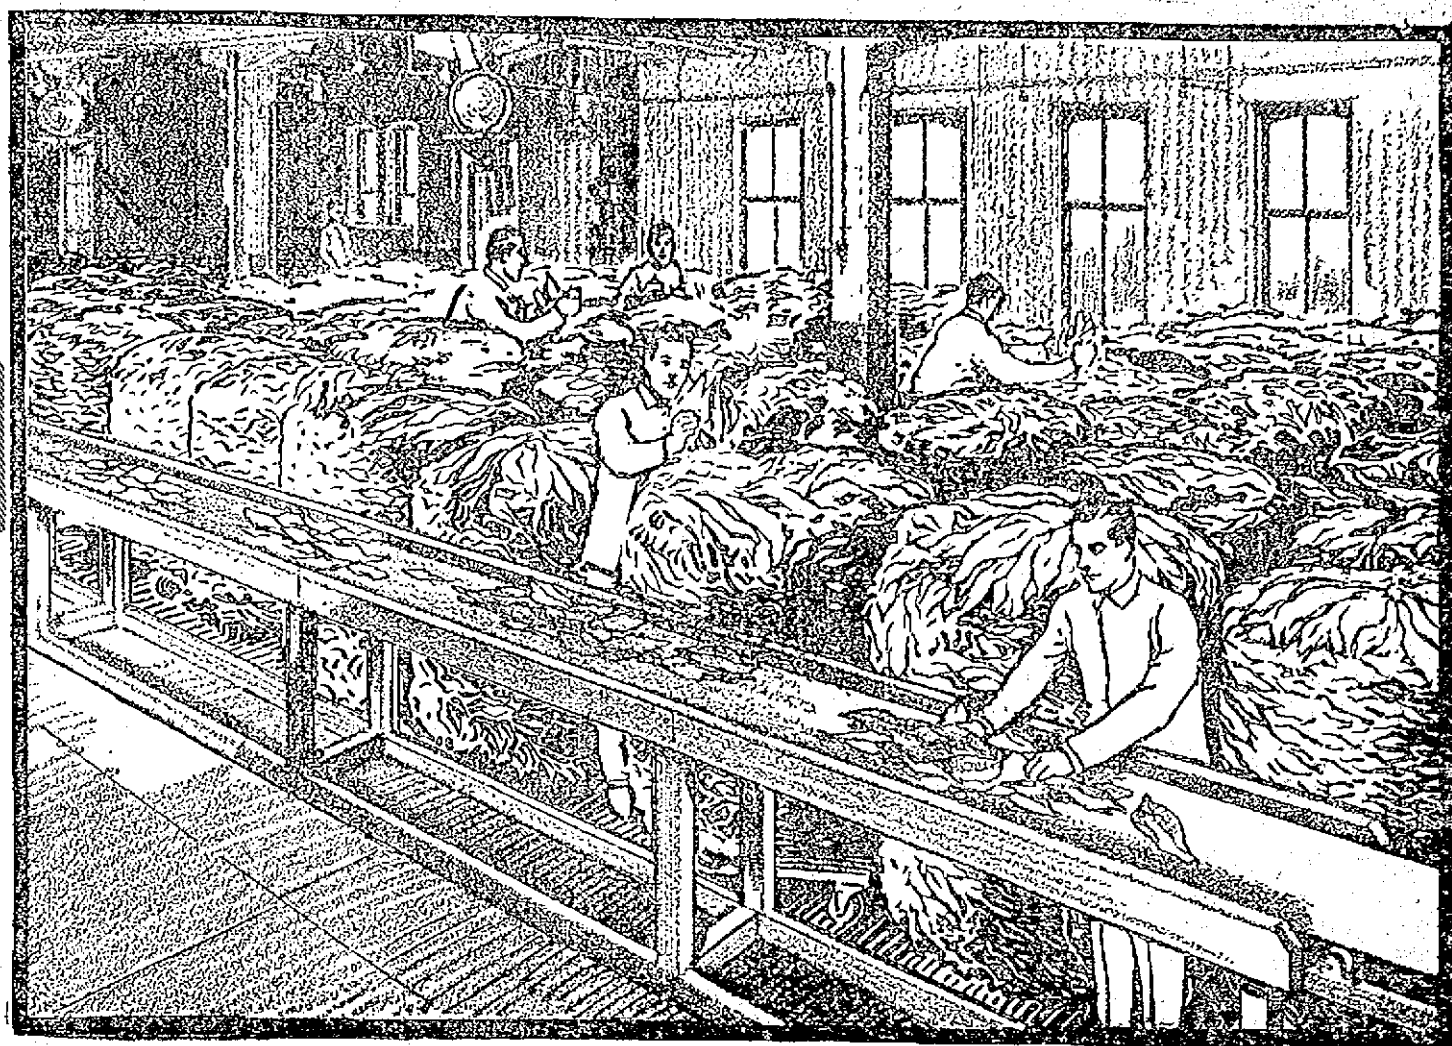

After It Has Passed Through the Third Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Tenth and Last Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Sieves—the Finished Flake.

Where the Golden Virginia-Carolina Leaf, for "Bull" Durham Starts on Its Journey.

Only Pure Virginia-Carolina Leaf Goes Through the "Bull" Durham Manufacturing System—Only Pure Tobacco Comes Out as "Bull" Durham

Grouped about a moving belt on the top floor of the "Bull" Durham factory at Durham, N. C., are giant hogsheads of tobacco leaf—107 of them.

To the eye they show a mass of color—soft, rich, golden—the distinctive, individual, matchless shades that belong solely to famous bright Virginia-Carolina leaf.

Nothing else ever goes into that big room—nothing, but this pure, ripe leaf.

From each of the 107 hogsheads a certain quantity is taken and placed on the moving belt.

The hogsheads differ slightly in character. They are of different crops, are raised in different sections, vary somewhat in body and aroma. All the 107 are required to make up the wonderful blend which has made "Bull" Durham the world's best known and best liked cigarette tobacco.

The freight of golden leaf moves forward on the belt to the "breaker," then on into a series of ten granulators, and finally into a system of sieves, coming out three floors below in fragrant flakes of uniform size—the finished "Bull" Durham.

The entire operation of making "Bull" Durham, from the first "breaking" of the leaf to the final sifting of the tiny flakes, is carried on automatically inside a continuous tight-closed wooden flume.

The pure leaf is kept pure. No foreign matter of any kind can get mixed with the tobacco at any stage of its manufacture.

And that's why "Bull" Durham stands every test for purity.

You can test it yourself. Pour some "Bull" Durham on your hand or a piece of paper. Separate the grains—examine them closely. You will find only tiny flakes of pure tobacco—nothing else looks like the golden Virginia-Carolina leaf used in "Bull" Durham.

SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT

This is a time when the public should unreservedly condemn the partisan paper or the partisan person who would distort the present serious situation of the country for party purposes. To the credit of our national spirit it is stated that no direct opposition to President Wilson's present determination has manifested itself, but indications of an insidious undercurrent are showing in certain quarters. It is surely to be regretted if the prospect of a coming campaign should so warp one's patriotism that he would misrepresent the present policy of the administration in an effort to strengthen the republican party in the coming election. No body of men would oppose such an unworthy spirit more promptly than the great mass of fair republicans who look upon the present critical conditions as American citizens rather than as members of a party.

Undesirable in a like way is the attitude of another section of press and public which strives to make democratic capital out of the situation. This is as futile and as dangerous as it is unwise. The stand of America against Mexico is not the personal stand of President Wilson and neither is it the stand of the democratic party. It is the stand of the American government, backed by the entire American people, against the farcical government of Mexico which does not deserve the name.

It is most desirable at this time that the American people look upon Mexican affairs calmly and without passion. We are not yet at war with Mexico, and it is possible that we may not find war necessary. That is for Carranza to decide. One word from him, either to his followers or to the United States, and Washington will adopt the last resort. The reply of President Wilson leaves no loophole of doubt as to what will happen should Carranza show further hostility towards our troops in Mexico or permit any expedition into our territory.

Should war come, it may be longer and more costly than most Americans realize, for though Mexico cannot fight as a great power, the Mexican hordes can avail of the natural advantages of their country and wage the kind of war that cannot be put down in a few months. Moreover the job undertaken cannot be abandoned until it is completed, and the American president and the American troops will need the full support of our people to show not only Mexico but the world that our patience of four years was the patience of a nation that knows how to fight when put to it. Moreover, the ending of such a war would open grave possibilities that all the republics to the south of us are watching, and we cannot afford to have any division of sentiment on partisan lines when the nation is called upon to make a momentous decision.

While looking on the situation in the most optimistic manner, it would also be well for our people to consider the possibility of outside interference. True, most of the great powers have all they can do to wage their own battles, but in a selfish world there is always danger that the struggles of nations may be availed of for the commission of acts that cannot be performed in time of peace.

No newspaper has been more outspoken in opposition to certain policies of President Wilson, and to the Mexican policy in particular than the New York Sun. Yet, in its issue of yesterday, after some criticism of the president, it said:

In face of that situation he is entitled to the loyal support of every American and from every American worthy the name he is going to receive it through thick and thin. There is no more doubt of this than there is of the unquestioning devotion of the people to the flag that is now in Woodrow Wilson's hands.

Newspapers which, like The Sun and most of those around it, as well as throughout the entire Union, receive clearly the distinction between the claims of political partisanship and the obligations of patriotic duty will not find the slightest difficulty in reconciling reason and conscience as to what has gone before with absolute loyalty to the holder of the flag from the moment it is hoisted aloft. There is no danger of anybody's confusing the proper relation of American citizenship to the two campaigns, national and political. This is as true in the presence of the possibility of war as it would be true during actual war, if that should come.

Not even the New York World which has been the uncompromising defender of the president has spoken more emphatically and it is commendable that this paper has thrown its immense influence on the side where the support of all Americans and all American papers should be at this time. While exercising the American privilege of free press and free speech, let all who believe in "America First" support the administration through the trying days that lie immediately ahead.

THE SHINGLE ROOF

The board of trade has taken timely action in recommending to the municipal council the adoption of a new ordinance against the shingle roof in Lowell, and the proposed regulation should be adopted. It is in line with what many cities are now doing and what all cities must adopt sooner or later, since the evils of the shingle roof have been too well demonstrated in the great fires of Chelsea, Salem and cities that have suffered more recently.

The Sun has long contended that unless the roofs of a city are fire resisting, it is futile to adopt other fire prevention methods. The latest equipment and the most adequate fire protection will not avail if in the business section of any congested section of a city the roofs of the buildings are made of shingles. The shingle roof that is as dangerous as brown paper when the sparks of a great fire are flying. Moreover, it is misleading to allege that the shingle roof is economical, for while its first cost is less than that of slate or some fire resisting material, the necessary repairs and re-shingling will even matters up before the building has had a long lease of life.

The ordinance suggested by the board of trade seems to be both just and practical. It does not call for the elimination of shingle roofs immediately but provides for their gradual removal. Under the system advised, all roofs in Lowell would be of fire resisting material by 1926. Builders of new structures would be obliged to resort to slate, tile or some other material, and in this way the old shingle roofs would gradually disappear, since the present shingle roofs could not be repaired so as to perpetuate them indefinitely. A sweeping rule for change might work hardship, but this plan would seem to benefit the entire city while inflicting no unfair sacrifice on Lowell citizens.

A TEACHER'S ADVICE

The address of Miss Mary McKimmon of the Pierce grammar school, Brookline, delivered at the commencement exercises at the State Normal school, was the sincere advice of a brilliant and successful teacher who sees in the teaching profession a great opportunity. Confessing that she started out 35 years ago with the ideas of an older generation, she proved to be in the front rank of those who have adopted newer and saner methods of education—and they are now a great company. When those who listened will have forgotten most of the substance of her fine address, they will remember her personal enthusiasm and the remedy she has adopted for the unruly boy, viz: the providing of a task on which he may get rid of his surplus energy. In the relation of that process she touched the heart of many a teacher's difficulty—inability to store discipline when pupils grow restless or nervous. The gist of her message was "Give the children something to do and something to think about and keep your minds always fresh, active and resourceful." There was nothing of the purely academic in her talk but there was common sense, inspiration and poetry. Those who listened must have taken their diplomas in the consciousness that they were workers in a profession that has a great deal to do with the shaping of men and women—and it is men and women who make up the world.

A DANGEROUS CURVE

A child was killed a few days ago in North Billerica on the spot where a young woman was killed under almost similar circumstances a few weeks ago. At this point the road winds around the so-called "Talbot Oval" and even the speed permitted by the law makes it dangerous for pedestrians, owing to the curving nature of the roadway. Those who are on the road are within their rights as there is a public crossing on the spot, but in at least one of the cases it looks as though the driver was wholly blameless. Yet, that a dangerous condition exists there cannot be denied, and to state that this or that person was not to blame will not ensure safety for the future. Not only drivers from Lowell and from North Billerica but from all over the country drive through this road, and something ought to be done to protect the lives of people who may use it. It is not a place for children to play indiscriminately, but there are two recent deaths to serve as a warning of what is just as likely to happen again unless something is done to prevent it.

CARE FOR FAMILIES

In calling a special meeting of the municipal council with the intention of appointing a fund committee to care for the dependent families of those who have gone to the Mexican border, Mayor O'Donnell has done the right thing, and The Sun offers him hearty congratulations. This is something in which bravado or a heroic attitude is distasteful, and Lowell should regard it merely in the light of duty. When the call came recently from the committee arranging for a preparedness parade, the city responded nobly, and here is a chance to show the same spirit only in a more practical way. All Lowell citizens whatever their views on other things must admire the courage and patriotic devotion of the fine young men who left this city yesterday. Let us then show our admiration in a practical way by making prompt provision for those they leave behind whose natural anxiety may be augmented by the prospect of want or financial difficulty.

SEEN AND HEARD

No matter how much a feller likes flowers he generally has to die to get 'em.

The only time I know of when it pays to be half-headed is when a feller gets caught in an Indian massacre.

There may be awkwarder things in this world than a woman on a step-ladder, but if there is I ain't never seen 'em.

A happy married life is when a feller and his wife can get along with one easy chair on the porch. P.S.—There ain't none such.

There are some fellows who are going to have a dull time in heaven without gas companies and no street railway lines to kick about.

Joggling The Memory

The old method of tying a string about the finger to recall to mind some task to be done at a certain time has been done away with. The new way is to transfer a plug from one finger to another. On the accusatory finger the plug feels natural and does not cause annoyance, but on any other finger it slightly irritates. This irritation constantly will aid in recalling the task to be done. Just try it once.—Exchange.

Auburn Hair Has Its Uses

"If I were asked to name the most ingenious animal in the world," said the observer, "I should say it is the small boy in devising entertainment for himself. I attended a country church not long ago and a lad who sat near me illustrated my point. The sermon evidently did not fill out the boy's idea of entertainment and he had given over all pretense of attention."

"Immediately in front of him sat a girl whose head seemed ablaze with an aureole of fiery red hair. This had given the boy a happy suggestion and he alternately held out one forefinger and the other, the finger with the red hair, hammering it, using the back of the seat for an anvil. He varied this occasionally by dipping the finger in an imaginary blacksmith's tub and softly giving 'sizz! sizz!'—Indianapolis News.

Time For Prayer

The married women were telling stories about the brightness of their respective offices. One woman had reached the religious stage. One mother of a girl of six years and a boy of four told this one:

"Carl and Ruth had been unusually annoying all the morning while I was trying to hang my parlor curtains. It seemed to me that they had never before compressed much noise in such a small space as my front room. 'It finally got so bad that I decided to take drastic measures. I seized them each by one ear and led them none to gently into the farthest room from where I was working. Seating them on stools on opposite sides of the fireplace I warned them not to utter a single word for five minutes under pain of more severe punishment. As I turned to leave the room, my little boy with the utmost gravity said to his sister:

"'Forweth both hunched into the Lord's prayer with the utmost fervor. Really,' added the mother, 'I didn't have the heart to punish them after that display of piety.'—Fitchburg News.

The Foolish Deer

A foolish deer once missed his guess because of unpreparedness.

Said he, "I don't believe in such; I think they praise it overmuch."

"The forest is so very wide. No enemy could reach my side."

"And if they did I have my horns. A weapon no one ever scorns."

"And should that fail I have my heels. A single glance my speed reveals."

Alas, the deer who proudly spoke was soon a hatterack and a steak!—McClungburgh Wilson in New York Times.

The Dream

I stood alone against the desert sky flaming with sunrise signals, rose and gold.

Back in some age forgotten. At my side Spoke an unknown tongue, and yet I knew

They told me I must die—yet, gently My captive arms and weeping comforted

My woman tender as I sought to find How hard I sinned, what was the stain I bore.

other's eyes, Their faces crimson in the risen light, The friendly wind blew warm upon my breast Above the trembling heart, fearful of death, They wrapped my eyes with linen, led me forth, And bowed me prostrate on the pillow—ling sand— Face to the sky. I felt the tender breeze Of summer morning touch my tear wet lips And thoughts of gardens and of rose-grown lanes Trodden in England when the world was green Came to me and I prayed to One I knew To save me. Then a drift of stinging sun Fell on my pinioned arms—and then, I heard the pounding hoofs of horses beat, The surging rush of soldiers, clashing spurs And jingling harness; the sharp clang of steel And hoarse call of leaders urging on Their gleaming army while my guards imploded That I be brave and face the coming death. They bathed my healing brow and faltered out A litany for pass about to die. Crouching, I lay and heard the sounds come on, The jangle louder and a trumpet call Deafened my senses, and again I cried Striving against the bondage of my chains. But on they came, strident, tumultuous, With steady hoof beats, pounding, thundering To crush me in the desert's burning arms. To mingle with this golden shining earth, And leave a crimson shadow in the sand— Then darkness fell across me like a shroud Of sweetness, and I woke to find the dawn! —Kate Masterson.

ROOSEVELT NOT TO RUN

T. R. IN LETTER DECLINING NOMINATION URGES MOOSERS TO SUPPORT HUGHES

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 23.—When Col. Theodore Roosevelt yesterday signed his letter to the progressive national committee declining the nomination for the presidency, he urged the election of Justice Hughes, he at the same time signed the death warrant of the progressive party, which he maintains has accomplished the chief objects for which it was formed.

To make the run for the presidency and to keep up the party as a fighting force, he says, can have but one result—to insure the re-election of President Wilson and four years more of the spineless politics which have made American diplomacy a by-word abroad and a thing of regret at home, and brought the nation to the edge of war while unprepared to even defend its border against bandit raids.

Some minor reforms, he admits, might be secured by continuing the party and making the fight, but these results could not be attained by the party taking the responsibility of returning President Wilson to the White House with the consequent grave risks to the national life of the United States. For the progressive party and the course it has followed since its birth four years ago, Colonel Roosevelt has neither excuses, explanations nor apologies. It came into being, he holds, at a time when the republican party had become the party of reaction and ceased to be the party of Lincoln and the plain people. In the four years that have elapsed the party has followed the course of the republicans have enacted into laws in the several states many of the most important reforms for which the progressives stood, and have placed their candidates upon a platform to which every progressive can subscribe, the colonel contends.

Annual Outing

The annual outing of the employees of the U. S. Cartridge Co. will be held at Nantasket beach on Saturday, July 22. It is probable that the entire plant will close all day on the date of the outing.

Boat and Shore Workers

A meeting of the Boat and Shore Workers' union was held in Carpenters' hall last evening with a large attendance. Routine business was transacted and new members were initiated.

Carpenters

The members of Local 1810, Carpenters' union held a regular meeting in Carpenters' hall last evening. Two new members were initiated and considerable routine business was transacted. It was voted to have two representatives at the St. John's day banquet which will be held at Associate Hall Sunday evening and Messrs. Jos. A. Pion and Arthur Bellefeuille were appointed. Joseph Roy was chosen a substitute.

A Mill Men's conference will be held at Carpenters' hall, this city, Saturday afternoon. The attendance will be composed of delegates representing all Mill Men's locals of the state and it is expected that considerable business will be transacted. After working conditions will be discussed and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the members of the organization will be taken up. The conference will be held under the auspices of the Lowell local and a varied program is being arranged for the occasion.

U. S. Cartridge Co.

The chief topic of discussion among the male employees of the United States Cartridge Co. was the proposed plan of the plant has undertaken to organize. It is planned to form a provisional battalion composed of four or five companies with about 65 men to each company.

A meeting of the male employees of the company has been called for this evening at the garage of the company at 8 o'clock and it is hoped that the attendance will be large. The following bulletin has been posted in various parts of the plants:

"The suggestion has been made that a battalion of Cartridge Co. employees be formed to drill once a week and get the benefits of military instruction. The uniforms will probably cost $5. A meeting will be held in the garage Thursday evening, June 22 and all the employees interested are invited to attend. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

If the battalion is formed it is probable that the drill officers will be Jas. Burns, a former lieutenant of Co. G, Sixth regiment, N. Y., and Walter H. Himmann, a former officer of the crack Seventh regiment of the New York National Guard. Both men are employed by the company.

as addresses by the present and past officers of the company will be given.

MAY STATE RAISING

FUNDS FOR FAMILIES

BOSTON, June 22.—Cities and towns throughout Massachusetts yesterday began active work raising funds for dependents of militia-men called out by the mobilization order. In most cases the movements have been independently undertaken in each place for families of its own citizens.

Employers, too, have very largely co-operated to the same purpose, many companies guaranteeing employees summoned to the colors against loss of pay and consequent distress to families.

CROWD CHEERS WOMAN

FOR HER PATRIOTISM

BOSTON, June 22.—The clear-spoken reply of a young woman who stood at Summer and Washington streets yesterday to a slurring remark made about a red, white and blue handkerchief she wore on her black sailor brought cheers to the lips and tears to the eyes of men and women who had just seen the militiamen march past.

"Slur if you wish," she said, looking straight into the eyes of the man who had spoken, "but these colors are my colors, and they will be with me night and day until my two brothers, one of whom is leading his battalion and the other his company, return to our home."

The words were sharply uttered; many heard them. Then there came a subdued cheer, and the men nearby reverently lifted their hats to salute the nation's colors.

MASSACHUSETTS WILL BE

AMONG FIRST AT BORDER

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Officials of the war department expressed gratification yesterday at the speed with which the mobilization of the Massachusetts militia has proceeded. It now looks as though the Massachusetts and District of Columbia troops will be ready for service before those from any other state, and in the event of immediate need these organizations will probably be among the first ordered to the border.

The war department has under consideration plans for increasing the quota of several states.

This would probably make possible the active participation of the Sixth Mass. Regt., which, under present arrangements, has been detailed for home service.

Former Alderman Charles W. Godfrey of Fitchburg yesterday offered his services to the war department through Congressman Paige. In communicating his desire for service Mr. Godfrey mentioned that he held a certificate from the Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., training camp, and also possessed a strong recommendation from Col. Ketcham.

150 APPLICATIONS A DAY

FOR N. Y. REGULAR ARMY

NEW YORK, June 22.—The movement of additional regiments of the New York National Guard to Camp Upton at Peekskill, N. Y., the mobilization of state troops, was halted today in compliance with orders from Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan in order that the water supply at the camp should be completed before their arrival.

Since the development of the Mexican issue applications for enlistments in the regular army in this city had increased from 150 a month to 150 a day. Since the National Guard mobilization was ordered applications for training at Plattsburg have doubled and now average more than 175 a day.

CONNECTICUT MOVES

GUARD NATIONAL TO CAMP

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The first units of the Connecticut National Guard moved into the mobilization camp at Niantic today. Troop B, Fifth Militia cavalry, and the Signal corps of the First infantry leaving the state arsenal at Hartford for the camp grounds.

All other commands are held in local armories until they have recruited to maximum strength for war service.

The coast artillery corps of the state forces will go to Fort H. G. Wright on Fisher's Island today for its customary 10 days' tour of duty. This unit was not embraced in the mobilization call. Its work at the gunnery school on the eastern entrance to Long Island sound will conform to that of previous years. The command has filled its ranks to full strength under the state law. Several companies of regulars which were at the forts here sent south and the National Guardmen have hoped that they will remain there for a longer period than 10 days.

NEW JERSEY FIRST STATE

TO COMPLETE MOBILIZATION

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 22.—New Jersey claims the distinction of being the first state to have its troops completely mobilized and awaiting further orders from the war department. The last of the organizations called out arrived here last night and Gov. Woodrow Wilson notified by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the east, that this was the first state to have its national guard ready in response to the president's call.

Gov. Fielder declared last night, however, that the federal authorities have not done their share because they have failed to provide sufficient equipment and supplies for the men.

The Russians are keeping up their offensive against the Teutonic lines in Galicia and Volhynia but, according to

Lack of horses, which had detained cavalry and field artillery commands, prevented the complete mobilization of the state's quota, although it was said that a sufficient number of mounts would be ready to move by tonight.

General Sweetser said today that recruiting was proceeding rapidly throughout the state and that this would add considerably to the number of men already enrolled for service.

SERIOUS UPRISING AGAINST THE

ARABIA

LONDON, June 22.—Reports have been received here that a serious uprising against the Turks is in progress in Arabia and that the rebels have captured the holy city of Mecca.

The London newspapers declare that the rebellion is certain to have an important bearing on the war, especially as regards the participation of Turkey. The Post says:

"The uprising is due to recent wholesale executions of Mohammedans and Syrian notables and well known religious leaders, and also to the spread in Arabia of a feeling that the Turks have abdicated their position as the protectors of the Mohammedans and have become the vassals of Germany."

A Reuter despatch from Cairo says the rebels in addition to taking Mecca have captured Jiddah, the chief seaport of Arabia and Taif, 65 miles southeast of Mecca, and have proclaimed independence of the Arabs from Ottoman rule.

It is said the garrisons of Mecca, Jiddah and Taif surrendered, with the exception of two small forts at Taif, which are still resisting. At Jiddah 45 officers, 1400 men, 1500 camels, 2000 horses, 245 mules and 245 mules were captured. Medina, 245 miles northwest of Mecca, is closely besieged.

The despatch says that the action of the landing party "will depend upon events."

GERMANS CAPTURE FRONT LINE

TRENCHES OF FRENCH AFTER

ALL NIGHT BATTLE

PARIS, June 22, 11.30 a. m.—After violent attacks lasting all night the Germans captured front line trenches between Fumini wood and Chenols, in the Verdun sector, according to an office.

The Germans attacked in force on both banks of the Meuse after the usual heavy bombardment. An attack on the south slope of Dead Man hill was checked by grenade detachments, according to the official statement.

On the right bank of the river there were violent engagements west and south of Fort Vaux during which the Germans gained a footing in a corner of Fumini wood, but were immediately expelled. Later they returned to the attack when some trenches were captured. A German grenade assault north of Hill No. 321 was stopped by the French fire.

The text of the statement follows: "On both banks of the river Meuse last night was marked by a series of pronounced attacks by the enemy, which followed bombardments of great severity."

"On the left bank of the river the Germans attacked our trenches upon the southern slopes of Dead Man hill. During the course of a spirited engagement with hand grenades our troops were successful in completely repulsing the enemy and in retaining at their positions."

"On the right bank of the river the fighting continued with ferocity in the region west and south of Fort de Vaux. Yesterday evening a powerful German attack was successful in penetrating a small wood southeast of the Fumini wood. We, however, at once delivered a counter attack, which chased the enemy out. At about midnight a further offensive action was directed by the enemy upon our positions reaching from the Fumini wood to a point east of Chenols, and was repulsed with sanguinary losses."

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR BELGIAN

COLUMNS IN GERMAN EAST

AFRICA

HAVRE, June 22.—Further successes for the Belgian columns invading German East Africa are claimed in an official statement issued by the Belgian war office today. The statement follows:

"Gen. Tombeur telegraphs that after beating the enemy on June 6 at Kivutawe our advance guard again caught up with the Germans on June 12 and forced an engagement with them on the road from Kivutawe to Kitaga, west of the River Ngokema. The enemy was routed and retreated, abandoning the killed on the field. The pursuit continues."

GREECE HAS ACCEPTED DEMANDS

POWERS

ATHENS, June 21, via London, June 22.—Greece has accepted unconditionally the demands made by the entente powers, according to a statement communicated to the French legation by M. Zaimis, the former premier, to whom the formation of a new cabinet is reported to have been entrusted.

The ultimatum of the entente powers was delivered to the Greek government at noon today (Wednesday). The demands presented by the entente powers, according to the newspaper Nea Hemia, were as follows:

1—Complete general demobilization.

2—Removal of the chief of police of Athens.

3—Popular pro-entente sentiment not to be suppressed.

4—Deportation of agents spreading German propaganda.

While the dissolution of the chamber of deputies also was desired, the newspaper says, it may not be directly demanded.

The foregoing version of the nature of the entente demands are said in diplomatic circles to be substantially accurate.

The new cabinet will be made up on non-political lines, even including one or two adherents of former Premier Venizelos.

BATTERY C OFF TO FRONT

Delay Caused by Green Horses—
Daring Capture of Runaway by
Sun Janitor on Bridge Street

Battery C, first squadron field artillery, M.V.M., passed through Lowell about 7 o'clock last evening after a long and tedious delay that was not enjoyed by the weary and anxious men who had been waiting their arrival for more than four hours. Shortly before the noon hour yesterday word was received at the mayor's office that Battery C would leave the Methuen armory at 1 o'clock and would arrive here about 2:30. It was suggested then that the battery be met at the city line and escorted through the city by the High School regiment and the Business Men's battalion. But if the battery was to arrive at 2:30 the time for the preparation of escort was too short and besides it would be doing something for Battery C that was not done for Company M that left Lowell in the morning. Company M was not given any escort from the armory and to meet and escort Battery C through the city did not seem to be just the right thing to do under the circumstances. And it was well that it was viewed in this light, for the escort would have had a very long, tiresome, wet and dreary wait at the city line. The delay in leaving the armory and the very slow progress made by Battery C was due, in great measure, to the fact that many of the men were new to the battery business, and all but 15 of the horses were "green." And the fact that most of the horses were unseasoned and absolutely unfamiliar with military work greatly hampered the movements of the gun and caissons. The battery left the Methuen armory, on the Lawrence-Lowell boulevard, near Stanley's on the Merrimack, at 4:25 o'clock and it took nearly two and a half hours to cover the six miles between that point and Lowell. Some of the horses, scared at the rumble of the heavy wheels and clanking of iron traces, got excited and confused and finally balked. It took some time to coax them back to an understanding of what was actually required of them and a few of them absolutely refused to understand. Much difficulty was experienced in getting horses, and it became necessary, at almost the last moment, to go to Manchester, N. H., to fill the required number. The sale tags had not been removed from the tails of one of the horses that passed through Lowell last evening and that was proof enough that the horses were green in all that the word implies.

A Thrilling Moment

A Lawrence band had been hired to play at the armory and even the music didn't seem to take with some of the green horses. Whether the music was too solemn or that their classic ears and aesthetic taste were insulted by rag time is not known, but that they didn't take kindly to the best efforts of the music makers was a cinch. One man got a throw before he left the armory, and another horse threw his rider in First street and ran away. This action on the part of the green and rude one resulted in a thriller later on in Bridge street, near the canal bridge, when the runaway was stopped by Arsene Guy, a Sun building janitor and captain of Garde St. Louis. The runaway was spectacular and it was a dangerous moment for the thousands of spectators who gathered along the street. The horse started to run at the top of First st. hill. Soon its harness slipped off and dangled at its heels. The animal was crazed with fright and was going at break-neck speed as he passed through streets backed with men, women and children. The crowds scattered like sheep and there were times when the horse approached so near the sidewalk as to give the impression that he was about to leave the street. It was a miracle that he did not dash into the crowd as he turned from First street into Bridge street, where people were crowded at every point.

The circus stunt in which Mr. Guy proved himself a horseman and hero combined was performed after the horse had crossed Centralville bridge. Those who witnessed the maneuver declared it was the classiest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Lowell and had Buffalo Bill seen Guy perform he never would have left Lowell without him. The horse was breaking all speed records when the brave Arsene jumped out to the middle of the street and grabbed the check rein. He ran a short way with the horse and then bracing his feet and waiting for the necessary pull on the rein, he leaped on the horse's back. A minute later the horse was on his knees on the canal bridge and no sooner had his knees touched the bridge than Arsene had him by the bridle and held him until men came up from the battery. The horse pranced and danced about, but his captor was equal to the occasion and after leading the horse to Merrimack square, Arsene, despite warnings from the battery men who had come to look upon the horse as a bad one, mounted him again and rode him bareback, to and beyond the city line in Chelmsford. His act so pleased Capt. William W. Roberts and other officers that they wanted the hero and horseman to enlist, but Arsene declined the honor. They took his name, however, and he will probably hear from them later.

The route of the battery through the city was through Bridge street to Merrimack square, Prescott street, Central street, Middlesex street, Branch street, Smith street, Westford street, Lape street, Powell street, and Chelmsford street to Chelmsford Centre.

Get Great Ovation

Everywhere along the route the battery got an ovation. About two miles ahead of the battery was the cooking outfit, with three men aboard, and prepared to cook as soon as the Battle pond camping ground was reached.

The commander of the battery is Capt. William W. Roberts, and his commissioned officers are: First Lieut. George McLane and Roy Daniels; second Lieutenants, Sumner H. Needham and W. Leo Whelpley, and Surgeon-Major Harry H. Nevers. Lieut. Needham of this city has been chosen the scout officer of the battery.

Twenty-one of the battery are from this city. Heretofore these men have constituted what is known as the "Lowell section," but yesterday the men were changed about so that there is no longer any distinguishing name for any section. The Lowell men were distributed among the six sections of the battery.

Aside from Lieut. Needham and Lowell members of Battery C, are:

The Camping Ground

The battery camped for the night in Winning's field at South Chelmsford and it was fortunate that the cooking outfit was so well in advance of the battery for they had a drizzling rain, damp wood and a wet field to contend with. But it did not take them long to get things underway and the coffee kettle was bubbling merrily when the boys arrived.

WILSON REVIEWS MILITIA

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson, before his first view yesterday of the military mobilization for Mexican border service, standing on the curb of Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House with Secretary Baker and Col. Harte, his military aide, he reviewed the District of Columbia National Guard as it marched by on the way to its camp across the Potomac river at Fort Myer.

"There are mighty nice looking boys," the president remarked to Secretary Baker.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 22.—Not since the beginning of the Mexican troubles has there been such a powerful fleet sent to the western Mexican littoral for patrol purposes, nor has an American admiral ever taken the precaution to play his fighting ships that within a few moments after an outbreak of hostilities he could effectually blockade every west coast Mexican port from Guaymas to Salina Cruz.

curred, whoever may have been the aggressor and whatever the outcome. It has brought war with Mexico so close that officials say any hour may see the conflict in full swing.

RESOLUTION TO DRAFT

MILITIA INTO ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Baker informed President Wilson early today that there had been no report from Gen. Pershing on the fight between American and Carranza soldiers near Carrizal yesterday. Mr. Baker went to the White House with despatches from Gen. Funston giving such information as has been obtained from Mexican sources.

Later Secretary Baker said no new orders had been sent to Gen. Funston and that the government would take no step until an account from its own officers showing what happened had been received.

National Guardsmen to reinforce the border patrol will be sent as soon as their mobilization and organization is completed, but Mr. Baker would not predict when that might be.

"We have only the information from Mexican sources, and from a few Americans who arrived on trains at El Paso," said the secretary. "We are waiting for further information, either from Gen. Pershing or other American sources."

He would not state whether a punitive expedition would be ordered to pursue the Mexicans who attacked the Americans.

From unofficial sources Mr. Baker said he had been informed of the alleged statement by Gen. Oregon assuming responsibility for the orders issued to the Mexican detachment which made the attack. He would not comment.

When Secretary Baker returned to the department, Secretary Lansing went to his office and the two cabinet members were in conference for some time. Mr. Lansing, as he left, said that his department had no word from American sources in Mexico about the fight.

A resolution authorizing the president to draft National Guardsmen willing to take the federal oath immediately into the regular army, under the terms of the new army bill was submitted by Secretary Baker to Chairman Hay of the house military committee. Mr. Hay said he would call it up tomorrow and press for immediate action.

If possible, Mr. Hay said, he would obtain consideration of the resolution by unanimous consent, but he was prepared to ask for a special rule if necessary.

The resolution differs slightly from the provision of the measures originally prepared for bringing the National Guard into federal service in that it would provide for service during "the period of the emergency," instead of "the period of the war."

Members of the active guard of the reserves in all states, territories and the District of Columbia who take the new oath would be subject to call under the resolution. The president would be authorized to combine various incomplete units in order to bring them up to war strength and to appoint officers for them.

AMERICANS REMOVED

THEIR WOUNDED WITH THEM

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The consulate announcement said complete details had been received from Villa Ahumada. The Americans removed their wounded with them.

The bodies of the American dead were counted as they lay on the field of battle.

The Mexican consulate announced early today that it had no additional details regarding the Carrizal encounter.

It was intimated at the consulate that the official Mexican view would be that the battle between the Americans and Carranza forces is a detached incident, having nothing to do with the general situation. Mexican authorities were in communication with Mexico City during the night.

AMERICAN AVIATORS IN

FRANCE CANNOT REPLY

PARIS, June 22.—The American aviators in the service of France are not able to comment on a reply to the inquiry from the Aero club of America whether they will return to take service in the American army in the event of war with Mexico. They are prevented from replying by the fact that they have enlisted in the French army for the duration of the war and are subject to army discipline.

The only manner in which this subject could be taken up would be by negotiations between the governments of France and the United States.

VILLA'S WIFE ARRESTED

AND DEPORTED TO JUAREZ

EL PASO, Texas, June 22.—Mrs. Luz Torres Villa, wife of Francisco Villa, was arrested by the police last night and with her sister and her sister's child, about five years of age and a German nurse, was deported to Juarez on orders from Mayor Lea, who gave no reason for the act. Mrs. Villa arrived here this afternoon, ostensibly from New Orleans, but the police believe she came from Los Angeles. She said she intended to go to Chihuahua to look for her husband.

EVACUATION OF JUAREZ

BY CARRANZA AFTER BATTLE

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—Evacuation of Juarez by the Carranza garrison is expected today as a result of yesterday's battle between troops of the Tenth cavalry and a Carranza command at Carrizal, in which a number on both sides were reported to have been killed.

Reports to Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district indicated that hurried preparations for the departure of the 4000 troops under Gen. Francisco Gonzales were being made in Juarez throughout the night. Troop trains with steam up stood in the railway yards while supplies, ammunition, food and forage were being hastily loaded into freight cars.

Evacuation of Juarez

Capt. James Allison, provost marshal of El Paso, received a report from a Mexican source early today that the evacuation of Juarez was already under way and that one train of box cars and day coaches, heavily loaded with soldiers, some of whom were perched on the tops of the cars, had left for the south over the Mexican Central line.

Throughout the night the streets in Juarez were filled with cavalrymen, a number of small detachments moving from the city and into the hills beyond while others left Juarez ostensibly to take station at border points within a few miles of El Paso. However, neither Andres Garcia, Mexican consul who spent the night in the Mexican town, nor Mexican military officials would discuss the reported evacuation over the telephone.

Details of Engagement

Details of the engagement at Carrizal are awaited anxiously here. Gen. Bell said early today that no reports had been received from Gen. Pershing, the American expeditionary commander, or from any of his subordinate officers.

Confidence was expressed, however, that the American version of the clash would be received later in the day. Stress was laid upon the fact that the battle was fought approximately 55 miles from Colonia Dublan, General Pershing's old headquarters, and that with no means of wire communication available, it would take a courier some time to reach the expeditionary commander with a report.

New Version of Battle

A new version of the engagement was brought here today by a Mexican civilian, who was in Villa Ahumada early yesterday afternoon and who said he assisted in dressing some of the Mexican wounded. He said that Gen. Felix Gomez, the slain Carranza leader, had been aware of the approach of the Americans for 12 hours and had sent a number of couriers to them warning them to return to their encampment.

Pitfall Concealed With Brush

When they persisted in their advance, he said, a pitfall several hundred feet in length was dug directly in the front over which the cavalrymen must ride. This was cleverly concealed with brush.

Plunged Into Pitfall

As the Americans rode unsuspectingly through the sand dunes toward the entrenchment, Gen. Gomez lay concealed some hundred yards away in the mesquite. The horses of the American vanguard plunged into the pitfall, upsetting their riders and injuring a number of them.

17 Americans Captured

Then, the Mexican asserted, the Carranza force lying in ambush raked the American ranks with a machine gun. The heavy fire forced the Americans to withdraw to reorganize their line and the Mexicans captured 17 soldiers who had been thrown into the pit.

He asserted that it was then that Gen. Gomez went forward under a flag of truce and that before the proposed armistice had begun an irresponsible soldier again started the machine gun fire.

Gen. Gomez Killed

A small detachment of cavalrymen charged toward Gen. Gomez and his party who were in the center of a field, directly between the two commands, their pistol fire killing the Mexican leader.

Forty Americans Killed

According to the story, both commands withdrew. The Mexican was unable to estimate the Mexican dead, but asserted that the American dead numbered 40, this statement agreeing with the Mexican official reports. Military authorities here expressed no doubt that both commands suffered heavily in the fight, but pointed out that no information concerning the engagement other than from Mexican sources has been received.

All Information from Mexicans

Even the two Americans, James Maxey and J. C. Hubble, who brought the most detailed accounts to the border, said that their informants were all Mexicans. Hope was expressed that the American casualties will not prove as heavy as the Mexican reports have indicated.

To Rescue Americans

It was not considered unlikely that Gen. Pershing already has taken steps looking toward the reinforcement of the cavalry command engaged and to a swift punitive action. It was also expected that he would take such steps as are possible to rescue the captive Americans who now are on their way to Chihuahua City.

1000 Mexicans Cross Border

Reports of the evacuation of towns held by Carranza garrisons in the territory occupied by the expeditionary command continued today, and it was thought that Gen. Trevino has ordered the re-disposition of the troops composing the ring which has surrounded Gen. Pershing's forces for some weeks to effect a re-alignment which the American commander began yesterday. During the night upwards of 1000 Mexicans crossed the border from El Paso to Juarez and today the exodus continued.

Withdraw from Juarez

Army officers asserted today that the Mexican leaders have long realized that in the event of hostilities with the United States they could not hope to hold Juarez against the Americans, and have planned to withdraw to a more strategic point.

FUNSTON AWAITS NEWS

FROM GEN. PERSHING

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Funston's headquarters reflected today the unrelieved strain in the American-Mexican situation.

The night had passed without news from Gen. Pershing and army officers here professed to see a remaining chance that war might be avoided, although unwilling to believe that the commander of the American force that clashed yesterday with Gen. Trevino's men at Carrizal had been the aggressor.

Frank skepticism was aroused by the suggestion that Gen. Gomez might not have been attempting to enforce the Carranza edict by force, and it was pointed out that his determination to force the Americans back to their own line was indicated by the official admission that he had sent a messenger to the American commander advising him to withdraw.

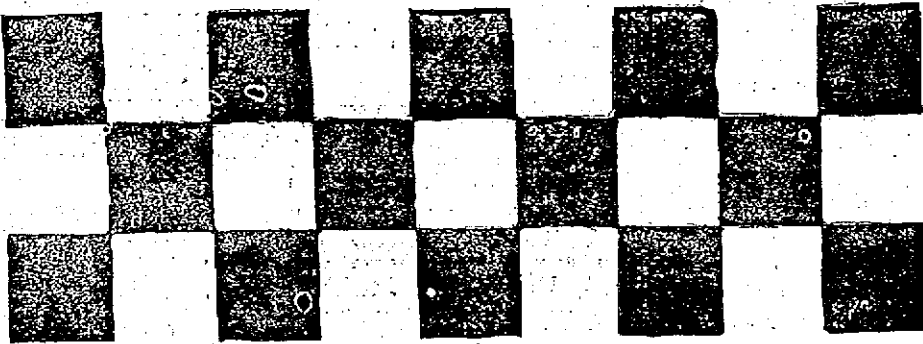

Gen. Funston spent the night in efforts to learn more details of what occurred at Carrizal, but in conformity with the known attitude of the administration not to precipitate war without orders or sufficient cause he remained steadfast in his determination not to authorize moves that would remove all doubt as to the American army's future relations with that of Carranza.

Staff officers realized that in the event of military operations on a big scale the great problem would be in dealing with the various big units of the Carranza army stationed within striking distance of every port of entry from Brownsville to Lower California.

It was said that Juarez was being evacuated by the Mexican garrison did not surprise the headquarters staff, which yesterday learned that Gen. Ricau had removed his forces from Matamoros and that similar action had been taken at one or two other towns.

In no case, however, have the Mexican forces moved far south of the border. Apparently the intention of the Mexican army officers was to make such disposition of their men that a defense could be maintained beyond towns that lie under the guns planted on the American side. A notable exception was offered at Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, where the garrison was increased by the arrival of Gen. Francisco Murguia with 2000 troops. Additional troops also were added to the garrison at Ojinaga opposite Presidio, and from Nogales also was reported a heavy concentration in the interior and in position to meet a rich valley on the American side.

None of the reported Mexican troop movements caused anxiety at army headquarters, however, where confidence is felt in the ability of the American forces to carry out, without hitch, any orders they may receive.

CRAWFORD AT FIRST BASE

JENNINGS WANTS "WHOOO SAM" TO PLAY INITIAL SACK-VET-ERAN UNWILLING

Jennings has been unjustly charged with keeping Sam Crawford on the bench through spite. The absurdity of such a charge is apparent when it is considered that success means more to Hughes than it can possibly mean to any other person, writes Norman Bessely in the Detroit Journal. Jennings has been switching his team about—that's true—but he has made switches with the purpose of getting a winning combination. Surely that is a laudable desire.

Jennings has been unable to use Crawford through most of the season because the veteran has been suffering from an assortment of ailments. First Sam was threatened with pneumonia and when shaking off this discovered that the cold had settled in the muscles of his back. It was an impossible thought to consider Sam in the line-up when beset by these troubles.

In the next place, Jennings honestly believes Sam is at his trail's end as an outfielder. Jennings, in believing this, shares an idea with a lot of baseball men. Sam is at the age where tendons tighten and he cannot cover ground as he once did. Slow runners take advantage of his throwing arm and Jennings, in playing Hellmuth in right field, was casting about for a capable substitute.

Hughes does not believe Crawford's days are ended as a major leaguer. He wants Sam to play first base but Crawford is unwilling because of a lack of practice.

GOOD FOR 5 YEARS YET

EDDIE PLANK BELIEVES HE WILL BE PITCHING WHEN 45 YEARS OLD

Eddie Plank refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't amount to much this season, and confounds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching in the majors until he is 45 years old. According to all that dope, the hero of Gettysburg will stick around another five years. In a garrulous moment the other day he consented to talk about himself. Here is what he had to say:

"I've never had a sore arm, and when I quit the game it will be because I'm tired of it. I'm 40 now, but I'm going to stick in the big leagues for five more years. At 45, then, I think I'll be prepared to stay at home. Pitching is a job. It must be studied by the pitcher. He must study the other fellow, the batter, and then give him what he knows he cannot hit."

"That's the way I have pitched for 15 years. The fellow with the fast ball will last longer than the one with the curve. I'll pitch five fast ones to a single curve or slow ball. But the winning pitcher must have the combination. He must mix 'em to the batter. Control is the biggest point. If you can put it where you want, then you'll win more games than you lose."

"I believe control just was natural with me. If you keep the ball away from the 'groove' of the sluggers you'll win. Benny Kauff got one real hit off me last season. It was a drive over the right field fence in St. Louis. I had me three and two and my foot slipped just as I shot the ball. It went outside, and he met it."

"You can't foot Ty Cobb. He'll hit anything. Against Ty I just try to get him off his stride and trust to luck of my pitchers. Against sluggers like Crawford, Speaker and Jackson, they are easier to feel than Ty, because they swing a heavy bat and hold it on the handle. I use a light one, and he swings it like a toothpick."

"I never try for a strike-out record. You won't last long if you attempt to tag every fellow who comes up there. I know that I have eight other fellows on the field with me. In spring training I take my time. Never a curve until after the first week, and then I start my speed gradually. I believe this system has kept my arm in shape for 15 long years."

CLEAN-UP FOR HARVARD

CRIMSON CLINCHES SERIES BY DEFEATING YALE 4 TO 1 YESTERDAY—CROWD OF 15,000

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—By defeating Yale, 4 to 1 yesterday, Harvard clinched the three game series with that university, having won the first game at New Haven yesterday, 5 to 2. A crowd estimated at 15,000 saw the contest, which had the usual commencement game side features, including a parade of the various classes in uniform, the singing of class songs, and a peanut battle between classes in the grand stand.

Yale got the bases full in the fifth and Early's long fly gave Shepley an opportunity to score. It looked as if the Blue would pile up several runs but Watrous was caught napping at first and the side was retired. Harvard batsmen hit hard in the next inning, a long drive by Beal scoring Coolidge and Abbott. The score:

Yale ... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 4 2

FOSTER A HERO LORD RELEASED

Red Sox Pitcher Blanks Yankees Without Even a Hit—Score 2 to 0

George Foster, Little Giant of the Red Sox, burst his way into baseball's big book of fame yesterday by pitching a no-hit, no-run, 2 to 0 game against the New York Yankees at Fenway Park.

George is the same barrel-chested little iron man who won two games for the Sox in last October's world series. In fact, he is who pitched the Sox to victory in the game which won the world championship for the Carriers.

Only three times yesterday did Yankees reach first base, all three on bases on balls. A sacrificial bunt sent one of these three to second, but that was the dead-line. The champs accorded Foster perfect support, which at times became spectacular.

It was the first no-hit, no-run game in the American League since May 31, 1914, when Joe Benz of the White Sox humiliated the Clevelanders. Not since Joe Wood doubly daunted the St. Louis Browns, in July, 1911, has a Red Sox pitcher won the Biggest Broom.

But yesterday's no-hit, no-run game was the second by a Boston big league pitcher in a week. Last Friday Tom Hughes of the Braves pitched a 2 to 0, no-hit, no-run game at Braves Field against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Bill Carrigan caught Foster, the first time Boss Bill has handled his delivery for many a day. Much of the credit of the pitcher's great work goes to the manager, whose knowledge of batters' weaknesses is unexcelled.

There is no cloud of doubt over the no-hit, no-run performance. There was never any question of judgment for the scorers to settle. Neither team made an error. It was as near a technically perfect game as Boston fans have ever seen since 1904, when Cy Young pitched a no-hit, no-run, no-run game against Rube Waddell and the Athletics on the old Huntington avenue grounds.

Four balls were hit hard by the Yankees throughout the game, and only one of them was a home run. That shows the extent of Foster's mastery. In the second Harry Hooper made one of his sensational catches in deep right field at the expense of Home Run Baker, incidentally a hit which would have been a home run on the field.

Manager of Lowell Team is Dropped—Barrows Takes Vacation

Harry Lord, former big leaguer, was released as manager and player of the local club today by Owner Andrew P. Roach. Lord was in charge of the team this afternoon, but did not play. He will leave today for his home in

HARRY LORD

Portland, Me., and his plans for the future are not known. "Cuke" Barrows, centre fielder of the team, will leave Lowell tonight and will not be again seen in a Lowell uniform until after July 3. Barrows is going on his own volition, having asked for a leave of absence covering that period.

In releasing Lord, President Roach said that he was forced to make this move not only on account of Lord's poor showing as manager, but also owing to his weak playing at third. He said that third base has been a weak point all season, and that the only way he could overcome this weakness was by letting Lord go. Mr. Roach does not yet know who he will get to play the hot corner, but he avers that he will grab the best man available. About Barrows, he said that "Cuke," realizing that he is not playing his best game, came to him and asked that he be given a leave of absence without pay, so that he might rest up. The Lowell owner granted his request, and for the present, Briggs, Kane and Stimpson will make up the outfield of the team.

Mr. Roach is out to improve the team at any cost, and avers that he will get a good combination together before any more games are played. He said that the fans in his attempt to give the Spindle City a winning team, and his efforts in this direction are certainly entitled to the support of all the Lowell fans and fanettes.

Jako Boules, former Lowell third baseman, will join the team at Bridgeport tomorrow, and will play third base for the present.

Play Ball!

(Anonymous—although efforts were made to learn author's name.)

This world's a diamond, with the bases laid, And on it Life's great game of ball is played.

The teams are Human Beings versus Fate, And Fate's the umpire, watching by the plate.

We're at the bat. Our purpose o'er and o'er To win Ambition's club and try to score.

To try to solve the curves the pitcher throws, And in the sphere where not a fielder goes.

Some of us seem to bat with skill immense, Knocking long homers o'er the deep field fence.

Others bunt infield hits, but wildly face, And leave the ball down to the primal base.

Still others, though they strive their best, bes no doubt, Face wildly at the air, and then strike out.

Then seek the bench, downcast, with crestfallen, shamefaced, blue, ambition gone!

Or grab the umpire, growling like a bear, "You boob! That decision wasn't fair!"

That's not the game! Be not a grouch or quibler! What though you're not a straight 300 hitter.

You've got another chance. Stand to Grab tight your bat, get braced and calmly wait!

Wait for a good one—let the other And when it comes—Now! Lam it hard, and zip!

It's got to go. And so must you, old Mike for the base. Keep going—yes, you can!

Steal, second! Good! Now, easy—not There! Get a lead! A hit! Now you're away!

Keep on! Don't stop! Don't lose that dandy stride You've got to beat the throw in. Slide now! Slide!

Hurray! You did it! Score! Of course you scored! Ser—there's your tally marked up on the board.

And now you'll win the game—no doubt at all. You just can't lose, old man, if you'll play ball.

and at the same time restrain beligerent demands of some of his own advisers.

War department officials believe that if American soldiers actually are in the hands of the Mexicans they will be surrendered at the first opportunity. A demand for their immediate release would be one of the first steps taken by the United States government.

So far the government has no official information of its own regarding the Carrizal fight. As a courier with the news would have to ride some 60 miles to reach Gen. Pershing's headquarters, the war department may not have a report before tomorrow.

Callers who saw the president today got the impression that he is determined that if, despite all efforts to prevent it, war with Mexico should come, the action of the United States would be prompt and on a scale of considerable magnitude. It would not be a war of conquest, but Mr. Wilson is said to be prepared, if necessary, to use the maximum available military strength of the nation for a short, decisive campaign to re-establish order and a status to permanently insure protection of the American border from outlaw forays.

PERSHING HAS NO REPORT OF THE CARRIZAL BATTLE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Pershing reported to Gen. Funston today that he had not yet received a report from the Carrizal battle. He added that on information sent to him he had sent out two squadrons of the Eleventh Cavalry with instructions to get into touch with the troops of the Eleventh Cavalry was engaged yesterday by the Mexican forces.

Capt. Boyd in Command

Gen. Funston made it plain that Gen. Pershing's report has not altered the general situation and that no special orders will be issued until Pershing has rendered a report in detail of the Carrizal fight and incidents that led to it. Gen. Pershing said that all his men have positive orders not to do anything to precipitate a fight with troops of the de facto government.

Although unstated in Pershing's report, officers at department headquarters drew the inference that Capt. Chas. T. Boyd was in command of the troops engaged at Carrizal.

MEXICAN REPORTS SAY 12 AMERICANS KILLED

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—The Americans lost 12 dead, including their commander and 17 prisoners, according to Mexican reports. The Carrizal battle, according to the official announcement today of the Mexican consulate.

The Mexicans claimed they captured 20 horses and 20 rifles at Carrizal.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING INTERVENTION READ

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Discussion of the Mexican situation was precluded in the senate today by Senator Warren of California, who called up his resolution to authorize intervention, had it read and gave notice that unless the foreign relations committee acted soon he would move to take the matter out of the senate.

The California senator said he did not want to bring on debate at this time, but that action should not be further delayed.

"I have been content up to this time to let the resolution remain in the hands of the foreign relations committee," he said, "but I feel that the time has come when this matter should not be left exclusively in the hands of the executive branch of the government. Some action, in my opinion, must now be taken by congress. I think it exceedingly important that we should do it with a clear declaration by congress as to our purposes and intentions, so that not only our own people, but the people of Mexico and all other nations may know the objects of the United States in taking this important step."

Chairman Stone replied that his committee had taken no action and that he was not prepared to say what it would do.

U. S. SOLDIER KILLED AND THREE WOUNDED AT NAGO

NAGO, Ariz., June 22.—One American soldier was killed and three others injured here early today when William Humphrey, a half-breed Indian employed as a guard at the water works, opened fire upon members of Company E, 14th U. S. Infantry, as the guard was being changed.

The sergeant in charge of the guard was one of the three injured. He was shot in the back. Another soldier was shot through the neck and the third wounded in the hip. Humphrey was taken into custody.

A large number of Mexican refugees were crossing the line into Mexico today from the Bisbee and Lowell districts.

OFFICIAL WORD FROM MEXICO ON CLASH

WASHINGTON, June 22.—An official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing the clash between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal and saying the de facto government found it difficult to understand why the Americans should have been so far away from their base, was delivered to Secretary Lansing today by Eliseo Arrondondo, the Mexican ambassador designate.

The communication telegraphed by Gen. Aguilar, Carranza's foreign minister, fell as follows:

"Please bring to the attention of the department of state that an engagement occurred today, (twenty-first) at Carrizal near Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua, between American forces numbering about 200 men, with a force of our government during which engagement Gen. Felix Gomez and several of our troops were killed. There were several casualties among American troops; 17 taken prisoners."

"According to the statement made by the interpreter who was acting as guide for the American forces, the commander of the latter is responsible for the encounter."

"Please make proper representations to the department and say to the secretary of state that this government finds it difficult to understand why the American troops that took part in the engagement should have been at Carrizal, a point on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, some distance from Ciudad Juarez, and rather far from the point which is alleged to be the base of the rest of the American troops which entered Mexico by Columbus. Further details will follow."

WIRES HOT WITH INQUIRIES

ON MILITIA MOBILIZATION

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Baker conferred with President Wilson on the basis of reports of the clash yesterday given out by Mexican commanders at the border and transmitted to the state department. Later Secretary Lansing was closeted with the war secretary and afterward Mr. Baker hastened to the capital for conferences with the congressional military committee chairmen.

No explanation for these conferences were given. It was learned, however, that telegraph wires were hot with inquiries sent to various governors asking reports of the number of National Guard regiments mobilized and available for immediate service.

Officials said President Wilson would await a definite report from Gen. Pershing of what has happened. It was not expected until late today that the town of Carrizal, where the fighting was said to have occurred, is sixty miles or more from Pershing's advance base at Nantiquipa.

At the White House it was said the president's policy was unchanged for the present at least and that Mr. Wilson had no intention of going before congress immediately.

No clear view of what happened at Carrizal could be had from the Mexican statement transmitted from the border. The stories of the fight conflict, but seem to indicate that the Americans were not unambushed and suffered their chief losses from machine gun fire.

It is presumed Gen. Pershing promptly despatched reinforcements, including artillery, to aid the cavalry detachment. There is still engaged with the Mexicans or its lines of retreatment menaced.

Secretary Baker said no marching orders had gone to National Guard units. Nothing could be done, he declared, until a report from American sources had been received.

Other officials took the same view. They would not discuss the possibilities on the basis of the incomplete and conflicting Mexican advices. There were no efforts, however, to conceal the anxiety with which the situation was viewed. There is enough similarity among the border reports to convince them that a serious clash occurred.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

The next home game is a week from tomorrow with Hartford.

Lowell showed a little ginger at the proper time yesterday and clinched the game.

For a time it looked as though Matty Zieser was going wild but he regained control and did well.

Greenhalge is playing a good game at second base. He made one fine stop of a hard hit grounder that looked like a hit and got his man at first.

Greenough, the new first baseman, is a nifty fielder and displays considerable pep. In three games he has made 29 putouts and six assists without an error. While he has yet to get his first hit, Greenough has reached first seven times in the three games.

Rube Bressler, a former Athletic pitcher, played a fine game in left field. Besides making a splendid catch of a hard hit ball from Kihlhen's club, he held a couple of hits that were labelled doubles to plain singles. Rube is a valuable man for the New Haven team.

Danny Murphy, who played second base when the New Haven boys were here earlier in the season, was in uniform, but did not move from the bench during the game. Occasionally Danny scolded his players a little but he seemed particularly calm, after having watched Burkett, Pieper and Hamilton perform.

Umpire Stafford did not make a very good showing in the three games he officiated at this week. His decisions on balls and strikes were often off and he did not seem to watch the bases any too closely.

Webb Crowther, acting manager of Hartford, is a native of that city and played with the Senators in the Eastern association in 1911. He coached the Vermont university team in 1914 and was manager of Bellows Falls in the Twin State league for two seasons.

"Scissors" Shears, the former Lawrence pitcher, is out of a job. He is staying in the dormitory city and occasionally works out at Riverside park. Shears will pitch Saturday games if he doesn't catch on anywhere soon.

The protest filed by Manager Pieper of the game played at Lawrence on account of the "hidden ball" has been thrown out. There was nothing else for the league officials to do as Umpire Knott declared the game was in progress.

Alex Pearson, veteran pitcher of the Lawrence staff, is to be let go as Burkett thinks Alex has outlived his usefulness. Jesse says if he cannot trade Alex, he will release him outright.

The Fitchburg Sentinel says: "It has been suggested that Lowell, who is playing in the Eastern league, may come to Fitchburg and play out the schedule for the remainder of the year with local fans standing back of the venture to make good certain losses if the game isn't self-supporting. That plan has been suggested several times and local men with money may be given a chance to do something along those lines if Lowell, Lawrence or other clubs don't get relief soon. President W. W. Sargent of the Fitchburg & Leominster street railway station has been approached in regard to the Lowell team and had not been considering any purchase while the league is in the present demoralized condition, due to bad weather, awkward schedule and too many teams. If the league were divided into two sections with Worcester and Fitchburg in the old New England league division, something might be done to have a team here, but under present conditions very little attention is being paid to the Eastern league in this city."

HARVARD AND YALE RACES

OARSMEN REST TODAY—ANNUAL REGATTA WILL BE ROWED TOMORROW

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.—The training period for Yale and Harvard oarsmen who have been in their Galia Perry and Red Top quarters on the Thames river, respectively, since early in the month, is ended. Today will be a quiet one with the usual scrub races in the early evening. The annual regatta will be rowed tomorrow, and each race must be rowed, or should wind and water be contrary, abandoned as none can go for until Saturday. Some members of each squad are under orders to report to their military organizations for duty late Friday night.

Today's rest is welcome to the oarsmen who have had trying conditions for training with more than the usual share of rain, high winds and rough water and for the past two days there has been the worry over possible abandonment of the races because of the mobilization orders. The difficulty was overcome, however, and a conference last night rearranged the time for the several races, the changes being slight.

Confidence runs high in the rival quarters over prospects. Those who have watched the crews in practice and have noted their physical conditions hold to the opinion that all three races, especially the "varsity" eight in the afternoon, will be stubbornly contested every inch of the way.

FAILS CHOSEN CAPTAIN
Roland B. Falls, star pitcher of the Lowell high school baseball nine, has been unanimously elected captain of the 1917 team at a meeting of the "L" members of the squad. Falls' pitching and heavy hitting features the work of this year's team.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

1231 DEGREES IN COURSE AND 12 HONORARY DEGREES CONFERRED TODAY

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—A departure from the custom of previous years marked the Harvard university commencement today when the exercises were held in the Harvard stadium instead of Sanders theatre. The new plan was conditional upon the weather, and undergraduates and alumni were joyful when they awoke to find the sun shining from a clear sky.

The touch of color usually given to the sombre commencement procession by the brilliant dress uniforms of the National Lancers, Troop A, of the militia cavalry squadron was lacking today. The Lancers in accordance with tradition, escorted the governor from the state house to the olive drab service uniform. They were under to go to the militia camp at Framingham later in the day.

During the day, balloons were cast by the alumni for five over-seers for a term of six years.

Twelve hundred and thirty-one degrees in course and twelve honorary degrees were conferred at the exercises in the stadium.

The honorary degrees were announced by Master of arts: Capt. Constant Corridor, U.S.A., detailed for duty with the Harvard regiment; Arthur Woods, police commissioner of New York city; Ernest Henry Wilson, botanist, Boston; Harold Murdock, banker, Boston; Edward Sanford Martin, author, New York.

Doctor of divinity: George Hodges, dean of the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge; Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin college.

Doctor of laws: Archibald Cary Conlidge, professor of history at Harvard; Francis Joseph Swayze, justice of the supreme court of New Jersey.

Doctor of letters: Frank William Taussig, professor of economics at Harvard.

Doctor of science: Richard Pearson Strong, biologist, Boston.

Doctor of arts: John Singer Sargent, artist, London.

The degree of Bachelor of arts was awarded to 493 graduates and that of master of arts to 159. Other degrees included: Bachelor of science, in various departments, 108; master of science, 13; doctor of philosophy 52, and master of business administration numbered 153, of the Law School, 76, and of the Dental school 60. The rest of the list included graduates in various engineering courses, architecture, zoology, forestry, public health, justice and theology.

LOCAL RED CROSS

Call for Aid From Washington—Lowell Will Help

Branches of the American Red Cross in all parts of the country which have been doing a great work, in aiding the belligerents of the old world are now confronted with the need for their efforts in Mexico.

Miss Ruth Burke, secretary of the Lowell branch, received the following telegram this morning from the national headquarters at Washington: "Red Cross making plans for two lines of work connected with sending of national guard to Mexico. First, by collecting, forwarding and distributing supplies for troops in campaign, and, second, by giving help to dependent families of guardsmen. Details being worked out in full—instructions later."

Officers of the local branch of the Red Cross say they need money and volunteers in order that work for Mexico may be commenced. Headquarters will be opened in the immediate future and the work will be on a much larger scale than hitherto. Money and supplies are needed for the starting of activities, but even more necessary is a large body of volunteer workers to make garments, bandage clothing and hospital supplies of all sorts. All donations for the Lowell Red Cross should be sent to the secretary, Miss Julia T. Pevey, 68 Dover street, and any person desiring information connected with the local branch may consult the secretary.

Miss Ruth Burke, Nesmith street, without doubt, will respond nobly to the call for Red Cross volunteer workers so that our own soldiers may be cared for adequately in case of war.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Edgar Allen Poe painted a terrible word picture of the man who believed that he was being buried alive. But the sufferings of that man were only momentary compared to those of the man who voluntarily entombed himself in a great mansion after the loss of his dearly beloved wife and child. It is the reported death of his family on a great ocean liner that drives the wealthy Mr. Carter to seek seclusion

JITNEY DRIVER IS FINED

He Drove Auto Through Funeral Procession—Two Men Held for Rockwell Inquest.

Charles Meek was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with disturbing a funeral procession. Through his counsel, Bennett Silverblatt, a plea of guilty was entered. Numerous complaints of operators of jitneys breaking through funeral processions have been made to the police and Supt. Welch is determined that a stop must be put to this practice. Last Thursday while a funeral procession was passing through Gorham street it is alleged that Meek deliberately drove his machine between a license, was continued until Saturday. Court Was Lenient. The fact that Louis Wentworth is an elderly man, he being 63 years of age, saved him from receiving a severe sentence this morning from Judge Enright. Wentworth has been before the court on many occasions for larceny and a few months ago finished up a ten months' term for larceny. Yesterday he entered the premises of Fred C. King and purloined a bit stock, wrench and chisel. The man was seen walking away from the place and when word was telephoned to the police station, Martin Maher was assigned to the case and a description of the man resulted in Wentworth being brought into custody. When arraigned in court this morning he admitted his guilt but said he would not have stolen the articles if he had not been drinking. Despite the fact that the man has a long record, owing to his advanced age Judge Enright after finding him guilty sentenced him to one month in jail.

Companions Are Held. Timothy J. Murphy and Eugene Hirsch, both of Manchester, who were with Edward F. Rockwell when he was tempted to board a freight train near the Middlesex street station yesterday morning and was run over and sustained injuries which resulted in his death at St. John's hospital yesterday afternoon, were charged with drunkenness, but inasmuch as both men may be needed at the inquest which is to be held, each was held under $200 bonds for his appearance on July 1.

Fall Down Stairs. James Brennan while under the influence of liquor last night wandered into a house in William street. He started to climb a flight of stairs leading to the second floor but before he reached the top he lost his balance and fell to the bottom of the stairs, where he was later found by Patrolman P. B. Clark. The man was cut about the head and face and when brought to the police station was treated by Dr. M. A. Tighe. Owing to the man's condition the case was continued until Saturday.

Assault and Battery. William J. Gleason entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Henry Bechard of Westford. According to the testimony offered, Bechard came to Lowell yesterday and spent the greater part of the morning in a saloon in Middlesex street where he met Gleason and they got into an argument and after Bechard had been ordered out of the place Gleason followed and assaulted him.

Bechard admitted that he had been drinking heavily and failed to recognize the defendant. He remembered leaving the saloon but the next he knew was when he awoke at St. John's hospital and found the victim suffering from lacerations on the head.

A Middlesex street business man testified to seeing Gleason assault Bechard. The defendant, who is a baker by trade and has been working at that business in this city for the past year, said he had been drinking and when Bechard tried to "trim" his friend he struck him.

The court advised Bechard to keep away from Lowell and then finding Gleason guilty sentenced the latter to two months in jail.

In the criminal case of Albert and Abraham Ali, Mohamed Fadel, Kasen and Mohamed Harnoush, Mohamed Selman and Mohamed Hamid charged with assault and battery on Mohamed Ounai and Hassan Ali, was requested before Judge Enright in police court this morning at the conclusion of the regular session. At the noon hour the government's case had not been completed and it was continued until tomorrow.

McMoloney were united in the bonds of matrimony, the officiating clergyman being Rev. W. George Mullin. The bride wore white duchess with court train and trimmings of limerick lace. Continued. FIRE ALARM BUT NO FIRE. ly vacated. There was very little commotion of any kind, as all promptly left their machines and fled quickly to their homes.

Mr. Perkins had arranged for the fire drill a few weeks ago, but the bad weather caused a postponement; but this morning without uttering a word to any one, except the two masters of the department and a couple of men who were to sound the alarm, he managed to have all employees make their exit in less than five minutes.

The bullet department, which is located on the first floor of the Andrews street building, was picked out for the first fire drill. The two masters, Mesdames Margaret L. Carmon and M. E. Jones, had been selected to lead the march out into the yard on Lawrence street, and also to lead the employees on the street through Lawrence and Andrews and again into the yard re-entering the building in the rear.

Fire Bell Sounded. At 10:30 o'clock sharp, the fire bell was sounded in the bullet department, the alarm being given in two different parts of the room. The sounding of the bells had an instantaneous effect upon the 25 men and 25 women employed in the department for instantly the grinding of the machines in the room ceased and the exclamation "Fire! Fire!" was heard around the room. Some who became excited asked: "Where is it?" "It is a bluff," while one was heard to say: "Get into line." There was no panic although some of the women were excited. In a few moments they recovered their composure and all marched in an orderly manner but with quick step out of the building. The women did not take time to reach for their clothes or remove their aprons, for the "Safety First" order had been impressed upon them so that all they thought of was to leave the building, and they did so. Some of the men who were at work repairing machines did not even drop their tools and scores of them marched out of the building carrying with them either a hammer or a wrench.

The two masters of the department were on the qui vive and the moment the alarm was sounded, they stationed themselves near the exit door and directed the women who were leaving their machines to follow. The women marched in twos and they were followed by men, who were going out in the same formation. One section of the room was first emptied, closely followed by another section and this was kept up until all had gone. The employees re-entered the building by the rear entrance and exactly six minutes after the sounding of the alarm, the first machine was again in operation.

The fire drill was witnessed by many officials of the company, who expressed their satisfaction as to the way it was carried out. Mr. Perkins, in conversation with a Sun reporter after the drill, said this is the first of a series of fire drills to be held at the plant of the company. He said, occasionally, without the slightest warning, the fire alarm will be sounded and in cases where the alarm is given on upper stories some of the employees will be required to get to the street via the fire escapes.

The fire alarms will soon be connected with the electrician's department and in this manner the fire drill alarms will be sounded from that department.

The company thus far has been very fortunate in having no fire of any consequence. This is due to the great care at all plants and to the strict rules enforced in all departments.
